The draft will be taken into consideration after the 15th of August 1899.

DRAFT.

"Provided that, in the case of detonators, the following further rules shall also be observed, namely:

(a) The detonators, and the spaces between the same and between the same and the sides of the inner package, shall all be filled, as far as practicable, with fine sawdust or other similar material. A layer of cotton wool or other soft elastic material shall be placed between both ends of all the detonators and the interior of the inner package in which the same are placed, in such manner and so secured that both ends of the detonators will rest upon the said cotton wool or other material. Every inner package, if of metal, shall be lined throughout with paper or other soft material.

(b) Where the number of detonators packed for conveyance exceeds in all one thousand (1,000), or such greater number as may from time to time be assigned with the consent of, and under conditions approved by, an Inspector of Explosives, all the inner packages as aforesaid shall be placed inside a substantial case of wood or metal, made and closed so as to prevent any of the inner packages escaping therefrom, and the case shall be placed inside such outer package as is required by the above general rule relating to the packing for conveyance of explosives of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, in such manner and so secured as to leave a clear space of not less than three inches between every part of the interior of the said outer package, notwithstanding that such clear space may, if preferred, be filled with sawdust, straw, or other similar material, or may contain a light framework or battens of wood to keep the case aforesaid in position in the outer package."

The 30th June, 1899.

No. 275.—The following rule is to be substituted for Rule XX, Part I of the rules for the care and use of Government cemeteries, published in Home Department Notification No. 178, dated the 21st May 1897:

Rule XX.—When a monument needs repairing, the officer in charge of the cemetery should communicate with the friends of the deceased, or when such communication is not possible, advertise three times in the Gazette of India and the Gazette of the Province; and if it falls into a ruinous condition, and no person will undertake to restore it, the monument shall be treated at the next repairs in such manner as the officer in charge of the cemetery may decide to be necessary for the maintenance of the cemetery in decent order, provided always that any inscribed slab or tablet which formed part of it shall be placed over the grave in simple masonry or be inserted in the wall of the cemetery and shall be carefully preserved.

Note.—(1) This rule does not apply to monuments of historical or archæological interest. Lists of such tombs should be obtained by Local Governments and Administrations, and as many of them as may be properly preserved at the public expense should be looked after by the local Public Works Department.

(2) The cost of the advertisements in the Gazette is met by the Government.

(3) A person desiring to erect a monument over a grave is required to pay into the Treasury a sufficient sum of money to be invested in Government securities, so that the interest on it will be sufficient to cover the cost of repairs annually. The foregoing rules shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to railings round graves, which shall not be constructed until the requisite sum has been paid to cover the cost of repairs.

Explanation.—It is optional with a person proposing to erect a simple cross, head-stone or slab, consisting of a single stone over an adequate foundation, to pay the endowment fee for its maintenance and repairs. The optional endowment fee may be paid at any time after the erection of the stone. The State will defray the cost of keeping in repair simple crosses, head stones or slabs erected by or over the graves of British soldiers and non-commissioned officers.

JUDICIAL.

No. 719.—In exercise of the powers conferred by article 190 of the Indian Articles of War (Act V of 1869 as amended by Act XII of 1894), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the procedure of Courts-Martial under those articles:

Rules of Procedure for Courts-Martial under the Indian Articles of War.

Limitation of trial.

1. No persons subject to these articles shall be tried or punished by court-martial for any military offence after the expiration of three years from the date of such offence, unless the offender, by reason of absence or some other manifest impediment, could not be arrested or confined and brought to trial within that period; in which case he shall be liable to be tried at any time not exceeding two years after such impediment has ceased.

Indian Article of War 99.

Place of trial.

2. Any person subject to the Indian Articles of War, who commits any offence against them, may be tried and punished for such offence at any place whatever in the same manner as if the offence had been committed in such place.

Indian Article of War 180.

Bar to second trial.

3. When any person subject to these articles has been acquitted or convicted of an offence by a criminal court or has been summarily dealt with under Indian Article of War 165 or 166, he shall not be liable to be again tried for the same offence by a court-martial, or dealt with summarily in respect of it under either of the said articles.

Rule of procedure.

Military custody.

4. A commanding officer will take care that a person under his command, when charged with an offence, is not detained in military custody for more than forty-eight hours after the committal of such person into custody is reported to him, without the charge being investigated, unless such investigation seems to him impracticable with due regard to the public service. Every case of detention beyond a period of forty-eight hours, and the reason thereof, shall be reported by the commanding officer to the general or other officer commanding the district or station.

Rule of procedure 3.

Investigation of charges.

5. Every charge against a person subject to the Indian Articles of War will be heard in the presence of the accused. The accused will have full liberty to cross-examine any witness against him and to call any witnesses and make any statement in his defence.

Rule of procedure.

Investigation of charges.

6. (a) The commanding officer will dismiss a charge brought before him, if, in his opinion, the evidence does not show that an offence under the Indian Articles of War has been committed, or if in his discretion he thinks the charge ought not to be proceeded with.

(b) At the conclusion of the hearing of a charge, if the commanding officer is of opinion that it ought to be proceeded with, he shall, without unnecessary delay, dispose of the case either summarily if he has power so to deal with the offender or by remanding him for trial by court-martial or by reference to the proper superior military authority.

(c) If the accused is remanded for trial by court-martial, the commanding officer shall, without unnecessary delay, either issue an order for the assembly of a court-martial, or apply to the proper military authority to convene a court-martial as the case requires; this delay and any delay in the reference to superior military authority should not ordinarily exceed thirty-six hours.

Procedure and summary of evidence on remand for trial by general or district court-martial.

Rules of procedure under Army Act, paragraph 5, modified.

7. (a) Where the accused is remanded by his commanding officer for trial by general or district court-martial, the evidence of the witnesses who were present before the commanding officer shall be taken down in writing in a narrative form in the presence of the prisoner, who, if there is any variance between the evidence of any witness so taken down and the evidence previously given before the commanding officer, shall be allowed to put questions to the witness with reference to such variance, and such questions with the answers shall be added in writing to the evidence taken down.

(b) The evidence of each witness when taken down as provided in (a) shall be read over to him. Any statement of the prisoner material to his defence shall be added in writing.

(c) The above evidence and the statement, if any, shall be taken down before the commanding officer, or such officer as he directs; and if the commanding officer thinks it desirable, he may re-hear the case and re-consider his decision and dispose of it as provided by Rule 6 (b).

(d) The evidence and statement (if any) taken in pursuance of this rule (in these rules referred to as the summary of evidence), or a true copy thereof, shall be laid before the court-martial before whom the prisoner is tried on the assembly of the court.

Examination of accused or suspected person.

Army Regulations, India, volume II, paragraph 426.

8. When a person accused or suspected of an offence is taken before his superior officer, or before a court of inquiry, or inquest, he should not be authoritatively required to make any statement of his conduct in that matter, and no statement or evidence given by him before his superior officer or before a court of inquiry or a court of inquest should be received before he has been warned that his statement or evidence may be used against him in the event of further proceedings being instituted.

Summary award of punishment by commanding officer.

Rules of procedure, paragraph 6, page 595, modified.

9. (a) A term of imprisonment by a commanding officer should be awarded in days and will commence to run from the day of award.

(b) When the commanding officer has once awarded punishment for an offence, he cannot afterwards increase that punishment for that offence.

Rules of procedure A-A, paragraph 7, modified to suit Indian Articles of War.

No right of trial by court-martial in lieu of summary award.

10. A person amenable to the Indian Articles of War has no right to claim a trial by court-martial instead of submitting to the summary award of his commanding officer, but the commanding officer may, if he thinks proper, vindicate the justice of his award finding such person guilty by remanding him for trial by court-martial instead of punishing him summarily, but he must do so before the prisoner leaves his presence after the award is made.

Army Regulations, India, volume II, paragraph 377.

Preliminary inquiry into charges.

11. (a) When an accusation is made against a native officer, or charges of a serious nature are preferred against any individual subject to the Indian Articles of War, a court of inquiry is to be held, when considered necessary, by superior authority to investigate the case, the proceedings of which are to accompany the application (when made) for a general court-martial. Such court of inquiry will merely collect all available evidence, but will express no opinion.

Army Regulations, India, volume II, paragraph 331-A.

12. The discipline of the Native army depends in great measure on the summary court-martial. When a soldier or other native amenable to the Indian Articles of War has committed an offence which is ordinarily triable by summary court-martial, commanding officers, when determining by what court the prisoner is to be tried, are to bear in mind that the legislature, in conferring upon them the powers of a summary court-martial, intends that they shall exercise these powers.

The cases ought, therefore, to be few which should be remanded for trial by regimental court-martial; and trial by this class of court is to be restricted as far as possible.

Prisoner's preparation for defence.

Rules of procedure, paragraph 13, modified.

Opportunity for prisoner to prepare defence.

13. A prisoner for whose trial a court-martial has been ordered to assemble shall be afforded proper opportunity of preparing his defence, and shall be allowed free communication with his witnesses, and with any friend or legal adviser whom he may wish to consult.

Army Regulations, India, volume II, paragraph 384.

Charges to be sent to deputy judge-advocate.

14. Charges for submisson to a district court-martial will be sent by commanding officers, through the officer commanding the station, to the convening authority, who will, ordinarily, when the case presents no special difficulties, pass his orders thereon without calling for a report from the judge-advocate of the circle.

Similarly, the proceedings after trial will be sent direct to the confirming authority, who will ordinarily deal with them at once without waiting for a report from the circle judge-advocate.

Any case of doubt or difficulty should always be referred to the judge-advocate of the circle, more especially charges of civil offences, and offences connected with accounts, or which are of a fraudulent nature as distinct from ordinary theft.

Applications for trial from out-stations should be passed on by transmitting officers usually on the day of their receipt.

Framing Charges.

Rules of procedure, paragraph 9.

Charge-sheet and charge.

15. (a) A charge-sheet contains the whole issue or issues to be tried by a court-martial at one time.

(b) A charge means an accusation contained in a charge-sheet that a person amenable to military law has been guilty of an offence.

(c) A charge-sheet may contain one charge or several charges.

Rules of procedure, paragraph 10, modified.

Form of charge-sheet.

16. (a) Every charge-sheet will begin with the name and description of the person charged, and should state in the case of an officer, his name, and corps (if any). In the case of soldier or an attested or enrolled follower, his name, number, rank and corps (if any). And when he does not at the time of the trial belong to the regular forces, should show by the description of him, or directly by an express averment, that he is amenable to military law, in respect of the offence charged.

Army Regulations, India, volume II, paragraph 407.

(b) When a soldier holding an appointment is brought to trial by court-martial, he is to be arraigned in his army rank with his appointment also designated, thus—

No ———— Sowar (Lance-Duffadar) R. B. ———— Regiment.

No. ———— Sepoy or Private (Lance-Naik) N. F. ———— Regiment.

Rules of procedure, paragraph 11, modified.

(c) The sentence cannot be set aside on the merits of the case provided it is a legal one. It can be remitted, the prisoner pardoned or re-admitted to the service after dismissal, and service or other advantage forfeited by him can be restored by certain authorities as detailed in Article 160.

53. (a) The officer commanding the district after receiving the report of the deputy or assistant judge-advocate-general of the circle will enter his remarks on the final page of the form of proceedings headed "Remarks by the reviewing officer," after which the proceedings will be returned to the prisoner's corps to be filed in the records.

Remarks by reviewing officer.

59. If in courts-martial where a summary or abstract of evidence is given to the prisoner the prosecutor intends to call a witness whose evidence is not contained in that summary or abstract, notice of the intention shall be given to the prisoner a reasonable time before the witness is called; and if such witness is called without such notice having been given, the court shall, if the prisoner so desire it, either adjourn after taking the evidence of the witness, or allow the cross-examination of such witness to be postponed, and the court shall inform the prisoner of his right to demand such adjournment or postponement.

Calling of witness whose evidence is not contained in summary or abstract.

(b) If the court adjourns for the purpose of the appointment of fresh members, whether under these rules or otherwise, the convening officer may, if he thinks fit, convene another court.

Rule of procedure 19.

74. (a) An officer is not eligible for serving on a court-martial if he is not subject to military law.

76. (a) On the court assembling, the order convening the court shall be read, and also the names, rank, and corps of the officers appointed to serve on the court; and it shall be the first duty of the court to satisfy themselves that the court is legally constituted; (that is to say)—

(i) that, so far as the court can ascertain, the court has been convened in accordance with the Indian Articles of War and these Rules;

(ii) that the court consists of a number of officers not less than the legal minimum, and, save as mentioned in Rule 73, not less than the number detailed;

(iii) that none of the officers so assembled are disqualified for serving on that court-martial;

(iv) that an interpreter has been appointed, and a superintending officer when necessary.

(b) The court should further, if it is a general or district court-martial to which a judge-advocate has been appointed, ascertain that the judge-advocate is duly appointed, and is not disqualified for acting at that court-martial.

(c) The court, if not satisfied on the above matters should report their opinion to the convening authority: and may adjourn for that purpose.

Rule of procedure 23.

77. (a) The court, when satisfied on the above matters, should satisfy themselves in respect to each charge about to be brought before them—

(i) that it appears to be laid against a person amenable to military law, and to the jurisdiction of the court; and

(ii) that each charge discloses an offence under the Indian Articles of War, and is framed in accordance with these rules, and is so explicit as to enable the prisoner readily to understand what he has to answer.

(b) The court, if not satisfied on the above matters, should report their opinion to the convening authority and may adjourn for that purpose.

(c) The prisoner shall state the names of all the officers to whom he objects before any objection is disposed of.

(d) The prisoner may call any person to give evidence in support of his objection.

(e) If more than one officer is objected to, the objection to each officer will be disposed of separately, and the objection to the lowest in rank will be disposed of first; and on an objection to an officer, all the other officers present shall vote on the disposal of such objection, not withstanding that objections have been made to any of those officers.

(f) When an objection to an officer is allowed, that officer shall forthwith retire, and take no further part in the proceedings.

(g) When an officer objected to retire, and there are any officers in waiting, the vacancy shall be forthwith filled by one of the officers in waiting being directed to serve in lieu of the retiring officer. If there is no officer in waiting available, the court will proceed as directed by Rule 76 (A) (ii).

(h) The eligibility, absence of disqualification, and freedom from objection of an officer filling a vacancy, will be ascertained by the court, as in the case of other officers appointed to serve on the court.

(a) As soon as the court is constituted with the proper number of officers who are not objected to, or the objections to whom have been overruled, the officer conducting the proceedings shall administer to the interpreter or, when necessary, shall himself make as interpreter the affirmation or oath laid down in Indian Article of War 108.

(b) The interpreter, or the officer conducting the proceedings, shall then administer to the president and each of the members of the court-martial an affirmation or oath in the forms laid down in Indian Article of War 108.

Rule of procedure 34. Special plea to the jurisdiction.

82. (a) The prisoner, before pleading to a charge, may offer a special plea to the general jurisdiction of the court; and if he does so, and the court consider that anything stated in such plea shows that the court have not jurisdiction, they shall receive any evidence offered in support, together with any evidence offered by the prosecutor in disproof or qualification thereof, and any address by the prisoner and reply by the prosecutor in reference thereto.

(b) If the court overrule the special plea, they should proceed with the trial.

(c) If the court allow the special plea, they shall record their decision and the reasons for it, and report it to the convening authority and adjourn; such decision shall not require any confirmation, and the convening authority shall either forthwith convene another court for the trial of the prisoner, or order the prisoner to be released.

(b) If he offers such plea in bar the court shall record it as well as his general plea, and if they consider that any fact or facts, stated by him, are sufficient to support the plea in bar, they shall receive any evidence offered and hear any address made by the prisoner and the prosecutor in reference to the plea.

(c) If the court find that the plea in bar is proved, they shall record their finding and notify it to the convening authority and shall either adjourn, or if there is any other charge against the prisoner whether in the same or in a different charge-sheet, which is not affected by the plea in bar, may proceed to the trial of the prisoner on that charge.

(d) If the finding that a plea in bar is proved is not confirmed, the court may be re-assembled by the confirming authority and proceed as if the plea had been found not proved.

(e) If the court find that the plea in bar is not proved, they shall proceed with the trial and the said finding shall be subject to confirmation like any other finding of the court.

(c) The special finding may find the prisoner guilty on a charge, subject to the statement of exceptions or variations annexed to the finding.

(d) Where the court are of opinion as regards any charge that the facts proved do not disclose an offence under the Indian Articles of War, the court will acquit the prisoner of that charge.

Rule of procedure 48. Sentences.

93. The court shall award one sentence in respect of all the offences of which the prisoner is found guilty, and such sentence shall be deemed to be awarded in respect of the offence in each charge in respect of which it can be legally given, and not to be awarded in respect of any offence in a charge in respect of which it cannot be legally given.

Mitigation of sentence on partial confirmation.

(b) Where a sentence has been awarded by a court-martial in respect of offences in several charges and has been confirmed, and any one of such charges or the finding thereon is found to be invalid, the authority having power to remit or commute the punishment awarded by such sentence shall take into consideration the fact of such invalidity, and if it seems just, mitigate, remit, or commute the punishment awarded according as seems just, having regard to the offences in the charges which with the findings thereon are not invalid, and such punishment shall be as valid as if it had been originally awarded only in respect of those offences.

Rule of procedure 55.

101. (a) If the sentence of a court-martial is informally expressed, the confirming authority may, in confirming the sentence, vary the form, so that it shall be properly expressed; and if the punishment awarded by the sentence is in excess of the punishment authorised by law, the confirming authority may vary the sentence, so that the punishment shall not be in excess of the punishment authorised by law; and the confirming authority may confirm the finding and the sentence as so varied of such court-martial.

(b) Whenever it appears that a court-martial had jurisdiction to try a prisoner, and that the prisoner was charged with some offence or offences under the Indian Articles of War and was shown by legal evidence to have been guilty of the offence or one of the offence charged, the finding in respect of the offence or offences of which he is so shewn to be guilty, and the sentence, may be confirmed, and if so confirmed shall be valid, notwithstanding any deviation from these rules or any defect or objection, technical or other, unless it appears that any injustice has been done to the prisoner; but nothing in this rule shall relieve an officer from any responsibility for any wilful or negligent disregard of any of these rules.

Rule of procedure 59. (b) It is the duty of the president, judge-advocate or superintending officer to see that justice is administered, that the prisoner has a fair trial, and that he does not suffer any disadvantage in consequence of his position as a prisoner, or of his ignorance, or of his incapacity to examine or cross-examine witnesses, or otherwise.

Army Regulations, India, volume II, paragraph 392. 108. Presidents or superintending officers are responsible that the proceedings of courts-martial not attended by judge-advocates are fairly and accurately recorded in a clear and legible hand without abbreviations and erasures; and when they cannot write legibly themselves, they should employ a member to write for them. Minutes of proceedings.

109. (a) It is the duty of the prosecutor to assist the court in the administration of justice, to behave impartially, to bring the whole of the transaction before the court, and not to take any unfair advantage of, or suppress any evidence in favor of, the prisoner. Rule of procedure 60.

(b) The court may stop the prosecutor in referring to any matter not relevent to the charge then before the court, or any matter which the court is not investigating, and it is the duty of the court to restrain any undue violence of language or want of fairness or moderation on the part of the prosecutor.

(c) The court should allow great latitude to the prisoner in making his defence; he must abstain from any remarks contemptuous or disrespectful towards the court, and from coarse and insulting language towards others, but he may for the purpose of his defence impeach the evidence and the motives of the witnesses and prosecutor, and charge other persons with blame and even criminality, subject, if he does so, to any liability to further proceedings to which he would otherwise be subject. The court may caution the prisoner as to the irrelevance of his defence, but should not, unless in special cases, stop his defence solely on the ground of such irrelevance.

110. Where two or more prisoners are tried together and any evidence is tendered by any one or more of them, the evidence and addresses on the part of all the prisoners will be taken before the prosecutor replies and the prosecutor will make one address only in reply as regards all the prisoners. (d) If the convening officer directs that, in the event of conviction of a prisoner upon a charge in any charge-sheet, he need not be tried upon the subsequent charge-sheets, the court in such event may, without trying the prisoner upon any of the subsequent charge-sheet, proceed as before directed by (c).

(e) Where a charge-sheet contains more than one charge, the prisoner may, before pleading, claim to be tried separately in respect of any charge or charges in that charge-sheet, on the ground that he will be embarrassed in his defence if he is not so tried separately; and in such case the court, unless they think his claim unreasonable, shall arraign and try the prisoner in like manner as if the convening officer had inserted the said charge or charges in different charge-sheets.

Rule of procedure 63. Sitting in closed court. 112. (a) When a court-martial sits in closed court on any deliberation amongst the members or otherwise, no person shall be present except the members of the court, the judge-advocate, interpreter and any officers under instruction; and the court may either retire or may cause the place where they sit to be cleared of all other persons not entitled to be present.

(a) A court-martial in the absence either of a judge-advocate or superintending officer (if such has been appointed for that court-martial), shall not proceed, and, if necessary, shall adjourn.

(c) The senior officer on the spot may also, for military exigencies, adjourn or prolong the adjournment of the court.

(d) Any adjournment may be made from place to place as well as from time to time. If the time to which the adjournment is made is not specified, the adjournment will be until such time as the court may subsequently fix, if the place to which such adjournment is made is not specified, the adjournment will be to the same place or to such place as may be fixed in further orders issued by the court.

Rule of procedure 69. Taking of opinions of members of court. 118. (a) Every member of a court must give his opinion on every question which the court has to decide, and must give his opinion as to the sentence, notwithstanding that he has voted for an acquittal.

(b) Subject to the provisions of the Indian Articles of War every question shall be determined by an absolute majority of the opinions of the members of the court, and in the case of an equality of opinions the president's second or casting vote will be reckoned as determining the majority, except in a vote on the finding or sentence when, on an equality of votes, the decision shall be in favour of the prisoner.

(c) The opinions of the members of the court should be taken in succession, beginning with the junior in rank.

(d) No sentence of death shall be passed by any court-martial without the concurrence of two-thirds at least of the members of the court.

Rule of procedure 70. Procedure on incidental question. 119. Requirements for appearance of counsel.

(b) If the convening officer so directs, a counsel may appear on behalf of the prosecutor, but in that case, unless the notice in (a) has been given by the prisoner, notice of the direction for counsel to appear shall be given to the prisoner at such time (not in any case less than seven days) before the trial, as would, in the opinion of the court, have enabled the prisoner to obtain a counsel to assist him at the trial.

(c) A counsel, who appears before a court-martial on behalf of the prosecutor or prisoner, shall have the same right as the prosecutor or prisoner for whom he appears, to call, and orally examine, cross-examine and re-examine witnesses, to make an objection or statement, to address the court, to put in any plea, and to inspect the proceedings, and shall have the right otherwise to act in the course of the trial in the place of the person on whose behalf he appears, and he shall comply with these rules as if he were that person; and in such case that person shall not have the right himself to do any of the above matters except as regards the statement allowed by Rule 128, or except so far as the court permit him so to do.

General rules as to counsel.

(b) If a counsel puts to a witness a question as to a matter which is not relevant except so far as it affects the credit of the witness by injuring his character, and the witness objects to answering the question, the court shall consider whether the witness should be compelled to answer it; and—

(1) If they are of opinion that the imputation conveyed by the question would, if true, seriously affect their opinion as to the credibility of the witness, the court should require the witness to answer the question; but

(2) If they are of opinion that the said imputation, if true, would not affect or would not seriously affect the opinion of the court as to the credibility of the witness, the court should disallow the question.

If the question is disallowed, counsel on both sides will refrain from further examining or commenting on the said matter.

(c) Counsel will not state as a fact any matter which is not proved or which he does not intend to prove in evidence.

The court, in following the opinion of the judge advocate on a legal point, may record that they have decided in consequence of that opinion.

(g) The judge advocate has, equally with the president, the duty of taking care that the prisoner does not suffer any disadvantage in consequence of his position as prisoner, or of his ignorance or incapacity to examine or cross-examine witnesses or otherwise, and may, for that purpose, with the permission of the court, call witnesses and put questions to witnesses, which appear to him necessary or desirable to elicit the truth.

The "prescribed Civil or Military Officer" for the purpose of Article 1 (3) shall be the commanding officer of the corps or department in which a person is about to be enrolled as defined by the Indian Articles of War, or any Magistrate.

164. The "prescribed authority," for the purposes of Article 2 (2), will be any officer authorised by the Governor General in Council in that behalf:

For the purposes of Article 85-B, will be the Officer Commanding the District or Station, or the Division or Brigade with which the corps, department, or detachment to which the accused belongs, or is attached, is serving.

For the purposes of Articles 174 and 175, will be the Officer Commanding the District or Station in which the accused is serving.

The "prescribed officer" for the purposes of Article 176 (5) (6), will be the Controller of Military Accounts of the Command, or the Accountant-General in India if the deceased or deserter belongs to a force not under any command:

For the purposes of Article 177, will be the Commanding Officer:

The "proper military authority" for the purposes of Article 184, will be the Commanding Officer of the corps, detachment, or department to which the officer or soldier belongs or is attached:

The "prescribed rate" of payment for court-martial proceedings furnished under the provisions of Article 161-A (3) shall be—

Seven annas for the first 200 words, and half that rate for each subsequent 200 words, or part thereof.

Rules of Procedure (Native Army).

FIRST APPENDIX.

FORMS OF CHARGES.

NOTE AS TO USE OF FORMS OF CHARGES.

Rules of procedure, first appendix.

(1) Every charge-sheet will begin as shown in the form in Part I of the forms of charges, which are given as examples.

The description of an officer or soldier of the regular forces by his rank and corps is a sufficient averment that he is an officer or soldier, and that he is amenable to military law. In other cases, words must be added to show that the person is amenable to military law. (See Rule 16.)

(2) The commencement of the charge-sheet (according to the form in Part I) will be followed by the charge or charges.

(3) Each charge will consist of two parts; statement of the offence, and statement of the particulars. (Rule 17.)

(4) The statement of the offence will be in one of the forms in Part II.

(5) Where two or more words or expressions occur in Part II, bracketed together one under the other, the particular word or expression should be used which most accurately describes the offence which appears to the officer framing the charge to be capable of proof by legal evidence.

(6) Where the officer framing the charge is doubtful whether the offence, so capable of being proved by legal evidence, is more accurately described by one word, or expression, or by another, he may frame two or more alternative charges, each charge containing one of the words or expressions which appears to the officer to be applicable to the facts as capable of proof.

(7) Where two or more of the words or expressions bracketed together appear, when coupled together with the word "and" accurately to describe the offence, the charge may couple together such words or expressions; but in no case must the charge couple with the word "or" two or more of the words or expressions bracketed together. (See Rule 17-A.)

(8) For example, a man may be charged with dishonestly removing his arms, clothes, and regimental necessaries: but a charge for dishonestly removing his arms, clothes, or regimental necessaries will be a bad charge.

(9) A man should not be charged, however, with pawning and selling a medal, as in such case he is charged with at least two distinct offences, which ought to be included in at least two distinct charges, one for pawning his medal, the other for selling his medal, but he may, if desirable, be charged in two distinct charges, one for pawning his medal, and one for selling it.

(10) In the former example (paragraph 8) the offence is the dishonest removal of some article which he is prohibited from making away with, and is the same offence although committed in respect of different articles. In the second example (paragraph 9) there are two distinct offences of making away with his articles (a) by pawning, (b) by selling—although committed in respect of the same object—a medal.

(11) In some cases the offence can only be committed by an officer, or by a non-commissioned officer, or by a soldier. The forms of charges do not contain any reference to this fact, inasmuch as it will appear from the commencement of the charge whether the prisoner is, or is not, an officer, non-commissioned officer, or soldier and, therefore, capable of committing the offence. Care, however, must be taken not to charge an officer with an offence which a soldier only can commit, nor a soldier with an offence which an officer only can commit. For example, the offence in Indian Article of War 25 can only be committed by an officer, medical subordinate, or warrant officer, while the offence in Article 50 can only be committed by a soldier.

(12) The statement of the offence in each charge will be followed by the appropriate statement of particulars, commencing with the words "in that he," etc., or, "in having," etc., and stating in brief ordinary language what the prisoner is alleged to have done.

(13) The words "in that he" will be followed by the verb in the past tense; the words "in having" will be followed by the past participle. The sentence stating the particulars will be framed more easily sometimes in the one form, sometimes in the other.

(14) In the case of several charges, the particulars in one charge may refer to the particulars in another (Rules 17-E as, for example, "in having done the acts alleged in the particulars to the first charge," or "in that, at the place and time aforesaid, he was deficient in the necessaries above mentioned in the second charge, which it was his duty to have." If the prisoner is acquitted on any charge in which full particulars were set out, and is convicted on a charge which referred to those particulars, the particulars referred to must be treated as having been set out in full in the charge on which the prisoner is convicted, and must be set out in full in any record of conviction in which the particulars are set out.

(15) The statement of particulars should specify all the ingredients necessary to constitute the offence; for example, if the charge is one for disobeying a lawful command, the "particulars" must state the command, and show that it was given by a superior officer, and also how the prisoner disobeyed the command.

(16) The "particulars" should always give a general description of the place where the offence was committed, such as the station or town, or "the line of march" and if it is material to the charge and is known, the exact place. The prepositions "near" or "between" may be used (for instance, "at or near," "between") to assist in describing a place not exactly known, but they must never be used where the exact place is of the essence of the offence.

(17) The "particulars" should always state the date at which the offence was committed. If the exact date or time is unknown, the offence may be stated as having been committed "on or about" a particular day or time. This must never be done where the time is of the essence of the offence, as, for example, in the case of absence without leave or being intoxicated on a post.

(18) In some cases the offence may be stated with most accuracy as having been committed between two days or between two times; as, for instance, in the case of absence without leave, or of quitting a post; in other cases "between" may be used in consequence of the exact day or exact time not being known.

(19) The words "or near" and "or about" and "between" should never be used unless it is impossible to express the exact place or time, or the exact place or time is clearly unimportant, or unless the word "between" is the most accurate expression of the place or time.

(20) In many cases, as, for instance, where the prisoner's defence is an alibi, the time and place may be of the utmost importance in proving that alibi, although it is not the essence of the offence.

(21) There must be added at the end of the "particulars" a statement of any expenses, loss, or damage in respect of which the court-martial will be asked to award compensation under Articles 138 and 139. For example, there may be added to the "particulars" in the case of a charge under Article 42, that the prisoner thereby damaged ————'s property, to the value of ———— ————; and other statements may be made, according to the facts.

(22) If, however, the expenses, loss, or damage were caused by an act or omission which constitutes another offence, separately specified in the Act, that act or omission should be charged as a separate offence; for example, if a man deserts and is deficient in his regimental necessaries, he should be charged in a separate charge for loss by neglect of his necessaries. It would not be proper to state it as a consequence of the desertion, or to award compensation for it upon a conviction for desertion only.

Public Works Department Resolution No. 36 A. E., dated 9th February 1893.

Read also the following correspondence between the Government of India and the Secretary of State:

Despatch to the Secretary of State, No. 324 (Financial), dated 4th November 1896.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 104 (Financial), dated 17th June 1897.

RESOLUTION.—The Government of India, with the approval of the Secretary of State, are pleased to modify the system of recruitment of the Superior Accounts Branch of the Public Works Department which was laid down in the resolution quoted in the preamble, and to decide that this establishment shall be recruited partly in England and partly in India in the manner indicated below:

In England.—By the appointment of students selected by the Secretary of State from the Royal Indian Engineering College, Coopers Hill. The recruitment from this source is limited to 4-9ths of the vacancies to be filled.

In India.—(1) By the promotion of deserving subordinates to the extent of 5-9ths of the vacancies to be filled.

(2) By competitive examination of nominated candidates to the extent of 2-9ths of the vacancies to be filled.

The Government of India reserve the power, which they at present possess, of making special and exceptional appointments to the superior Accounts Establishment otherwise than in the manner described above.

2. The recruitment in India is restricted to Natives of India within the meaning of the Statute 33 Vict., Chapter 3, section 6. The definition in the Statute is:

"The words 'Native of India' shall include any person born and domiciled within the dominions of Her Majesty in India of parents habitually resident in India, and not established there for temporary purposes only."

3. The following revised rules are now prescribed for the recruitment of candidates in India:

A.—When necessary, a notification will be issued in the Gazette of India about the end of November, stating the number of vacancies to be competed for at the next examination.

B.—Not less than three candidates shall be nominated for each vacancy, and only nominated candidates will be allowed to compete.

C.—Persons desiring to obtain nominations should apply, in their own handwriting, not later than the 15th January of each year, to the Accountant General, Public Works Department, who is vested with an absolute discretion as to the nomination of candidates to compete at the examination.

D.—Applications from Natives of India, who are not possessed of high educational qualifications, will not be considered. Clear and distinct handwriting and a business familiarity with the English language are in any case indispensable.

E.—Each application must be accompanied by the following certificates:

(i) Certificate of age from the officer in charge of the District in which the applicant's family reside, or, if they reside in a Presidency Town or a Native State, from the Presidency Magistrate or Political Agent respectively. To obtain this certificate the date and place of the applicant's birth must be proved before the District Officer, Presidency Magistrate or Political Agent, as the case may be, by documentary evidence, supplemented, where this is not conclusive proof, by statements on oath, or solemn affirmation of relatives and others. In the case of Christians, a Baptismal certificate will take the place of the certificate mentioned above.

(ii) Certificate of physical fitness for the public service by a commissioned medical officer or by a medical officer in charge of a civil station.

(iii) Certificate that the applicant (if not a Native) is a Statutory Native of India as defined in paragraph 2 above.

(iv) Testimonials of good moral conduct from the instructor under whom the applicant has been educated, or from some employer or other superior under whom he has been employed, or brought up.

Note.—These testimonials should have special reference to conduct during the two years immediately preceding the date of application. Copies of all certificates should be sent with the originals.

F.—No candidate will be nominated whose age at the date of completion of the examination will be below 18 or above 23 years.

G.—The nominated candidates will be examined in the subjects described in the schedule to this resolution, and those who pass will, as a rule, be appointed Assistant Examiners, 3rd grade, on probation, in order of merit, and to the extent of the number of vacancies announced for competition. No candidate will be held to have passed the examination who obtains less than 650 marks in all, or less than half marks in mathematics.

H.—No candidate will be allowed to compete at the entrance examination more than twice, and then only on being re-nominated by the Accountant General.

I.—The examination will be conducted by written questions and answers, the questions being prepared in such manner as His Excellency the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, direct.

J.—The examination is held by the Principal, Thomason Civil Engineering College, Rurki, in June, and nominated candidates should apply to that officer to arrange the place at which they are to be examined, and should remit to him an examination fee of Rs. 32 which should reach him, together with their applications, not later than the 30th April. The second language, it is proposed to take up, should be stated in the application.

K.—A candidate may be examined at the Thomason Civil Engineering College, Rurki, or at the office of any Examiner of Public Works or Railway Accounts.

ORDER.—Ordered that this resolution be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations and Officers noted in the margin, for information, and that it be published in Part I of the Gazette of India.

Proceedings of the Council of the Governor General of India, assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE INDIAN COUNCILS ACTS, 1861 AND 1892 (24 & 25 VICT., C. 67, AND 55 & 56 VICT., C. 14.)

The Council met at the Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Friday, the 23rd June, 1899.

PRESENT:

His Excellency Baron Curzon of Kedleston, P.C., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E., Viceroy and Governor General of India, presiding.

His Honour Sir W. Mackworth Young, K.C.S.I., Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab.

His Excellency General Sir W. S. A. Lockhart, G.C.B., K.C.S.I., Commander-in-Chief in India.

The Hon'ble Major-General Sir E. H. H. Collen, K.C.I.E., C.B.

The Hon'ble Mr. C. M. Rivaz, C.S.I.

The Hon'ble Mr. C. E. Dawkins.

The Hon'ble Mr. T. Raleigh.

The Hon'ble Lieutenant-Colonel R. Gardiner, R.E.

The Hon'ble Mr. Allan Arthur.

The Hon'ble Nawab Mumtaz-ud-daula Muhammad Faiyaz Ali Khan.

WHIPPING BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Whipping Act, 1864. He said:—"As the law stands at present, any juvenile offender can be punished with whipping in place of any other punishment for any offence he may commit under the Indian Penal Code which is not punishable with death. There is no such provision, however, in respect of offences which are punishable under special or local laws, and the consequence is that a youthful offender, on conviction for an offence outside the Penal Code, has, sometimes, to be sent to jail when a whipping would be a far more suitable punishment. It is proposed to remedy this defect in the Whipping Act by rendering a juvenile offender who commits any offence which is punishable under any special or local law with imprisonment liable to the punishment of whipping in lieu of imprisonment or fine. A safeguard is, at the same time, provided by empowering the Governor General in Council to notify that certain offences, even though they fall within the category just mentioned, are exempted from this liability. It is also proposed to amend the Whipping Act in two other respects—first, as regards juvenile offenders, to render them liable to the punishment of whipping for an attempt to commit an offence, as well as for the offence when actually committed; and, secondly, to add the offence of 'rioting armed with a deadly weapon' to the offences specified in section 2 of the Act which, whether committed by an adult or a juvenile offender, are punishable with whipping."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

MARRIAGES VALIDATION (PUDUKKOTTAI AND TRAVANCORE) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved for leave to introduce a Bill to validate certain marriages solemnized in the Native States of Pudukkottai and Travancore in India. He said :—" Your Lordship is aware that in cases where parties have been married in good faith, but, owing to some mistake in law or the omission of some necessary form, doubts may be cast on the validity of the marriage, it is usual for the Legislature to interfere and to put the validity of these marriages beyond doubt. The mistake which renders necessary the Bill which I now ask leave to introduce is of a very simple kind. The persons whose names and qualifications are set forth in the preamble to the Bill were duly licensed to solemnize marriage, or to grant certificates of marriage within the territories under the Government of Madras. They seemed to suppose that their authority extended to the Native States of Pudukkottai and Travancore, and a number of native Christians residing in these States have been married, and have had certificates granted to them accordingly. The Local Government has made careful enquiry into the facts, and there seems to be no reason to doubt the good faith of the parties. Under these circumstances, I ask leave to introduce a Bill giving validity to these marriages."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in English in the Gazette of India and in the Fort St. George Gazette.

The motion was put and agreed to.

NORTHERN INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Northern India Canal and Drainage Act, 1873. He said:—" Section 36 of the Northern India Canal Act provides that the rates to be charged for canal water supplied for purposes of irrigation to the occupiers of land shall be determined by rules to be made by the Local Government, and that such occupiers as accept the water shall pay for it accordingly. The section does not, however, as at present worded, enable the Local Government to determine what persons or classes of persons are to be deemed to be occupiers and to be liable for payment of the occupier's rate, and difficulties in this respect have been experienced both in the North-Western Provinces and in the Punjab. The object of the present Bill is to remove these difficulties by amending section 36 so as to give the necessary power of determination to the Local Government.

"A consequential amendment of section 47 of the Act is also proposed, in order to enable the recovery of water rates to be made from sub-tenants by summary process in cases where this class of cultivator has been declared liable for their payment."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Government Gazette, the Punjab Government Gazette and the Central Provinces Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN COMPANIES (BRANCH REGISTERS) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS moved for leave to introduce a Bill to authorize certain Companies registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1882, to keep branch registers of their members in the United Kingdom. He said:—"The Bill which I ask leave to introduce originated with the mercantile community. Its object is to authorize certain companies registered under the Indian Companies Act to keep branch registers of their members in the United Kingdom. The first result, it is hoped, will be that it will enlarge the market for shares in Calcutta and in other parts of India. It is also hoped that it will facilitate the investment of English capital and English securities in this country, and if and when the stability of the rupee is assured, I think that we may look forward to the Bill affording very valuable assistance in that direction."

The Hon'ble MR. ALLAN ARTHUR said:—"At the last meeting of this Council, I pointed out that, if British capital were to be attracted to India, one of the first things to be done was to grant facilities to the investor in England, and suggested that legislation should be undertaken on the lines now proposed by the Hon'ble Financial Member.

"That a Bill, such as this is, should be introduced at the very next meeting of the Council seems to me to be clear evidence of the desire and intention of Your Excellency to do everything in your power to encourage the development of the resources of India by the introduction of British capital. I welcome this legislation as one of the means towards the desired end, and shall have much pleasure in supporting the Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN REGISTRATION [AMENDMENT] BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Indian Registration Act, 1877. He said:—"Section 21 of the Registration Act provides that no non-testamentary document relating to immoveable property shall be accepted for registration unless it contains a description of such property sufficient to identify the same; it is further provided that houses outside towns and lands shall be described, whenever it is practicable, by reference to a Government map or survey. By the next section, however, failure to comply with this provision does not disentitle a document to be registered if the description of the property is sufficient for its identification.

"The Madras Government having represented that in that Presidency, at all events, it was desirable to make it obligatory to specify the survey-number in all documents presented for registration which relate to land which has been surveyed, other Local Governments were consulted on the subject. The replies which have been received show that it is not possible to make a general rule for the whole of India to the effect proposed by the Madras Government; at the same time, the Government of India think that the matter is one which may, with advantage, be left to the discretion of the various Local Governments to be provided for by local rule wherever the circumstances warrant the proposed obligatory provision. The object of this Bill is, therefore, to amend section 22 of the Registration Act accordingly."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS [AMENDMENT] BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883. He said:—"The object of this Bill is merely to remove a defect in the language of section 6 of the Land Improvement Loans Act. The law officers in Bengal have advised that, according to the present wording of this section, when the agreement is to advance a loan in instalments, no part of it is repayable till after the last instalment has been actually advanced, and therefore, if the borrower refuses to accept any of the later instalments, the right to recover that already advanced does not accrue. It is proposed to remedy this defect of language and to make it clear that, in such a case, the right of recovery commences from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually taken."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 14th July, 1899.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, June 24th, 1899.

The week under review has been characterised by good seasonable rainfall over Burma, the greater part of Northern India, the central districts and the West Peninsula. Showers have also been received on the North Madras Coast. Rainfall has been scanty or altogether wanting in Sind and the West and South Punjab and up to the present has not been as heavy as usual in Burma and on the west coast. Some heavy falls were received in the hill districts of the North-Western Provinces and North Bombay. The rainfall at Mussoorie during the week amounted to 11·89 inches (9·65 inches of which fell on two consecutive days) and at Surat to 11·95 inches. During the first part of the week winds continued fairly normal in direction everywhere, but on Friday they were more irregular in the North-Western Provinces, and westerly winds were reported on Friday and Saturday from several stations in the Gangetic Plain. They were below their normal strength on the Malabar Coast, but there has been a strong flow of monsoon winds from the north of the Arabian Sea into North Bombay and Rajputana. The only large change in pressure took place on Saturday when the barometer fell rapidly in Upper India, and the distribution of pressure has nearly throughout the week remained practically unchanged, the chief features being a general excess in the east and a general deficiency in the west. Temperature has been unusually low in Northern India and the central districts, with the exception of Sind. In the Punjab and Rajputana temperature was above the normal during the first part of the week, but with the westward extension of rainfall temperature fell rapidly on the 21st and was in moderate to considerable defect on the 22nd and 23rd. In Madras and South India the variations were not large, and the temperatures were generally in excess of the normal.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, June 18th.—Pressure had fallen briskly in the Punjab and Sind and had risen briskly to rapidly in the Central Provinces. Pressure was considerably in defect on the Bombay and Kathiawar Coasts, but elsewhere the variations from the normal were not important. Easterly winds were blowing over the Gangetic Plain and winds generally were normal in direction. Unusually high temperatures had been registered in Upper India, and unusually low temperatures in North-Eastern India and Burma. Moderate general rain had fallen on the west coast and light to moderate rain in Burma, North-Eastern India and the central districts.

Monday, June 19th.—The barometer had fallen slightly to briskly over the Punjab and Upper Sind, and the general distribution of pressure was fairly normal with a slight to moderate excess in Bengal and Burma and a moderate to considerable defect in the West Punjab and Upper Sind. Winds continued generally normal in direction and had strengthened at the head of the Bay. Temperatures were lower than usual over North-Eastern India and the greater part of the Peninsula. They continued abnormally high in the Punjab, Rajputana and Sind. Moderate general rain had fallen in Burma, North-Eastern India, the central districts and on the west coast. Surat had received a heavy fall of 5·77 inches.

Tuesday, June 20th.—Pressure had risen generally over the whole country, the changes in pressure being irregular in the Punjab, where neighbouring stations showed large differences. Owing to an increase in the steepness of the barometric gradients over Sind, Rajputana and Kathiawar, winds had strengthened in Gujarat and Lower Sind. The area of unusually low temperatures had extended further westward, but temperatures were largely in excess of the normal in the West Punjab and Upper Sind. Temperatures were slightly in excess of the normal in the East Deccan and on the west coast. Rainfall had decreased in Bengal, but heavy rain had been received in the hill districts of the North-Western Provinces, Mussoorie reporting a fall of 4·70 inches and Chakrata 4·56 inches.

Wednesday, June 21st.—Pressure had changed irregularly and generally by small amounts. Gradients were not so steep over Sind, Rajputana and Kathiawar. Wind directions remained unchanged and continued fairly normal everywhere. The area of unusually low temperature had extended further westward in the North Punjab, but temperatures continued abnormally high in the South-West Punjab, Upper Sind and West Rajputana. Rainfall had been general in Burma, Lower and North Bengal, the central districts and on the west coast. Mussoorie had received another heavy fall of 4·95 inches.

Thursday, June 22nd.—Pressure had risen briskly in the Punjab, but had changed by only small amounts elsewhere. Temperature had fallen rapidly in the Punjab and Rajputana and was abnormally low over nearly the whole of India, the only districts in which temperature was above the normal being Burma, Sind, the west coast and South India. General rain had fallen in Rajputana, the western states of Central India, the Konkan, Gujarat, North Bengal, Assam and on the Burma Coast. Showers had been received in the North-Western Provinces and in the Punjab.

Friday, June 23rd.—Pressure had fallen slightly to briskly in North-Eastern and Upper India, and the belt of low pressure in the Gangetic Plain had moved northwards. Winds were more irregular in the North-Western Provinces than they had been, and westerly winds were reported from some stations. Temperature had risen rapidly over the central districts, but still continued below the normal in most parts of the country. General rain had fallen in Assam, Orissa, Bihar, Chota Nagpur, the Konkan, Kathiawar, Gujarat, Rajputana and the submontane districts of Upper India.

Saturday, June 24th.—A general fall of pressure had taken place over the whole Indian region, the fall being largest in Upper India. Pressure was in moderate to considerable defect in the Punjab and North-Eastern India. Winds had strengthened in North Bombay, accompanying unusually steep barometric gradients, and also at the head of the Bay. Temperature was below the normal in North-Eastern India, Rajputana, Gujarat, Central India and the Bombay Deccan, but was unusually high in Mysore and the Madras Deccan. General rain had fallen in Bengal, the west coast, Gujarat and Rajputana; and showers had been received in the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, Deccan, North Madras Coast and Burma.

Temperature.—The week has been one of unusually low temperatures over the greater part of Northern India and the central districts. Temperature has been persistently below the normal on every day of the week in Bengal, Orissa, Bihar, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces, Central India and the Bombay Deccan. At the commencement of the week temperature was above the normal in the Punjab, Rajputana and the Central Provinces, but as rainfall extended westwards, temperature fell and at the end of the week was normal or below the normal in all these Provinces. In Sind unusually high temperatures have prevailed throughout the week, though the excess was not so large at the end of the week. Temperature has been generally above the normal in Madras and South India. The variations from the normal were largest in Central India where in the middle of the week the deficiency varied from 7·2° to 7·9°. The mean temperature for the whole week was normal or above it in Burma, Assam, the Punjab, Sind, Rajputana, the west coast, Mysore, the Madras Coast, Madras Deccan and South India and below the normal in all other parts of India.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

The variation did not amount to 1° on the 19th, 20th and 24th, and temperature on those days may be considered normal, but on the 21st and 22nd it amounted to 1·6°. For the whole week the mean variation was —1·2°.

The following gives the highest maximum temperature reported on each day:

Rain.—More or less rain has fallen during the week over the whole country, with the exception of Baluchistan, Sind, West Punjab and South Madras, but the amounts received were less than usual in Burma, the greater part of Bengal and the west coast districts, West Rajputana and the central and eastern districts of the Central Provinces. The rainfall of the week was in excess in the Brahmaputra Valley, Deltaic Bengal, Chota Nagpur, Bihar, the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab (with the exception of the south-eastern, southern and western divisions), the Konkan, the western division of the Central Provinces, Gujarat, Central India, and East Rajputana. The departure from the normal was relatively greatest in Central India, East Rajputana, Gujarat and the eastern and hill districts of the North-Western Provinces in which it exceeded 50 per cent. The rainfall in Sind and the West Punjab was as usual practically nil. The largest absolute variations from the normal rainfall of the week occurred in Tenasserim (—3·46 inches, or 39 per cent.), Bengal Hills (—3·80 inches, or 44 per cent.), Arakan (—3·25 inches, or 24 per cent.), the Surma Valley (—3·25 inches, or 47 per cent.), Malabar (—3·23 inches, or 42 per cent.), and Gujarat (+3·08 inches, or nearly three times its normal fall).

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period 4th to 24th June was in slight defect in Burma, was normal or in slight excess in Bengal and Assam, was normal in South Oudh, but in slight to large excess in North Oudh and the North-Western Provinces. It was normal or in slight excess in all but the western division of the Punjab, in the Bombay and Malabar Coast districts (with the exception of South-Central Madras, where it was in slight defect), in Berar, Kathiawar, Central India, East Rajputana, the eastern division of the Central Provinces and the Madras East Coast (North). It was in considerable excess in Gujarat, in moderate defect in West Rajputana, in slight defect in the western and central divisions of the Central Provinces and in moderate to considerable defect generally in Madras.

The following were the principal large totals recorded at individual stations during the week:

Assam	Cheera Poonjee (Khasia Hills) .	. 24·94 inches.
	Lakhimpur (Dibrugarh) . . .	. 13·38 ,,
Konkan	Mangaon (Colaba)	. 12·34 ,,
	Umbargaon (Thana) . . .	. 13·72 ,,
Gujarat	Bulsar (Surat)	. 23·81 ,,
Central India (East) .	Biaora (Sutna)	. 16·24 ,,

The most remarkable of the above is the very heavy rainfall at Bulsar in the Surat District. The average rainfall for the whole district was 13·39 inches and the normal average fall only 2·39 inches. The excess was thus 460 per cent. of the normal.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 24th June.—The rainfall was good on the West Coast and fair in the greater part of the Circars; elsewhere there were light scattered showers or no rain. The water-supply is generally sufficient for the season. Cultivation is proceeding and sowings are in progress in parts, but are retarded in others by want of rain. The standing crops are in fair condition. Pasture is sufficient on the West Coast and in the Circars, but elsewhere is scanty. Fodder is generally sufficient and the condition of cattle is normal. Prices are rising in the Deccan and in the Central districts; elsewhere they are almost stationary.

Bombay.—For week ending 28th June.—There was rain in all districts of the Presidency Proper and in one of Sind during the week. The fall was good in the Konkan and Gujarat and moderate or light in the Deccan, Karnatic, and Kathiawar. The total fall has been insufficient for general sowing in Sholapur and Bijapur and in parts of Nasik, Satara, Belgaum, Dharwar, and Kathiawar. The seed sown has been washed away by excessive rain in one Petha of Thana; seedlings are also withering in parts of Bijapur. Ploughing has been completed, except in six districts, where it is retarded by want of rain. Sowing is progressing generally and transplantation has begun in parts of Sind and Kanara. Fodder is sufficient, except in parts of Sind and Baroda territory. There is a deficiency of water in parts of Sind. Agricultural stock is healthy. Prices have risen in eleven districts; elsewhere they are stationary.

Bengal.—For week ending 26th June.—The weather throughout the week was unsettled and ample rain fell in every part of the Province. Reports from all districts are very favourable. The early rice, jute, and sugarcane crops are doing well. The sowing of late rice and autumn crops is in active progress and the transplanting of seedlings has begun in some parts. The fodder-supply is everywhere sufficient. Prices continue practically stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 28th June.—Good rain has fallen all over the Provinces during the week. The sowing of the autumn crops continues. Sugarcane is thriving. Markets are well stocked. Fodder is sufficient. Flights of locusts are reported from a few districts, but no damage has been done. Prices have a rising tendency in some districts; otherwise they are fairly stationary.

Punjab.—For week ending 28th June.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Dera Ismail Khan. The harvesting of spring crops is over. Ploughings and sowings of autumn crops are in progress. The extra spring and standing autumn crops are generally in fair condition and have been benefited by the recent rain. The outturn of the spring crops is said to be below average in Ferozepore and Dera Ismail Khan; and the condition of the extra spring crops is below average on irrigated and poor on other kinds of soil in the latter district. Cattle are said to be in poor condition in Hissar, Delhi, and parts of Dera Ismail Khan; average in Sialkot, and fair elsewhere. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Delhi, Shahpur, Hissar, and parts of Lahore, Peshawar, and Dera Ismail Khan. There is every hope that owing to the recent rain grass will soon spring up in most districts. Prices—especially of wheat—are rising in Umballa, Jullundur, Amritsar, Rawalpindi and Peshawar; falling in Hissar and Dera Ismail Khan and are unchanged elsewhere. Wheat is selling from 17 to 22½, barley 29 to 31, gram 18½ to 23, maize 26 to 29, great millet 19, bulrush-millet 17 to 23¾, and rice 14 to 15 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 27th June.—Moderate rain has fallen during the week in all districts, except in Wardha, Raipur and Bilaspur, where the falls have been very light. Ploughing operations are approaching completion and sowings are in progress everywhere, except in parts of Wardha, where they are at a standstill for want of rain. Germination of rice is reported good in the Dhamtari tahsil of Raipur. Agricultural labour is still scarce in Saugor. In Saugor, Damoh, and Hoshangabad 4,736, 2,397, and 802 persons, respectively, are in receipt of village relief; and in the last district 73 persons have been given gratuitous relief. Taccavi is also being distributed in Damoh. Scarcity of fodder and water continues in parts of the Provinces. Prices fluctuate somewhat and show a tendency to rise. The price of wheat, gram, rice and juar has risen in some districts, and has fallen in others. The cheapest prices are—wheat 20, gram 35, rice 22½, and juar 27 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 12, gram 17$\frac{7}{16}$, rice 10, and juar 18⅞ seers per rupee.

Burma.—For week ending 24th June.—In Lower Burma ploughing and sowing are progressing and transplanting has commenced in Amherst and in parts of Henzada. In Upper Burma reaping of dry weather paddy has been completed in Katha; the crop is ripening in the Pouk sub-division of Pakôkku. Reaping of early paddy continues in Mandalay. Sowing of paddy on hill sides is nearly completed. Ploughing for and sowing of the wet weather paddy crop and the early upland crops continue in most districts, but have ceased for want of rain in the Pyawbwe township of Yamethin. The condition of the standing crops is good to fair in most districts; in two townships of the Mandalay district damage has been caused by floods; in parts of the Pagan sub-division and in the Myingyan township of the Myingyan district and in parts of the Pyawbwe township of the Yamethin district more rain is wanted. The price of paddy has again fallen in Rangoon, Pegu, Thongwa, and Bassein; also in Myaungmya, Thayetmyo, Pakôkku, Mandalay, and the Southern Shan States and largely in Henzada; elsewhere no change is reported.

Assam.—For week ending 27th June.—The weather is wet and unfavourable for tea, except in Cachar, where prospects are generally good. Ploughing for late rice; planting of sugarcane; and sowing of late rice seedlings are in progress. Rice has been damaged by floods in the Surma Valley and partly in Nowgong and Sibsagar. Tea blight is prevalent in Kamrup and Cachar. Fodder is scarce in parts of Sylhet. Prices—common rice—Silchar and Dhubri 16; Sylhet 21; Gauhati 17½; Tezpur, Sibsagar, and Dibrugarh 12; and Nowgong 13 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 27th June.—MYSORE: Rainfall—36 cents in the Civil and Military station and rain general and good in Kadur and Shimoga. Prices have slightly risen in Hassan and Shimoga and fallen in Kolar. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of Kolar, Tumkur, and Mysore.

COORG:—Rainfall—2 inches 51 cents. Ploughing for rice continues. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 28th June.—BERAR: Rainfall during the week—one inch 19 cents. Cloudy and unsettled weather prevailed during the week. Preparation of land for the monsoon crop has been completed in the Amraoti district only. Fodder is insufficient in the Wun district. Water is scarce in parts of the Province. The price of jowar has risen in two districts; fallen in one; and is stationary elsewhere.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—22 cents. The autumn sowings are in progress in parts. Prices of grain continue almost steady, except in Raichur and Lingsagur districts where the rise is slight. Prices—wheat 9¾, coarse rice 10½, and jowari 24 seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 28th June.—There was general rain throughout Central India during the week. Agricultural operations have been completed in Gwalior and are in progress elsewhere. Agricultural stock and pasturage are in good condition. Prices are below normal in Bundelkhand and normal elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 28th June.—Rainfall—Abu 1·50; Serohi 2·16; Marwar ·42; Kherwara 3·42; Pertabgarh 5·09; Meywar 3·89; Jhallawar 5·00; Kotah 4·63; Kerauli 3·18; Dholepore 3·33; Bhurtpore 3·67; Alwur 2·10; Jeypore 1·82; Kishengarh ·90; Haraoti 2·47; Bikanir 3·07; over 10 inches in the Sungargarh Nizamat; no rain at Jeysulmere. Agricultural operations are proceeding satisfactorily. Ploughing and sowing are progressing. The condition of cattle and fodder remains unchanged. Cattle which have not been sent away from Jeysulmere are in a bad plight. Prices are rising in Meywar and Haraoti; and are steady elsewhere. There was no emigration during the week from Ajmere-Merwara. The numbers employed on relief works were—Ajmere 747, Merwara 6,714—showing decrease of 1,212 on last week's numbers—and Marwar 978. There are also 161 on ordinary works and 286 on gratuitous relief in Ajmere-Merwara. Prices—Ajmere 18½, Beawar 17⅓, and Marwar 15 seers per rupee.

Kashmir.—For week ending 27th June.—The weather is fine. Rain fell during the week. Prospects of the spring crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 28th June.—There was good rain during the week. Prices are generally stationary. Prices—wheat 16 to 22 and maize 24 to 31 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Sowings of autumn crops are in progress. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal.—For week ending 24th June.—Rainfall—3·08 inches. Upland rice and indian-corn are doing well. Lowland rice is being transplanted. Rice—8¾ seers per rupee.

Reporter on Economic Products.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III, & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross-references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L; and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which consists of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI), but a tenth volume has been issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index is practically a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, is a work of reference, which, it is hoped, will prove of considerable value.

laws relating to the government of Her Majesty's forces by sea:

And whereas no man can be forejudged of life or limb, or subjected in time of peace to any kind of punishment within this realm by martial law, or in any other manner than by the judgment of his peers and according to the known and established laws of this realm; yet nevertheless it being requisite, for the retaining all the before-mentioned forces, and other persons subject to military law, in their duty, that an exact discipline be observed, and that persons belonging to the said forces who mutiny or stir up sedition, or desert Her Majesty's service, or are guilty of crimes and offences to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law will allow:

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 1st, 1899.

The principal feature in the meteorology of the past week was the shallow depression which appeared lying over the western districts of the North-Western Provinces on Tuesday morning, and continued practically unchanged in position and character during the remainder of the week. It was throughout a shallow diffused depression of no great intensity, and winds showed only a feeble cyclonic circulation in the area of the depression, but it determined general and at places heavy rain over the whole of the North-Western Provinces and the eastern states of Central India. The rainfall reported from Jhansi on the 27th, 28th and 29th amounted to 9·44 inches; and at Nowgong it was still heavier, 14·24 inches being received at that place in the same period. A fall of 6·20 inches was also reported from Benares on the 28th.

A brisk fall of the barometer occurred in Sind and the West Punjab, and a large low pressure area was formed in that area on Sunday morning, giving strong winds on the North Bombay Coast and moderate to heavy rain in the western and submontane districts of the North-Western Provinces and hill districts of Upper India. Pressure was two-tenths of an inch in defect at Dera Ismail Khan, but it recovered itself rapidly and by Monday morning was normal over the greater part of the Punjab.

Pressure was normal or in slight excess over Lower Burma at the commencement of the week and in defect over the whole of Northern India. As the week advanced, pressure decreased in Burma and by the end of the week was in considerable defect, the deficiency being most marked in Lower Burma. In Northern India pressure has been more or less in defect throughout the week. In the Peninsula the changes have been small, and pressure generally has been practically normal. Strong winds have been blowing on the Sind Coast, and winds have strengthened slightly on the Malabar Coast. Their directions have been normal except in the Gangetic Plain, where the depression in the North-Western Provinces introduced an irregular cyclonic circulation.

With the exception of the West Punjab and Sind, temperature has been below the normal in Northern India, and during the greater part of the week in general excess in the Peninsula.

Rainfall has been general over Burma, Bengal and Assam, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern hill districts of Upper India, the eastern states of Central India and the west coast, and showers have been received in the Punjab and Rajputana.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, June 25th.—A large low pressure area had formed over Sind and the West Punjab caused by a brisk fall of pressure over that region, and gradients were very steep over Sind, Rajputana and the Punjab. Unusually low temperatures had been registered over the greater part of the country. General rain had fallen in Bengal, Assam, the North-Western Provinces, the central districts and the hill and submontane districts of Upper India, and showers in Burma, the west coast, Gujarat and Rajputana.

Monday, June 26th.—Pressure had risen briskly to rapidly over the Punjab and Upper Sind, and the depression in that region had filled up. Temperature had fallen very rapidly in the Punjab, and maximum temperatures were very largely below the normal in the Punjab and North-Western Provinces. Rainfall had been general over Burma, Bengal and Assam, the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, the central districts and the Malabar and South Konkan coasts.

Tuesday, June 27th.—The barometer had risen in North Bombay and was steady or had fallen elsewhere. A shallow low pressure area was shown lying over the western districts of the North-Western Provinces. Temperature had risen nearly everywhere, but was still unusually low over nearly the whole of Northern India. Fairly general rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, Assam, the North-Western Provinces and on the west coast, and showers in the Upper India hill districts.

Wednesday, June 28th.—The changes of pressure were small, and the shallow depression in the North-Western Provinces was stationary, but had intensified slightly. Temperature was below the normal in Northern India, with the exception of the Indus Valley and Gujarat, and normal or above the normal in the Peninsula. General and in some places heavy rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern states of Central India and the west coast districts, and showers in the Punjab and Rajputana.

Thursday, June 29th.—Pressure had again changed by only small amounts, and the depression in the North-Western Provinces was practically unchanged in character and position. Temperature was in considèrable to large defect in the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, Orissa, Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Central India, and in moderate excess in Berar, Madras and South India. Light to moderately heavy rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern Upper India hill districts, the west coast districts, the eastern states of Central India and East Rajputana.

Friday, June 30th.—Pressure had fallen briskly in Lower Burma and the North-West Punjab, and had risen slightly in Rajputana and Gujarat. The depression in the North-Western Provinces was stationary, but was apparently slowly filling up. Temperature had risen generally, but was still below the normal over the greater part of Northern India. Rainfall had decreased in Burma and increased on the Malabar Coast. It had been fairly general in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern hill districts of Upper India and on the west coast.

Saturday, July 1st.—Pressure had risen briskly in the depression area in the North-Western Provinces and had changed by small amounts elsewhere. The depression remained practically unchanged. Mean temperatures were in general excess in the Peninsula and the greater part of Northern India. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, Assam, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern states of Central India, the eastern Upper India hill districts, and light to heavy rain on the west coast.

Temperature.—During the past week temperature has generally been below the normal in Northern India and above it in the Peninsula. The only exception is the province of Sind, where it has been steadily in excess. During the first three days of the week unusually low temperatures were registered over the greater part of the country, but as the week advanced, temperature showed a tendency to rise generally everywhere; and on the 1st July the mean temperature for the whole of India was in slight excess. Temperatures were steadily below the normal on every day of the week in Orissa, Bihar, the North-Western Provinces and Central India. The largest departures from the normal occurred in the North-Western Provinces, Punjab and Central India where temperatures largely below the normal were registered. The mean temperature for the whole week was normal in Burma, Assam, Gujarat, the Central Provinces, and Mysore, was in defect in Bengal, Orissa, Bihar, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, Rajputana and Central India, and in excess in Sind, Berar, the west coast, Bombay Deccan, the Madras Coast, Madras Deccan and South India.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

Rain.—The week has been one of unusually heavy rain over Bengal and Assam, the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, Central India and East Rajputana. The only divisions in these provinces where rainfall has been in defect are the Bengal Hills and Orissa. Rainfall has been below the normal in Burma (with the exception of Lower Deltaic Burma and Arakan), Bombay and Malabar coast districts (with the exception of Malabar and Coorg), the Central Provinces, North Bombay, West Rajputana and Madras. The most important deficiencies in rainfall occurred in the following divisions:—Konkan, 66 per cent.; Bombay Deccan, 47 per cent.; Khandesh, 75 per cent.; Berar, 63 per cent.; Central Provinces (West), 57 per cent.; Gujarat, 80 per cent.; Kathiawar, 97 per cent.; and East Coast [North (a)], 70 per cent.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period 4th June to 1st July was in slight defect in Burma, South-Central Madras, the Central Provinces and Berar, Baluchistan Hills and East Coast (North). It was in moderate to considerable defect in West Rajputana and the whole of Madras, with the exception of the East Coast (North). It was normal or in slight to considerable excess in Bengal (the excess being largest in Chota Nagpur and Bihar), in considerable to very large excess in the North-Western Provinces, normal or in slight to considerable excess in the Punjab, normal in the Bombay Deccan, Khandesh and Kathiawar, and in slight to moderate excess in Coorg, Gujarat, Central India and East Rajputana.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 1st July.—The rainfall was good on the West Coast and fair in parts of the Circars; light elsewhere, and very scanty or none in the greater part of the Deccan and the Central districts. The June rainfall was generally deficient, except on the West Coast, and rain is now much wanted, especially in the Deccan. The water-supply under large works is good, but otherwise it is below normal in many places. Tillage continues and sowings where rainfall allows, but more rain is needed for early sowings generally and for such crop as is standing. Pasture is available on the West Coast and in parts of the Circars; elsewhere it is scanty, but fodder is generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is normal. The rise in prices in the Deccan continued and is extending more generally.

Bombay.—For week ending 5th July.—There was rain in all districts of the Presidency Proper and in one of Sind during the week. The fall was generally light and insufficient. More rain is wanted urgently over the greater part of the Deccan and the Karnatak and in Kathiawar. Sowing is retarded in Sholapur, Bijapur, East Belgaum, and in parts of Khandesh, Nasik, and Dharwar, and is progressing elsewhere. Ploughing continues in five districts, and transplantation in parts of Sind and Konkan. Young crops have been damaged by high winds in parts of Thar and Parkar and are withering in two talukas of Sholapur and in three of Bijapur. The water-supply is deficient in parts of Sind. Fodder is sufficient, except in parts of Sind and Baroda territory. Agricultural stock is healthy. Prices have risen in seven and fallen in two districts, and are stationary elsewhere.

Bengal.—For week ending 3rd July.—Heavy rain has fallen all over the Province. General agricultural prospects are favourable, but in some parts the cultivation is retarded by heavy rain. The sowing of autumn crops and of winter rice and the transplanting of seedlings are in progress. Early rice, jute, and sugarcane are in good condition. Insects are said to have destroyed a good deal of the young paddy and jute crops in Dacca and the paddy plants in some parts of Jessore. Fodder is abundant Except for a slight rise in a few districts, the price of common rice remained stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 5th July.—The rainfall during the week has been general and heavy. Agricultural operations for the autumn crops are in active progress, though they have been retarded in a few districts owing to the excessive rain. Sugarcane and indigo are thriving and are being weeded. Supplies and fodder are sufficient. Locusts are reported from two districts, but no damage has been done. Prices show a tendency to rise.

Punjab.—For week ending 5th July.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Peshawar and Jullundur. Ploughings and sowings of autumn crops are in progress. Harvesting of extra spring crops is nearly finished in Ferozepore. The standing autumn crops are generally in good condition. The outturn of spring crops and the condition of extra spring crops are said to below average in Dera Ismail Khan. Cattle are said to be in poor condition in Hissar, Delhi, and parts of Dera Ismail Khan; average in Sialkot; and fair elsewhere. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Hissar, Delhi, Shahpur, and parts of Lahore and Dera Ismail Khan. Green grass will probably soon spring up owing to the recent rainfall in some districts. Prices—especially of wheat—are rising in Hissar and Jullundur; falling in Umballa. Lahore, Rawalpindi, and Peshawar; and are unchanged elsewhere. Wheat is selling from 17 to 21½; barley 29 to 31; gram 19 to 22¾; maize 24 to 30; great millet 19; bulrush-millet 17 to 19½; and rice 13 to 14 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 4th July.—There was rain in all districts during the week, except in Hoshangabad and Chhindwara. The fall was good in Damoh, Jubbulpore, Mandla, Balaghat, Bilaspur, and Sambalpore and moderate or light in the other districts, its distribution being very uneven. The total rainfall up to date is much below the average, except in Sambalpore. Sowings are everywhere in progress, but have been retarded in Nimar and Chhindwara for want of rain. More rain is required for general sowings and for the young cotton and rice plants. In Saugor, Damoh, and Hoshangabad 4,730, 2,476, and 578 persons, respectively, are in receipt of village relief; and in the last district 76 persons have been given gratuitous relief. Fodder is insufficient in parts of six districts. Prices have risen in twelve districts, but the rise has not been large. The cheapest prices are—wheat 19, gram 35, rice 22, and juar 27 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 13¾, gram 16, rice 10, and juar 21 seers per rupee.

Burma.—For week ending 1st July.—In Lower Burma ploughing and sowing are progressing in all districts, and transplanting has commenced in Thongwa, Henzada, and Amherst. The rainfall is reported deficient in Prome. In Upper Burma ploughing for and sowing of the wet weather paddy and early upland crops continue, except in parts of Yamethin. Dry weather paddy is being harvested in Kani township of the Lower Chindwin district. The standing crops are reported fair to good. Paddy nurseries are suffering in Minbu and Kyaukse for want of canal water. Floods have done damage to the tobacco crop on islands in Pakôkku; to early paddy in Mandalay; and to riverine crops in Myitkyina. Sesamum is damaged by excessive rain in the Gangaw sub-division of Pakôkku and the Pyinmana sub-division of Yamethin. Early wet weather paddy is suffering for want of water in Kyaukse. Early sesamum is withering for want of rain in Minbu and Yamethin and the Myaing township of Pakôkku. Crops are withering for want of rain in all Myingyan, except in two townships of the Pagan sub-division The price of paddy has fallen in Prome, Myaungmya, Pakôkku, Yamethin, and Myingyan; and has risen slightly in Rangoon and in the Southern Shan States.

Assam.—For week ending 4th July.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for late rice; planting of sugarcane; and sowing of late rice seedlings are in progress. Early rice has been damaged by floods in several districts of the Assam Valley. Prospects of tea are much improved, but more sun is wanted. Fodder is scarce in Sibsagar and in parts of Sylhet. Prices—common rice—Silchar 16; Dhubri 14; Sylhet 21; Gauhati 16½; Tezpur, Nowgong, and Dibrugarh 13; and Sibsagar 11 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 4th July.—MYSORE: Rainfall—13 cents in the Civil and Military station and rain general and good in parts. Prices have slightly fallen in Hassan and Shimoga and risen in Bangalore, Tumkur, and Kolar. Paddy has been sown in parts of four districts.

COORG: Rainfall—13 inches 42 cents. Sowing of rice and ragi (Eleusine coracana) has commenced. Coffee berries are developing. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 5th July.—BERAR: The weather was cloudy with scanty rainfall during the week. Cotton plants have sprung up in parts of three districts. Land is still being prepared for sowings which are in progress Fodder is generally sufficient, but the water-supply is inadequate. Price of jowar shows a tendency to rise.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—34 cents. Autumn sowing continues, but more rain is badly wanted in many talukas of the Gulburga and Warangal divisions. Prices of grain have slightly risen in Raichur, Lingsagar, and Naldrug districts; elsewhere they are fairly steady. Prices—wheat 9¾, coarse rice 10½, and jowari 23¾ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 5th July.—The rainfall of the week was general throughout Central India, except in Malwa. Agricultural operations are in progress. Agricultural stock and pasturage are in good condition. Prices are below normal in Bundelkhand; and normal elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 5th July.—Rainfall—Bhurtpore 7·59; Kerowli 7·08; Jhalawar 4·89; Jeypore 3·10; Kishengarh ·82; Kotah ·66; Abu ·37; Kherwara ·36; Bikanir, Nizamut Reni, 2·86; Suratgarh 2·61; and Sujangarh ·80. Average in Dholepore 8·33; Alwar 4·14; Haraoti 1·96; Ajmere ·23; scattered showers in Jeysulmere, but no rain in Serohi, Marwar, Pertabgarh, and Meywar. Agricultural operations are proceeding satisfactorily. Ploughing and sowing continue. The condition of cattle and fodder is unchanged. Locusts are reported in Kerowli. Prices are rising in Jhalawar, Kotah, and Haraoti; falling in Meywar; and are steady elsewhere. Thirty-six persons emigrated from the Merwara district during the week. The total emigration to date numbers—4,467. The numbers employed on relief works were—Ajmere 709, Merwara 6,917, and Marwar 954 There are also 124 persons on ordinary works and 284 on gratuitous relief in Ajmere-Merwara. Prices—Ajmere 18, Beawar 17½, and Marwar 15 seers per rupee.

Kashmir.—For week ending 4th July.—The weather is cloudy and rain has fallen. Prospects of the spring crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 5th July.—Heavy rain fell during the week. Prices are falling slightly. Prices—wheat 17 to 23 and maize 26 to 32 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is good. Sowings of autumn crops are in progress. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal.—For week ending 1st July.—Rainfall—1·43 inches. The weather is seasonable. Upland rice and indian-corn are doing well. Lowland rice is being transplanted. Rice—8¾ seers per rupee.

Circular No. V Railway, dated Simla, the 3rd July, 1899.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

General Rules of 1895 for working open lines of railway in British India administered by the Government.

Modification of rule 14, Chapter III, and rule II (4), Appendix A, Part II.

Read—

Section 47 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890.

Government of India, Public Works Department, notification No. 118, dated the 21st March 1895, publishing—in Part I of the Gazette of India of the 23rd March 1895—the Government of India Circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895, and the General Rules therewith promulgated for all open lines of railway in British India administered by the Government.

Read also—

Letter from the Consulting Engineer for Railways, Madras, to the Director of Railway Traffic, No. 1710, dated the 11th June 1898, and enclosures.

OBSERVATIONS.—The inside packing of boxes containing concentrated mineral acids is required by rule II (4) of Appendix A to the General Rules referred to above, to be of ashes free from cinders, or of chalk, sand, or dry-earth. In the case of other dangerous goods marked "B" in Part II, Chapter III, rule 14, the inside packing must be of straw, chaff or sawdust mixed with coal, wood-ashes, chalk or sand.

2. In the absence of an authoritative ruling as to the proper construction to be placed on the reading of the word "concentrated," difficulties have been experienced in determining whether acids presented for carriage by railway are concentrated or not. The administrations of some railways treat all acids alike and insist on the first method of packing above referred to; while those of other lines, being of opinion that there is no concentrated acid imported into the country served by the railways under their administration, accept all acids as unconcentrated and apply the packing rules accordingly. Complaints have, in consequence, been made by the public in certain parts of India that, owing to the second method of packing, referred to above, being adopted in the case of all acids consigned from certain ports, their competitors in business in the latter places have an undue advantage over them.

3. A concentrated mineral acid means a strong acid in ordinary language, but as the strength of acids, when they are pure, varies with their specific gravities, the Government of India are advised that there would be practical difficulties in fixing the specific gravity as a test of strength in order to define the term "concentrated" for the purpose of applying the rules for packing referred to in paragraph 1 above. While, however, the lax interpretation of the rules by one railway administration in cases in which the more stringent rule for packing should be adopted, is considered dangerous to other goods and involves the risk of accidents, it does not appear necessary to enforce the more stringent rule for packing in the case of all acids, but only to restrict it to the three mineral acids, viz., Hydrochloric, Sulphuric, and Nitric.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the three mineral acids, viz., Hydrochloric, Sulphuric, and Nitric in any state whatever, should be packed in the manner laid down in the first portion of rule II (4) of Appendix A to the General Rules, above referred to, when tendered for carriage by railway, the second method of packing being adopted in the case of other acids; and in exercise of the powers conferred by section 47 (4) of the Indian Railways Act, IX of 1890, to sanction the adoption of the accompanying corrigenda to the General Rules for working open lines of railway, referred to above, on all railways in British India, in foreign territory or in native states, to which the said rules have been applied.

ORDER.—Ordered that this circular and its enclosure be published under a notification in Part I of the Gazette of India, as required by section 47, sub-section (3), of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, and that the General Rules as now further amended be kept for inspection at railway stations as directed by sub-section (6) of the same section.

Ordered, also, that a copy of this circular and of its enclosure be communicated to the Local Governments and Administrations, and to the Officers noted in the margin, for information and guidance; and to the Governments of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab, the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, the Agents to the Governor General in Central India and Baluchistan, the Resident in Mysore, and to the Accountant General, Public Works Department, for information.

The Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal and Burma.

[Enclosure to Government of India Circular No. V Railway, dated the 3rd July 1899.]

Corrigenda to the General Rules for working open lines of railway promulgated with Government of India circular No. 6 Railway, dated the 12th March 1895.

Against the entry—" Acid, carbolic," for the letter " A " substitute the letter " B."

Expunge the entry—" Acid, carbolic, concentrated . . . . . . B."

Part II, Appendix A, Rule II (4).

For every circle a sufficient number of representative persons resident in the locality shall be enrolled as Plague Mohulladars, and shall be detailed for duty by roster or otherwise.

Duties of Plague Mohulladars.

5. It shall be the duty of Plague Mohulladars to attend daily, or as may be directed at the Health Office of their circle, and to report to the Health Officer the names and addresses of all persons who may have come to reside in or may have left their circle during the previous 24 hours.

The Mohulladars on duty will daily visit every portion of their circle, and will report immediately to the officer on duty at the Health Office of the Circle any case of suspicious illness which may come to their notice.

All orders and notices issued by the Health Officer under these rules regarding the removal and segregation of sick persons or of those infected through contact with them, for the evacuation and disinfection of buildings and other matters herein provided for, shall be served through the Mohulladar, who is the representative of the person or persons on whom such order or notice is issued, and shall, jointly with such person or persons, be responsible for the due compliance with the order or notice in question.

All compensation that may be awarded for the destruction of infected property, or by reason of anything done under these rules, shall be paid in the presence of the Plague Mohulladar concerned, and he shall generally form the channel of communication between the Health Officer or other authority and the residents of the Circle of whom he is the representative.

6. When the Health Officer has reason to believe that a case of plague has occurred in a house within his charge, he shall proceed with, if possible, the Plague Mohulladars of the Circle to enquire into the case. The owner and occupier of the house shall permit the Health Officer to enter his premises and examine any person whom such Health Officer has reason to believe to be infected with bubonic plague. In case of resistance or refusal, the Health Officer may call in the Police Officer in charge of the station, who may arrest without warrant any person offering active resistance, and shall take such other steps as may be necessary to give effect to the rule. Such order shall be served on the owner or occupier of the house or head of the family concerned personally, and as a general rule no steps shall be taken to enforce it until the expiry of a maximum period of six hours from the time of service. In the event of the person responsible being absent or himself attacked with plague, the order shall be served on the representative Mohulladar of the Circle.

(ii) Subject to any special instructions received by him in this respect, the Health Officer is empowered to carry out, by order in writing served as above described, the evacuation of those houses in the vicinity of that in which a case of plague has occurred, the occupants of which are likely to have become infected, and to cause such occupants to be removed to a segregation camp and detained under observation for ten days.

As a general rule, no steps shall be taken to enforce any such order until the expiry of 12 hours from the time of service.

(iii) When private hospitals and camps have been provided under rule 9 of Plague Notification No. 616, dated the 22nd June, 1899, sick or suspected persons may, if they so desire, and if accommodation is available, be removed to such hospital or camp instead of to a public hospital or segregation camp.

(iv) In all hospitals, public or private, the patients may be treated on such system, and by such medical practitioners, as they or their friends may desire.

(v) In all hospitals separate and suitable accommodation shall be provided for females, and they shall, so far as is possible, be treated by female agency.

(vi) In all hospitals the relatives, friends, hakims, baids and priests of sick persons shall be allowed free access to them at all times, subject to such precautions as the Health Officer may consider necessary.

(vii) All persons who may accompany and remain in attendance on a sick person in a public or private hospital shall be accommodated in a segregation camp in the immediate vicinity, and shall not depart thereform without the written permission of the Health Officer in charge.

(viii) Any person who may be attacked with plague whilst under detention in a segregation camp shall be removed to a hospital, and become subject to the above rules.

(ix) All hospitals and camps shall be suitably guarded, and in the case of private hospitals and camps the arrangements for guarding must be approved by the District or Cantonment Magistrate, and their cost will be met by the persons on whose application the hospital or camp was sanctioned.

(x) Any private hospital or camp may be closed by order of the District or Cantonment Magistrate if the Health Officer reports that the conditions on which such hospital or camp was sanctioned have not been complied with, or that its continuance is objectionable or a source of danger to the neighbourhood.

8. In any house in which a case of plague has occurred the Health Officer shall take measures for the disinfection and cleansing of the house, and the destruction of bedding, clothing and articles of a similar nature which have become infected. premises for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the preceding rule. In case of resistance or refusal the Health Officer may call in the Police Officer in charge of the station, who may arrest without warrant any person offering active resistance, and shall take such further steps as may be necessary to give effect to the rule: Provided that, when an apartment is occupied by a female who, according to the custom of the country, does not appear in public, the Health Officer shall not enter such apartment without giving notice and affording time to such female to withdraw.

Evacuation of street or quarter

10. If bubonic plague has become prevalent in a portion of a Municipality or Cantonment, the Magistrate of the District or the Cantonment Magistrate may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, direct the inhabitants of any street, mohalla, or other locality to vacate their houses and to remove to a temporary settlement at a distance from the infected quarter.

The District Magistrate or the Cantonment Magistrate may, when necessary, provide such persons with temporary accommodation.

The Health Officer shall then arrange for the thorough disinfection and cleansing of the empty premises, and no person shall be permitted to return until the premises have been certified to be free from infection.

No order, issued by a District or Cantonment Magistrate under this rule, shall take effect until the expiry of at least 24 hours after the date of publication.

11 Whenever houses are vacated under rules 7 (ii) or (10), each householder shall be permitted to make suitable arrangements for the care of his house and property during his absence, provided that the house is not occupied. He may remove any valuable property, or place seals upon it, and the District Magistrate or Cantonment Magistrate, as the case may be, will arrange for the watch and ward of empty houses, and will see that they are properly padlocked and secured.

Duty of compliance

12. A person dealt with under the foregoing rules shall comply with any directions that may be given to him by a Health Officer, with regard to his removal to and his detention in a public or private plague hospital or segregation camp, and with respect to the disinfection or destruction by fire of his clothing and other personal effects or other similar matter. He shall not depart from any plague hospital, segregation camp or other place of detention without the permission of the Health Officer.

Death reports and disposal of the dead

13. From the date on which the proclamation referred to in rule 1 of this Notification has been issued, the owner or occupier of any house and every head of a family resident therein shall immediately on the occurrence of the death of any person in such house, report the fact to the officer in charge of the health office of his circle and to his representative Plague Mohulladar. The corpse shall be removed from the house as soon as possible after death.

No medical examination shall be made of any corpse without the consent of the relatives of the deceased, but in the event of such examination being refused, or if the deceased has not been attended during his last illness by a qualified medical practitioner, whose certificate of the cause of death is satisfactory in the opinion of the Health Officer, the deceased may be held to have died from plague, and all the provisions of these rules as regards segregation and detention may be applied to the other inmates of the house in which the death occurred.

The friends and relatives of any person dying from or held to have died from plague shall be permitted to dispose of the corpse by cremation or burial in accordance with their religious practices, but they shall obey the directions of the Health Officer or other sanitary or executive authority as to the route and method of removing the corpse to the cremation or burial place. In the event of the failure or refusal of the relatives or friends of the deceased to dispose of the body, the Health Officer shall dispose of it in accordance with the religion of the deceased. The graves of all persons dying from plague, who may be buried, shall be dug at least six feet deep, and at a safe distance from any well or other source of water supply. In cases where cremation is carried out, the body shall be completely burned, the clothes which have been in contact with the body, the bier or other funeral properties being either burnt according to custom or disinfected before removal.

Establishment of health office.

14. Immediately on the appearance of plague in any Municipality or Cantonment, the Health Officer shall, in consultation with the District or Cantonment Magistrate, establish a health office, with as many branch offices as may be required.

These offices will form the head-quarters of the Plague Administration of the Municipal or Cantonment area or sub division of the same, and shall remain open, as far as may be possible, day and night for the registration of all reports of illness or death from plague, and for the prompt issue of orders for dealing with each case. Under the orders of the Health Officer, a subordinate official will always remain in charge of each office, and will form the channel of communication between the Medical and District Authorities and the Plague Mohalladars and the public generally. At each health office will be kept a supply of disinfectants and the implements required by the sanitary establishments maintained for combating the plague. PART V.

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 14th July, 1899:

NO. 10 OF 1899.

A Bill to provide for the Incorporation of Kirk Sessions of the Church of Scotland in British India.

WHEREAS there are in British India Kirk Sessions of the Church of Scotland which have been duly constituted to be Church Courts for ecclesiastical purposes in pursuance of Acts of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland;

And whereas it is expedient that such Kirk Sessions and any others which may hereafter be so constituted, should be incorporated with the powers hereinafter provided, It is hereby enacted as follows:

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Church of Scotland Kirk Sessions Act, 1899.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Scotch Kirk Sessions to be bodies corporate.

2. Every Kirk Session which has been, or may hereafter be, duly constituted to be a Church Court for ecclesiastical purposes in pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, is hereby declared to be, and the same shall be, a body corporate having perpetual succession and a common seal.

Power to hold and dispose of property.

3. (1) Every Kirk Session constituted as aforesaid shall, as a body corporate, have power to acquire and hold any property which has been, or may hereafter be, vested in it for the purposes of the Congregation for which it has been, or may hereafter be, constituted, or of any trust which may have been or may hereafter be accepted by it, to transfer the same, to contract and to do all other things necessary for, or incidental to, the purposes of its constitution or of any such trust as aforesaid.

(2) The signature of the Moderator and Treasurer for the time being of a Kirk Session constituted as aforesaid shall, if affixed on behalf and by order of the Kirk Session, be sufficient for all purposes for which the signature of the Kirk Session is required.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN 1897 the Government of India were approached, through the Government of Bombay, by the members of the local Kirk Session with a memorial praying (1) that every duly constituted Kirk Session of the Church of Scotland in India should be declared (by legislation, if necessary) to be a corporate body with full powers as trustees to deal with all funds and other property vested in them, and (2) that an Act should be passed constituting the Senior Minister for the time being of the Presidency Church in each of the Presidency-towns a corporation sole for the purposes of the Church of Scotland in India.

2. The Government of India are advised that legislation is required to incorporate Kirk Sessions of the Church of Scotland, and they agree with the various Local Governments concerned and the Presbytery of Edinburgh and the Committee on Indian Churches, which have been consulted in the matter, in thinking that such legislation should be undertaken. There does not, however, seem to be sufficient reason for declaring Senior Chaplains of the Church of Scotland to be corporations sole. The Anglican Bishops in India are such, no doubt, by their Letters Patent; but the position of the Senior Chaplains of the Church of Scotland is essentially different, and neither Roman Catholic Bishops nor the dignitaries of other denominations are corporations sole. The present Bill, therefore, is confined to giving effect to the first part only of the memorial above referred to.

The 22nd June, 1899. T. RALEIGH.

J. M. MACPHERSON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 14th July, 1899:

NO. 11 OF 1899.

A Bill to make better provision for the Registration of British Ships in British India.

The marginal references are to the Indian Merchant Shipping Bill, 1896.

57 & 58 Vict., c. 60.

WHEREAS it is enacted in section 735 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, that "the legislature of any British possession may, by any Act or Ordinance, confirmed by Her Majesty in Council, repeal, wholly or in part, any provisions of this Act (other than those of the Third Part thereof which relate to emigrant ships) relating to ships registered in that possession; but any such Act or Ordinance shall not take effect until the approval of Her Majesty has been proclaimed in the possession, or until such time thereafter as may be fixed by the Act or Ordinance for the purpose;"

And whereas it is expedient that certain provisions of the said Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, should be repealed in so far as they relate to the registration of British ships in British India, and that other provisions should be enacted in place thereof;

It is hereby enacted as follows:

[6.] Short title, extent and commencement.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Indian Registration of Ships Act, 1841 (X of 1841), and the amending Act XI of 1850 were passed in pursuance of the Statute 3 & 4 Vict., c. 56. The provisions of that Statute were expressly saved by section 108 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854 (17 & 18 Vict., c. 104), but the saving was not repeated when the latter Act was recently repealed by Parliament and replaced by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894 (57 & 58 Vict., c. 60). Section 2 of the Statute of 1894 provides that every British ship shall, unless exempted, be registered thereunder, and that, if a ship so required to be registered is not duly registered, she shall not be recognized as a British ship and shall not be entitled to any of the benefits, privileges, advantages or protection enjoyed by a British ship. Section 745, sub-section (1), clause (e), then declares that ships registered under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or duly registered before the passing of that Act, shall be deemed to have been registered under the new Act. The result, apparently, is that, as the law now stands, registration under the Indian Acts of 1841 and 1850 effected after the passing of the Statute of 1854 is not sufficient to give a ship the status of a British ship; and that that status can be acquired only by registration in accordance with the provisions of the Statute of 1894. But by virtue of section 735 of the latter statute the legislature of any British possession may, by an Act confirmed by Her Majesty in Council, repeal, wholly or in part, any of its provisions and enact others in the place thereof. The necessity for legislation in exercise of the power so conferred has been brought to the notice of the Government of India, and it has been decided that it should be undertaken without further delay. The present Bill originally formed Part II of the general Merchant Shipping Bill which, though introduced in the Governor General's Council in 1892, is still pending before the Council. In connection with that Bill various legal and technical difficulties have been raised, and it has been found impossible to proceed with it as a whole at present; but no such difficulties appear to exist in connection with the Part above referred to, and it has, therefore, been extracted and thrown into the form of a separate Bill with a view to its early introduction and passage into law.

3. This Act shall continue in force until the thirty-first day of March, 1900.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In several sections of the Army Act (44 & 45 Vict., c. 58), relating to fines, etc., reference is made to sums stated in British currency, but by section 169 power is taken for the Governor General in Council to declare the amount of the local currency which is to be deemed, for the purposes of the said Act, to be equivalent to any sum of British currency mentioned therein. By G. G. O. No. 198 of 1880, which was expressed as being issued in exercise of the authority given by the corresponding section 162 of the Army Discipline and Regulation Act, 1879 (42 & 43 Vict., c. 33), it was directed that fines for drunkenness should be levied at the exchange rate of eight pies to the penny, or, in other words, at the exchange rate of two shillings to the rupee. It appears, however, that what is probably contemplated by the Statute is not an order of the Executive Government, but one emanating from the legislature, i.e., an Act of the Governor General in Council, and it has been decided to take action in accordance with this view of the law. Further, it is, in the opinion of the Government of India, reasonable that recoveries under the Statute should be made at the rate at which the sterling pay of the British soldier serving in India is converted into the local currency, and, as the rate is fixed anew for each financial year, it is proposed to deal with the matter regularly hereafter by means of an Annual Act. For the present and up to the 31st March next the rate has been fixed at one shilling and four pence to the rupee, and this Bill has, therefore, been drawn so as to continue in force up to that date and to legalize till then the conversion, for the purposes of the Statute, of sterling sums of money at that rate.

Saving as to publication by the Government.

7. Nothing in this Act shall apply to any document published by, or under the authority of, the Government.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

ON several occasions in the course of the last twenty-seven years the Government of India have received representations as to the expediency of securing some measure of protection for foreign telegraphic press messages received in British India. In 1885 it was decided to provide for the matter in a Bill to amend the law of copyright, the introduction of which was at that time contemplated; but it was eventually decided that general legislation should not be initiated in India until the subject of copyright had been dealt with comprehensively for the whole of Her Majesty's dominions by Parliament.

Attention has again been drawn to the particular question of the protection of telegraphic news, and it seems to the Government of India that legislation regarding it is called for and that there is no necessity to postpone it any longer. The great importance to the Indian Public of a first-rate service of telegraphic news cannot be denied; it is undoubted that enterprise in that direction is being checked because the existing law recognizes no right of property in published telegrams and the systematic piracy of expensive foreign press messages has been the result; and the need for legislation has lately been recognized and acted upon by the colonial legislatures of New Zealand, Australia, the Cape of Good Hope, Hong Kong and Ceylon. In these circumstances it has been decided to introduce the present Bill, which has been framed somewhat on the model of the most recent of the colonial enactments alluded to, namely, that passed into law in Ceylon last year and entitled "The Telegram Copyright Ordnance, 1898."

Repeal.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Chapter VIII of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (IV of 1882), aims at dealing comprehensively with the difficult question of the assignment of choses in action and includes an excursion into the law of champerty and maintenance. The attempt has not been altogether successful. Many difficulties in the construction and practical application of the Chapter have arisen; its provisions have been the subject of numerous and conflicting rulings of the various High Courts; and the necessity for legislation has been made clear. The present Bill has been drawn with the object of removing the defects, which have, from time to time, been detected, and its details will be found fully explained in the annexed NOTES ON CLAUSES.

2. It has been suggested that a special provision on the subject of champerty and maintenance should be included in the Bill; but, if such legislation is to be undertaken, it is thought that it should take the form of an amendment of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 (IX of 1872)—the addition, possibly, of an Explanation to section 23, which avoids contracts opposed to public policy.

The 12th July, 1899. T. RALEIGH.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2 of Bill.

Proposed new section 130, Act IV of 1882.—Probably section 130, as it stands in the present Act, may be taken as a fair working definition of the term chose in action as used in English law. The obvious intention of the Act was to make all choses in action transferable as property, that is to say, transferable subject to the conditions and restrictions imposed by Chapter II, and particularly by sections 6, 7, 9 and 10 But, regard being had to recent differences of opinion, it is proposed to make the point clear by the addition of a second sub-section.

Proposed new sections 131 and 132.—Sections 131 and 132 of the existing Act are obviously founded upon section 25, clause (6), of the Supreme Court of Judicature Act, 1873 (36 & 37 Vict., c. 66); but successive amendments of the Bill while under consideration seem to have led to the reversal of each rule of the English law

In the first place, the Indian section is negative in its terms, while the English section is positive. The result is that the former prescribes a compulsory form of transfer for the specific class of actionable claims to which it relates, whereas the latter merely provides that certain consequences shall follow if this form of transfer be adopted.

In the second place, the English section applies to all debts and other legal choses in action, but the Indian section applies only to debts and beneficial interests in moveable property. It is not clear what rule would apply in India to an actionable claim relating to both moveable and immoveable property; nor is there any specific provision as to actionable claims in respect of immoveable property. Further, it is not apparent why written notice to the debtor should not be required in the latter case. And, again, it is uncertain, on the construction of the section, whether the term "beneficial interest" is to cover a charge. The English section is confined to absolute assignments.

In the third place, the English enactment requires the transfer itself to be in writing; but the Indian Act is silent on the point, and, therefore, by virtue of section 9, the transfer need not be in writing.

In the fourth place, the English Act requires express notice in writing to be given to the debtor. The Indian Act provides for three alternatives—express notice, the fact that the debtor is aware of the transfer, or the fact that he is a party to the transfer. The Indian Act then curiously goes on to provide that, where express notice is given, it must be given by the transferor; whereas in practice, of course, notice is given by the transferee in order to complete his title. As to the last point, see Ragho v. Narayan (1895), I. L. R., 21 Bom., at p. 62.

It is thought best to legislate on the lines of the English Act so as to restore uniformity in the law of the two countries in so far as the same subject-matter is dealt with, and these new sections have been drafted with that object.

Proposed new section 133.—It is difficult to understand section 133 in its present form. The intention apparently was to adapt the English provision above referred to, which is to the effect that, on notice to the transferee, the transfer is effective "to pass and transfer the legal right to such debt or chose in action from the date of such notice, and all legal and other remedies for the same, and the power to give a good discharge for the same without the concurrence of the assignor". The reference to international law seems out of place in its present context, as municipal law is always construed subject to the provisions of international law, and the latter, if it is to be dealt with at all, should be dealt with separately, as in Chapter XVI of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 (XXVI of 1881). The provision as now drafted will perhaps sufficiently reproduce the English law on the point, while avoiding any reference to the distinction between legal and equitable remedies.

Proposed new section 134.—The provisions of section 137 of the existing Act have been made general so as to apply to all actionable claims. The phrase "subject to all the liabilities" appears to have been adopted as the equivalent of the English phrase "subject to all equities entitled to priority over the right of the assignee", and, as it may be thought desirable to avoid the technical term "equities", the words "all the liabilities, defences and priorities" have now been used instead.

Proposed new section 136.—Section 138 of the present Act is here reproduced unaltered. It is of doubtful accuracy, but does not seem to have given rise to any difficulty.

Proposed new section 137.—This reproduces the only unrepealed section of the Policies of Insurance (Marine and Fire) Assignment Act, 1866 (V of 1866). Inasmuch as the provisions of that enactment constitute an exception to the rule laid down in section 131, they ought to find a place in this Chapter. The original section provided for the transfer of marine and fire policies "by endorsement or otherwise", which probably means "by endorsement or other like means", i.e., "by endorsement or other writing".

Proposed new section 138.—The present section 139 simply excepts negotiable instruments from the provisions of the Chapter. If the restrictions on the sale of actionable claims be confined to controverted claims, the only provisions that need be excepted are those of the proposed new sections 130 to 137. But, as regards those new sections, the exceptions contained in the present section 139 require considerable extension. In section 13 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, the definition of "negotiable instrument" includes only bills, notes and cheques, and does not include the ever increasing class of negotiable instruments which the usage of the money market recognizes as such—see Chalmers on Bills of Exchange, Ed. 5, pp. 312-327. So, again, a saving is required for mercantile documents of title to goods, such as bills of lading, etc., which form a class of quasi-negotiable instruments. The definition embodied in the Explanation is taken from the English Factors Act, 1889, and is adopted also in the English Sale of Goods Act, 1893.

Proposed new sections 139 and 140.—These provisions, which correspond with sections 135 and 136 of the present Act and owe their origin to the French and Canadian Codes, have given rise to much difficulty. It is, indeed, almost impossible to give effect to them without construing the expression "actionable claim" in a restricted sense. For example, where a business is transferred or converted into a company, the book-debts are sold in a lump, and, as these must consist of good, bad and doubtful debts, a lump sum has to be fixed, and it is impossible to say what has been paid in respect of each. It has been suggested that the provision should be confined—

(1) to actionable claims, where the cause of action has matured (which would cover the case of all book-debts), or

(2) to disputed actionable claims.

The latter seems to be the right suggestion, and it has been adopted in the Bill. The object is to prevent trafficking in actual or impending litigation, and probably the words "which is in controversy" will meet the object as far as it can be met.

If the restriction be confined to the sale of actionable claims which are in controversy, there appears to be no reason why their transfer to a creditor should be allowed. Possibly the assignee of a bankrupt might be allowed to sell such a claim, but the policy of this is very doubtful. It is for consideration whether clause (b) of the present section 135 should not be omitted. The latter words of clause (d) of that section are not easily understood; for how can it be said that a claim has been made clear by evidence when judgment on it has not been given? This is a question which only the Court about to give judgment could answer, and these words should perhaps also be omitted.

In reproducing the present section 136, the words "legal practitioner" have been substituted for the words "pleader, mukhtar". The provision ought clearly to apply to all legal practitioners alike.

Clause 3 of Bill.

This repealing clause is consequential on the reproduction in the proposed new section 137, as explained above, of so much of Act V of 1866 as is extant in the Statute-book.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 8th, 1899.

The depression which had been lying over the western districts of the North Western Provinces during the greater part of the previous week had filled up by Sunday morning. Pressure was very uniform over the greater part of Bengal and Orissa on Sunday; and on Monday weather conditions were suspicious over the north-west angle of the Bay where winds were cyclonic and blowing strongly at False Point. On Tuesday morning a shallow depression was shown over this area. It was a depression of very small intensity, and winds, though cyclonic in direction, were light in strength. The depression continued practically unchanged in character and position on Wednesday and Thursday. On Friday it had disappeared, and a shallow depression was shown lying over Central, West and South-West Bengal and the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces. This depression moved in a west-north-westerly direction during the next twenty-four hours, and on Saturday morning was central over the eastern states of Central India.

At the commencement of the week pressure was in considerable to large defect in the Punjab, the North-Western Provinces, Bengal and Burma, the deficiency being most marked in the Punjab and Burma. As the week advanced, and accompanying the formation of the depression at the head of the Bay, the deficiency of pressure increased over Lower Bengal and the Arakan Coast, and on Thursday amounted to two-tenths of an inch at Chittagong.

The rainfall of the week has been largely dependent on the formation and movement of the depressions in Northern India. Rainfall decreased in parts of Bengal on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; and in the North-Western Provinces on Wednesday was restricted almost entirely to light showers, but good general rain has been received throughout the greater part of the week over Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, eastern states of Central India, eastern districts of the Central Provinces and the eastern hill districts of Upper India. Rain has fallen daily but in smaller amounts than usual on the west coast. East Rajputana had general rain on Thursday and Friday and the Punjab on Thursday.

Temperature has been higher than in the previous week and was in excess of the normal throughout the week in the Peninsula; with the exception of the Central Provinces, where it fell below the normal on Friday and Saturday.

Winds have been irregular in direction in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and fairly normal on the Burma and west coasts.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, July 2nd.—The barometer was steady in the area of the depression shown in the North-Western Provinces on Saturday, the 7th July, and had fallen elsewhere The depression had practically filled up. Temperature had risen in Northern India and was in moderate to considerable excess in Chota Nagpur, the Punjab, Central Provinces, Berar, Bombay Deccan, Mysore, Madras Coast, and Madras Deccan. Rain had been general and in some places heavy in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern states of Central India and the west coast; and showers had been received in the Central Provinces and the East Peninsula.

Monday, July 3rd.—Pressure had fallen over the whole Indian region and was in large defect in Upper India and Burma and also in Bihar and the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces. Conditions were suspicious over the north-west angle of the Bay where the winds were cyclonic and strong at False Point. Temperatures were in large excess in the Punjab and in moderate to considerable excess in Berar, Rajputana and on the west coast. Rain had been general over Burma, parts of Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the west coast, the eastern states of Central India and the eastern districts of the Central Provinces; and showers had been received in the eastern hill districts of Upper India.

Tuesday, July 4th.—The barometer had risen briskly to rapidly in the Punjab and North-Western Provinces, had fallen slightly in Burma and was steady elsewhere. A shallow depression had formed over the north-west angle of the Bay. Mean temperatures were in general excess over the greater part of India, the excess being most marked in Berar, the Punjab and Rajputana. They were in defect in the North-Western Provinces and Central India. Rain had been general in Burma, the greater part of Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern hill districts of Upper India, the west coast and eastern states of Central India. Showers had fallen in the Central Provinces, the Submontane Punjab and the Madras Coast districts.

Wednesday, July 5th.—Pressure had fallen in Upper Burma, Bengal and the Punjab and had risen in North Bombay and Lower Burma. The depression in the Bay was unchanged in position and was still a very shallow disturbance. Temperature was normal or in excess everywhere, with the exception of the North-Western Provinces, where it was in moderate defect General rain had been received in Burma, South and South-West Bengal, the hill districts of Upper India and on the Malabar Coast; and showers had been received in Assam, North Bengal and the eastern districts of the Central Provinces.

Thursday, July 6th.—The changes in pressure had been small in amount, except in Burma and the North and West Punjab, where the barometer had risen briskly. The shallow depression at the head of the Bay had not changed in character or position. Mean temperatures were in defect in Burma, Orissa, the greater part of the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab, and in excess elsewhere. Rainfall had been general over Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, Punjab, Upper India hill districts, the eastern states of Central India, the eastern districts of the Central Provinces and Rajputana, and the Malabar Coast.

Friday, July 7th.—Pressure had risen briskly to rapidly in Burma and East and North Bengal, and a low pressure area was shown lying over Central,

West and South-West Bengal and the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces. The depression at the head of the Bay had disappeared. Temperature had fallen nearly everywhere and was in general defect in Northern India and in general excess in the Peninsula. Moderately heavy general rain had fallen in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and light to moderate rain in Burma, the eastern hill districts of Upper India, the central districts and on the west coast; and showers in the Deccan.

Saturday, July 8th.—Pressure had fallen in the North-Western Provinces, Central India and Rajputana. The depression had moved in a west-north-westerly direction and was central over the eastern states of Central India. Mean temperatures were in general defect over the greater part of Northern India and the Central Provinces, and in excess over the remainder of the Peninsula. General rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western and Central Provinces, Central India, the West Peninsula and the Upper India hill districts.

Temperature has been unusually high this week over nearly the whole of India. The North-Western Provinces and Central India were the only parts of the country where mean temperatures were either normal or in defect throughout the week. Temperatures were normal or in excess on the 2nd in all provinces, except the North-Western Provinces, where they were in slight defect, and the average mean temperature for the whole of India was 1·8° in excess of the normal. Temperature then decreased up to the 4th, after which it rose again, reaching a second maximum on the 6th. It fell again briskly, and on the 7th and 8th was normal. The mean temperature for the whole week was normal in Assam, Orissa, Bihar, Chota Nagpur, the Punjab and the Central Provinces, in moderate to considerable excess in Berar, the west coast, Mysore, the Madras Coast and South India, in slight excess in Burma, Bengal, Sind, Rajputana, Gujarat and the Bombay and Madras Deccan. It was in moderate defect in the North-Western Provinces and in slight defect in Central India. The largest variations from the normal occurred in the Punjab on the 3rd (+6·3°), Berar on the 5th (+5·8°) and 6th (+5·4°) and the North-Western Provinces on the 4th (—4·9°).

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

Rain.—Rain has fallen on every day of the week in all the rainfall divisions of Burma, Bengal, Assam, North-Western Provinces and Bombay and Malabar Coast districts, with the exception of South Bihar, the North-Western Provinces Hills, South-Central Madras, Khandesh and Hyderabad (North). There has also been daily rainfall in the central and east divisions of the Central Provinces and the east division of Central India. The rain on the west coast has, however, been unusually light for the time of the year, and the amounts received during the week in all the divisions of the Bombay and Malabar Coast districts were below the normal. In Burma and North-Eastern India rainfall has been in defect in the following divisions: Central and Upper Burma, Arakan, the Brahmaputra Valley, Assam and Bengal Hills and Eastern Bengal. In the Punjab it has been below the normal in the south-east, south and west divisions. In the east division of the Central Provinces rainfall has been slightly above the normal, but in all other divisions of the Central Provinces and Berar and in the whole of the provinces of North Bombay, Rajputana, Central India and Madras it has been in defect.

Rainfall during the week has thus been largely deflected to Tenasserim and Lower Burma and to Bengal and the North-Western Provinces.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period 4th June to 8th July was either normal or in slight to large excess over the whole of Bengal, Assam, the North-Western Provinces, Punjab, Central India and East Rajputana. It was normal or in slight to large defect in Burma, the Bombay and Malabar Coast districts, the Central Provinces, Berar, Bombay (North), West Rajputana and Madras Omitting Sind and the Baluchistan Hills, where rainfall is practically nil, the principal variations from the normal (expressed as a percentage of the normal rainfall) occurred in the North-Western Provinces (West) +222 per cent., (East) +179 per cent., (Central) +174 per cent, West Rajputana —79 per cent., Madras Central —70 per cent. and East Coast (Central) —70 per cent.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week. The amounts are considerably smaller than they were during the previous week.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 8th July.—The rainfall was good on the West Coast and in parts of the Circars and scanty or nil over the remainder of the Presidency. In the Deccan districts rain is urgently required. Ploughing continues, but early sowings are retarded, except where there has been rain. The standing crop is good on the West Coast and in the greater part of the Circars; but elsewhere it wants rain. Pasture is scanty in most districts, but fodder is sufficient. Cattle are in normal condition. Prices have again risen sharply in the Deccan, and generally slightly elsewhere.

Bombay.—For week ending 12th July.—There was rain in all districts of the Presidency Proper during the week, but it was generally light and insufficient. More rain is urgently wanted throughout the Presidency. Sowing is retarded in Sholapur, Bijapur, and in parts of Nasik, Poona, Ahmednagar, Belgaum, and Dharwar, and continues elsewhere. Rice transplantation is progressing in Konkan and Sind; but is retarded in parts of Surat, Thana, and Kanara. The standing crops are withering in three talukas of Bijapur; in two of Sholapur; and in Poona and parts of Ahmedabad; and have been damaged by insects in parts of Kaira and the Panch Mahals. The water-supply is deficient in parts of Sind. Fodder is sufficient, except in parts of Sind and Baroda territory. Agricultural stock is healthy. Prices have risen in twelve and fallen in two districts; elsewhere they are stationary.

Bengal.—For week ending 10th July.—The rainfall during the week has been general and heavy. Cultivation of winter rice is in active progress, but a cessation of rain is now generally required. Owing to excessive rain the young crops in the ground are reported to be suffering in several places and weeding is retarded. In Dacca and Jessore insects are still damaging the rice and jute plants. There is an ample supply of fodder in every district. Prices are practically stationary; the variations reported being very slight and confined to a few districts.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 12th July.—Heavy rain continued during the week and a break is now needed. Agricultural operations are somewhat retarded owing to excessive rain and injury has been caused to crops on lowlying lands. Sugarcane is doing well and rice is being transplanted in places. Locusts are reported from two districts, but no damage has been done. Supplies and fodder are sufficient. Prices are rising slightly or are stationary.

Punjab.—For week ending 12th July.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Peshawar. Harvesting of extra spring crops is nearly over; ploughings and sowings of the autumn crops are generally in fair condition and promising. The recent rain has greatly benefited the standing crops. The crops in parts of Peshawar have suffered owing to insufficient supply of water from the Bara stream. Cattle are in good condition in all districts, except Hissar and Dera Ismail Khan; in the latter district cattle are dying of starvation, but prospects are improving in Hissar where grass is now obtainable. Fodder is insufficient in Hissar, Delhi, Dera Ismail Khan, and in parts of Lahore and Peshawar; but is sufficient elsewhere. Prices—especially of wheat—are rising in Amritsar and Peshawar; falling in Jullundur and Dera Ismail Khan; and are unchanged elsewhere. Wheat is selling from 17 to 22; barley 29 to 31; gram 19 to 22½; maize 26½ to 30; great millet 19; bulrush-millet 17 to 23; and rice 13 to 14 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 11th July.—There has been fairly general rain over the Provinces—Saugor, Seoni, Betul, Hoshangabad, and Balaghat received good showers; in the other districts the falls were moderate, but in Wardha and Bhandara the week's fall was less than an inch and the rainfall up to date is in serious defect, about a quarter of the normal. Rain in these districts is urgently needed. Sowings are in progress everywhere, but have been retarded in Jubbulpore, Chanda, and Balaghat for want of sufficient rain. More rain is needed for general sowings as well as for the young cotton and early sown rice crops, while a break is needed in Saugor for completion of autumn sowings. Germination is generally reported good, except in Bhandara and Chanda, where the young seedlings are suffering for want of moisture Towards the Lowar pargana in the Raipur district locusts have damaged the young plants. In Saugor, Damoh, and Hoshangabad—4,185, 2,551, and 991 persons, respectively, are in receipt of village relief; and in the last district 113 persons have been given gratuitous relief The supply of fodder is insufficient in Nimar and the Nagpûr country. The price of wheat, gram, rice, and juar has risen in some districts and has fallen in others. The cheapest prices are—wheat 19, gram 30, rice 22, and juar 27 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 12½, gram 16, rice 9, and juar 10 seers per rupee.

Burma.—For week ending 8th July.—In Lower Burma ploughing and sowing continue Progress is slow in Prome owing to want of rain. In Upper Burma reaping of early wet weather paddy has commenced in the Singain township of Kyaukse and continues in the Patherngyi township of Mandalay. Ploughing for and sowing of the wet weather paddy crop, cotton, jowar, maize and other dry crops are progressing, except in parts of Myingyan. Transplanting of paddy has commenced in the Ruby Mines district; continues in the Pyinmana sub-division and in parts of the Yamethin sub-division of the Yamethin district and in Shwebo; and is completed in the Northern Shan States. The standing crops are reported healthy in Thayetmyo, Magwe, Bhamo, Myitkyina, Katha, and in the Palè sub-division of the Lower Chindwin. Want of rain is felt in parts of Yamethin, the Thabeitkyin township of the Ruby Mines district and the Budalin sub-division of the Lower Chindwin. Rain is also wanted for the early sesamum crop in parts of Pakôkku, Minbu, Sagaing, and for cotton in the Mahlaing township of Meiktila. The standing crops in all but two townships of Myingyan are withering or have withered for want of rain. Prospects of early paddy in Mandalay are poor; excessive rain has damaged early sesamum in the Pyinmana township of Yamethin. Want of canal water is injuring matured and nursery paddy plants in Kyaukse. Price of paddy has risen slightly in Rangoon, Pegu, Henzada, Amherst, and Mandalay; and has fallen in Shwebo and Yamethin.

Assam.—For week ending 11th July.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for late rice, planting of sugarcane and sowing of late rice seedlings are in progress. Early rice has been damaged by floods in places. Prospects of tea are generally good. Prices—common rice—Silchar 16; Sylhet 24½; Dhubri 14; Gauhati 17; Tezpur, Nowgong, and Dibrugarh 13; and Sibsagar 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 11th July.—MYSORE: Rainfall—11 cents in the Civil and Military station. Rain general and good in parts of the Kadur district. Prices have slightly risen in six districts. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of Kolar, Tumkur, Kadur, and Shimoga.

COORG: Rainfall—6 inches 73 cents Sowing of rice continues. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 12th July.—BERAR: The weather is cloudy with high winds. Cotton plants require more rain. Preparation of land is in progress. Sowing of jowar is retarded in two districts for want of rain. Insufficiency of fodder still prevails in one district. The water-supply continues to be scarce in places. Prices have slightly risen in Akola and are stationary elsewhere.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—56 cents. Prospects have improved in the Warangal division and in parts of the Bidar division, but a break in the rains in the Gulburga division causes some anxiety for the crop already sown. Prices of grain have slightly risen in Raichur, Lingsagar, and Naldrug districts; elsewhere they are almost stationary. Prices—wheat 9¾, coarse rice 10, and jowari 23½ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 12th July—The rainfall was general throughout Central India during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress Prices are below normal in Bundelkhand and normal elsewhere

Rajputana.—For week ending 12th July.—Rainfall—Kotah 8·49; Jeypore 5 35; Bhurtpore 4·59; Kerowli 2·05; Jhallawar 1·60; Kishengarh 1·11; Meywar 1·02; Sirohi 0·46; Abu 0·42; and Pertabgarh 0·14. Average in Dholepore 3·47; Alwar 2·79; Haraoti 2·35; Ajmere 1·51; and Bikanir 0·77. No rain at the capital of Marwar but there was satisfactory rain in some outlying parganah of the Marwar State. No rain in Jeysulmere. Agricultural operations are proceeding satisfactorily. Ploughing and sowing continues. Locusts are damaging young maize in two parganas of Kherwara. No change in condition of

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 8th July.—The rainfall was good on the West Coast and in parts of the Circars and scanty or nil over the remainder of the Presidency. In the Deccan districts rain is urgently required. Ploughing continues, but early sowings are retarded, except where there has been rain. The standing crop is good on the West Coast and in the greater part of the Circars; but elsewhere it wants rain. Pasture is scanty in most districts, but fodder is sufficient. Cattle are in normal condition. Prices have again risen sharply in the Deccan, and generally slightly elsewhere.

Bombay.—For week ending 12th July.—There was rain in all districts of the Presidency Proper during the week, but it was generally light and insufficient. More rain is urgently wanted throughout the Presidency. Sowing is retarded in Sholapur, Bijapur, and in parts of Nasik, Poona, Ahmednagar, Belgaum, and Dharwar, and continues elsewhere. Rice transplantation is progressing in Konkan and Sind; but is retarded in parts of Surat, Thana, and Kanara. The standing crops are withering in three talukas of Bijapur; in two of Sholapur; and in Poona and parts of Ahmedabad; and have been damaged by insects in parts of Kaira and the Panch Mahals. The water-supply is deficient in parts of Sind. Fodder is sufficient, except in parts of Sind and Baroda territory. Agricultural stock is healthy. Prices have risen in twelve and fallen in two districts; elsewhere they are stationary.

Bengal.—For week ending 10th July.—The rainfall during the week has been general and heavy. Cultivation of winter rice is in active progress, but a cessation of rain is now generally required. Owing to excessive rain the young crops in the ground are reported to be suffering in several places and weeding is retarded. In Dacca and Jessore insects are still damaging the rice and jute plants. There is an ample supply of fodder in every district. Prices are practically stationary; the variations reported being very slight and confined to a few districts.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 12th July.—Heavy rain continued during the week and a break is now needed. Agricultural operations are somewhat retarded owing to excessive rain and injury has been caused to crops on lowlying lands. Sugarcane is doing well and rice is being transplanted in places. Locusts are reported from two districts, but no damage has been done. Supplies and fodder are sufficient. Prices are rising slightly or are stationary.

Punjab.—For week ending 12th July.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Peshawar. Harvesting of extra spring crops is nearly over; ploughings and sowings of the autumn crops are generally in fair condition and promising. The recent rain has greatly benefited the standing crops. The crops in parts of Peshawar have suffered owing to insufficient supply of water from the Bara stream. Cattle are in good condition in all districts, except Hissar and Dera Ismail Khan; in the latter district cattle are dying of starvation, but prospects are improving in Hissar where grass is now obtainable. Fodder is insufficient in Hissar, Delhi, Dera Ismail Khan, and in parts of Lahore and Peshawar; but is sufficient elsewhere. Prices—especially of wheat—are rising in Amritsar and Peshawar; falling in Jullundur and Dera Ismail Khan; and are unchanged elsewhere. Wheat is selling from 17 to 22; barley 29 to 31; gram 19 to 22½; maize 26½ to 30; great millet 19; bulrush-millet 17 to 23; and rice 13 to 14 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 11th July.—There has been fairly general rain over the Provinces—Saugor, Seoni, Betul, Hoshangabad, and Balaghat received good showers; in the other districts the falls were moderate, but in Wardha and Bhandara the week's fall was less than an inch and the rainfall up to date is in serious defect, about a quarter of the normal. Rain in these districts is urgently needed. Sowings are in progress everywhere, but have been retarded in Jubbulpore, Chanda, and Balaghat for want of sufficient rain. More rain is needed for general sowings as well as for the young cotton and early sown rice crops, while a break is needed in Saugor for completion of autumn sowings. Germination is generally reported good, except in Bhandara and Chanda, where the young seedlings are suffering for want of moisture Towards the Lowar pargana in the Raipur district locusts have damaged the young plants. In Saugor, Damoh, and Hoshangabad—4,185, 2,551, and 991 persons, respectively, are in receipt of village relief; and in the last district 113 persons have been given gratuitous relief The supply of fodder is insufficient in Nimar and the Nagpur country. The price of wheat, gram, rice, and juar has risen in some districts and has fallen in others. The cheapest prices are—wheat 19, gram 30, rice 22, and juar 27 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 12½, gram 16, rice 9, and juar 10 seers per rupee.

Burma.—For week ending 8th July.—In Lower Burma ploughing and sowing continue Progress is slow in Prome owing to want of rain. In Upper Burma reaping of early wet weather paddy has commenced in the Singain township of Kyaukse and continues in the Patherngyi township of Mandalay. Ploughing for and sowing of the wet weather paddy crop, cotton, jowar, maize and other dry crops are progressing, except in parts of Myingyan. Transplanting of paddy has commenced in the Ruby Mines district; continues in the Pyinmana sub-division and in parts of the Yamethin sub-division of the Yamethin district and in Shwebo; and is completed in the Northern Shan States. The standing crops are reported healthy in Thayetmyo, Magwe, Bhamo, Myitkyina, Katha, and in the Palè sub-division of the Lower Chindwin. Want of rain is felt in parts of Yamethin, the Thabeitkyin township of the Ruby Mines district and the Budalin sub-division of the Lower Chindwin. Rain is also wanted for the early sesamum crop in parts of Pakôkku, Minbu, Sagaing, and for cotton in the Mahlaing township of Meiktila. The standing crops in all but two townships of Myingyan are withering or have withered for want of rain. Prospects of early paddy in Mandalay are poor; excessive rain has damaged early sesamum in the Pyinmana township of Yamethin. Want of canal water is injuring matured and nursery paddy plants in Kyaukse. Price of paddy has risen slightly in Rangoon, Pegu, Henzada, Amherst, and Mandalay; and has fallen in Shwebo and Yamethin.

Assam.—For week ending 11th July.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for late rice, planting of sugarcane and sowing of late rice seedlings are in progress. Early rice has been damaged by floods in places. Prospects of tea are generally good. Prices—common rice—Silchar 16; Sylhet 24½; Dhubri 14; Gauhati 17; Tezpur, Nowgong, and Dibrugarh 13; and Sibsagar 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 11th July.—MYSORE: Rainfall—11 cents in the Civil and Military station. Rain general and good in parts of the Kadur district. Prices have slightly risen in six districts. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of Kolar, Tumkur, Kadur, and Shimoga.

COORG: Rainfall—6 inches 73 cents. Sowing of rice continues. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 12th July.—BERAR: The weather is cloudy with high winds. Cotton plants require more rain. Preparation of land is in progress. Sowing of jowar is retarded in two districts for want of rain. Insufficiency of fodder still prevails in one district. The water-supply continues to be scarce in places. Prices have slightly risen in Akola and are stationary elsewhere.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—56 cents. Prospects have improved in the Warangal division and in parts of the Bidar division, but a break in the rains in the Gulburga division causes some anxiety for the crop already sown. Prices of grain have slightly risen in Raichur, Lingsagar, and Naldrug districts; elsewhere they are almost stationary. Prices—wheat 9¾, coarse rice 10, and jowari 23½ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 12th July.—The rainfall was general throughout Central India during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress. Prices are below normal in Bundelkhand and normal elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 12th July.—Rainfall—Kotah 8·49; Jeypore 5·35; Bhurtpore 4·59; Kerowli 2·05; Jhallawar 1·60; Kishengarh 1·11; Meywar 1·02; Sirohi 0·46; Abu 0·42; and Pertabgarh 0·14. Average in Dholepore 3·47; Alwar 2·79; Haraoti 2·35; Ajmere 1·51; and Bikanir 0·77. No rain at the capital of Marwar but there was satisfactory rain in some outlying parganah of the Marwar State. No rain in Jeysulmere. Agricultural operations are proceeding satisfactorily. Ploughing and sowing continues. Locusts are damaging young maize in two parganas of Kherwara. No change in condition of cattle and fodder. Prices are rising in Haraoti and Bhurtpore; slightly rising in Jhallawar and Kotah; falling in Pertabgarh; and are steady elsewhere. Nine persons emigrated from Ajmere district during the week. The total emigration to date numbers—4,467. The numbers employed on relief works were—Ajmere 425, Merwara 7,674, Marwar 307. There are 114 on ordinary works and 259 on gratuitous relief in Ajmere-Merwara. Prices—Ajmere 18, Beawar 18, and Marwar 15 seers per rupee.

Kashmir.—For week ending 11th July.—The weather is fine. The prospects of the crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 12th July.—There was heavy rain during the week. The condition of the standing crops is good. Sowings of autumn crops are in progress. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are generally stationary. Prices—wheat 17 to 23; maize 26 to 32 seers per rupee.

Nepal.—For week ending 8th July.—Rainfall—4·15 inches. The weather is seasonable. Upland crops are doing well. Lowland rice is still being transplanted. Rice—8½ seers per rupee.

No. 3—89-2.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Department of Revenue and Agriculture (Land-Surveys),—dated Simla, the 8th July, 1899.

The General Report on the Operations of the Survey of India Department during the year 1897-98.

RESOLUTION.

The field operations of the Survey of India Department during the year ending 30th September 1898 were carried on by two double and seventeen ordinary parties.

The various classes of work on which these parties were engaged were as follows:

	Number of parties employed	Number of detachments employed
1. Trigonometrical	1	1
2. Topographical	7	...
3. Forest (excluding the Forest Survey Branch) ...	3 (1 double)	...
4. Cadastral	3	...
5. Traverse	2 (1 double)	.
6. Scientific	3	...
TOTAL ...	19 (2 double)	1

Thus 6 single and 2 double parties were employed on traverse, cadastral and forest surveys, as compared with ten whole parties and two detachments so employed in 1896-97.

2. The total area surveyed on all scales during the year, excluding reconnaissance surveys, was 26,223 miles against 26,269 in the previous year.]

3. The party employed on trigonometrical operations undertook the work of continuing the Makran Longitudinal series westwards. It was however attacked, 17 lives were lost, much personal and public property was plundered, and work was brought to an abrupt conclusion.

4. Topographical operations were carried on in the Shan States of Upper Burma, Sindh, Lushai Hills and the Himalayas. To meet the requirements of the Irrigation Department a survey of certain lands in Kalat was undertaken pari passu with the work in Sindh, the area topographically surveyed amounting to 1,477 square miles. The topographical survey of the Lushai Hills was begun during the season and in addition to the triangulation of 1,300 square miles, a secondary series of triangles was started from one of the sides of the eastern frontier series. The topography of Mandi, Suket and the Simla Hill States was also continued. The total area topographically surveyed during the year amounted to 15,109 square miles against 14,460 square miles in the year 1896-97.

5. Forest surveys were conducted by the Imperial parties in Madras, Bombay, Burma and the Himalayas. In the Madras Presidency two full parties were employed, but, owing to unforeseen difficulties, the expected increase in the area of detail survey completed was not realised. In the Bombay Presidency an area of 677 square miles was surveyed on three different scales; while the outturn in Lower Burma consisted of 406 square miles on the 4-inch scale in the Pegu and Shwegyin Divisions and 118 square miles on the 2-inch scale on the Yenwe river. The Himalaya party completed 146 square miles in Sirmur, Kulu and Kangra.

The Forest Survey Branch continued its operations in Oudh, Punjab, Burma and the Central Provinces. The outturn of work of the Imperial parties and the Forest Survey Branch for the past two years is given below:

	1896-97.	1897-98.
	Sqr. miles.	Sqr. miles.
(1) Imperial parties	3,260	2,397
(2) Forest Survey Branch	1,563	1,737
	4,823	4,134

The decrease in area surveyed by the Imperial parties was due to the conversion of No. 14 party, hitherto employed on forest surveys, into a topographical party.

The cost rate of the 4-inch work in Bombay has been reduced, but that of the 8-inch survey was higher than in the previous year, owing to the difficult nature of the country in Nasik and Kolaba and to casualties amongst the trained men and experienced surveyors from plague. The cost rate of the detailed survey as far as executed by the Survey of India Department in Burma continued to be high owing to the entertainment of a large number of new men, inexperienced in forest surveys. The early commencement of the monsoon and excessive sickness also affected the cost rate.

6. Cadastral operations (Imperial) were carried on by one party in Bengal, two parties in Burma and by local agency in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh under the Superintendent of Land Records Survey. The programme of surveys in Bengal consisted of operations in the Saran, Darbhanga and Noakhali districts and the re-demarcation of the boundary between Nepal and the districts of Purnea and Bhagalpur. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh record writing in Meerut and Lalitpur was completed, whilst in Shajehanpur and Bahraich the surveys and writing of records were both finished. Survey and record operations were begun in Bijnor, Bareilly, Kheri and Gonda. In Burma the survey of the Minbu District and the traversing of the Toungoo District were completed, whilst the survey of the Lower Chindwin was begun. A special survey of the Rangoon Sadar Bazar was also undertaken at the request of the Cantonment authorities. The total area cadastrally surveyed in the three provinces was 6,976 square miles against 7,190 square miles in the previous year.

7. One double party was engaged on traverse operations in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and one single party in Assam. The total area traversed was 5,128 square miles compared with 6,135 square miles in the preceding year.

8. The system of determining latitudes by observing at groups of stations close together instead of at a single station was given a trial during the year, and although the experiment was not entirely successful, interesting results were obtained.

9. Tidal observations with the self-registering tide-gauges were made at 13 stations in India, Burma, the Persian Gulf, the Andaman Islands and the Red Sea. Personal tidal observations to graduated staves were also taken at six stations to compare the actual times and heights of high and low water with those predicted in the Tide Tables.

A detachment of the Tidal and Levelling party undertook the revision of the principal triangulations in the Khasi and Garo Hills with a view to ascertain what displacement vertically or horizontally had taken place during the earthquake of June 1897. The result shows that the stations observed lay within the area affected by the earthquake, and that all of them have suffered more or less within a range of a few feet, the general apparent effect being that the area has been both widened and raised.

Considerable assistance was also afforded to the English Astronomers in the observation of the total eclipse of the sun which occurred on January 22nd, 1898.

10. In Upper Burma an area of 1,752 square miles of new country was geographically surveyed. The aggregate area geographically surveyed on the Eastern and Western Frontiers amounted to 9,976 square miles.

11. The work done in the various head-quarters offices was satisfactory. The Drawing Section continued to make progress in the completion of the maps of the North-Eastern and South-Eastern Frontiers. The third edition of the map of India on the 32-mile scale was completed, whilst a new canal map and a railway map on the same scale was published and a railway map showing railway and steamer stations was put in hand. The revision of district maps was continued, seventy-seven of the Atlas sheets were completed and brought up to date, and a large number of maps were executed in connection with the famine in Bengal and the Central Provinces as well as for the Military and other Departments. The total number of cadastral sheets published was 4,731.

12. In the Engraving Office considerable progress was made in the preparation of the quarter sheets of the Atlas of India, 16 maps for administration reports were published, and 21 District maps and various other maps, charts and plans were in hand in different stages of progress. The provincial map on the 16-mile scale of Gujarat was issued, whilst those of Bengal, Bombay, Madras, Rajputana, Punjab, and Kashmir had new material added to them. The outturn of work in the Printing Section of this office was more than in the preceding year.

13. The total value of the work done by the Photographic and Lithographic offices was Rs. 1,92,927 against Rs. 2,13,518 in the previous year, the amount of work received for reproduction being somewhat less than usual. The principal item of extra-departmental work done was the illustration with 29 maps and diagrams of the plague reports issued by the Home Department. In the Heliogravure Section, in addition to regular work, some useful experiments were made in trichromatic photography and in electro-deposition for the correction of hand-engraved copper plates.

14. The total number of maps issued from the Map, Record and Issue Office was 156,523 and their value Rs. 1,17,942, a decrease of 50,807 in number and Rs. 39,985 in value on the figures of the previous year.

15. There was an increase of 8,373 in the number and Rs. 2,411 in the value of the instruments issued by the Mathematical Instrument Office. There was also an increase in the value, though a decrease in the number, of the instruments received and made serviceable by that office. Since the increased establishment for the repair of instruments was sanctioned, 416 levels and 107 theodolites have been converted and issued, and all indents for such instruments have been discontinued. The value of instruments indented for during 1898-99 was £4,823, a slight increase over the figure of the year immediately preceding, but considerably less than the figures of former years.

16. The Government of India have noticed with satisfaction that the Training School at Dehra has justified its institution. Seventeen pupils were under instruction, during the year, all of whom passed the examination at the end of the course. Six newly appointed Provincial Officers also went through a course of training and were all pronounced thoroughly fit for field work at its completion.

17. The Survey of India Department lost during the year the services of two distinguished officers by the retirement of Colonel J. E. Sandeman, I.S.C., Deputy Surveyor General in charge Revenue Branch, and Colonel Sir T. H. Holdich, K.C.I.E., C.B., R.E., and by the death of Major-General R. G. Woodthorpe, C.B , R E., the Government of India were deprived of another most valuable and distinguished officer. The Department remained throughout the year under the administration of Major-General C. Strahan, R.E., and the Government of India desire to acknowledge the energy and success with which he has maintained the efficiency of the Department, and the value of the work carried out in the various branches.

NORTHERN INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill further to amend the Northern India Canal and Drainage Act, 1873, be taken into consideration. He said:—" I explained, when I introduced this Bill at the last meeting of Council, that its object is merely to enable the Local Governments of the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab to determine what persons, or classes of persons, are to be deemed to be occupiers and to be liable for payment of the occupier's rate, that is, the charge which is made for canal water supplied for purposes of irrigation."

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN REGISTRATION (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill further to amend the Indian Registration Act 1877, be taken into consideration. He said:—" This also is a very simple Bill. Its object is to give power to Local Governments to provide, by rule, that the provision in section 21 of the Registration Act, in respect of specifying the survey-number in documents presented for registration, which relate to land, may be made obligatory in certain cases."

The motion was put and agreed to.

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND KIRK SESSIONS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the Incorporation of Kirk Sessions of the Church of Scotland in British India. He said:—" The proposal to incorporate the Kirk Sessions of the Church of Scotland in British India belongs to the Home Department, but my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Rivaz, has asked me to take charge of the Bill. I ought, perhaps, to explain that the Session of a Presbyterian church is the body of elders to whom the teaching and the oversight of the congregation are committed. The minister is in theory an elder, but he always acts as moderator or president of the Session, and the conduct of business is largely left to him and to those of the lay elders who fill the offices of Treasurer and Sessions Clerk. In Scotland the Kirk Sessions has never been incorporated, the reason, I take it, being this, that the endowment of the established Church there consists mainly of land; all questions relating to endowments and property of the Church usually have to be settled between the minister and the heritors, that is, the owners of land in the parish. Also in Scotland the Session is only one of the Church Courts. There are the superior authorities of the Presbytery and General Assembly, whose powers are defined and recognized by the law. In British India the circumstances of a congregation belonging to the Church of Scotland are totally different. The congregations here are nominally under the Presbytery of Edinburgh; but I need hardly say that they are widely separate, that they can have but little common organization, and that for almost all practical purposes they must be regarded as self-governing communities. Therefore, in meeting the request of the Church of Scotland that the Kirk Sessions here should be incorporated, we are only recognizing their self-governing character. I need not say anything at this stage of the particular provisions of the Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India and in the local official Gazettes in English.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN REGISTRATION OF SHIPS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved for leave to introduce a Bill to make better provision for the Registration of British Ships in British India. He said :—"Your Lordship is aware that there has been a good deal of correspondence between the Government of India and the Imperial Government in regard to the Merchant Shipping Act of 1894. According to the view taken by the authorities in England that Act was intended to be a code applying to the British Empire. One result of that view is that our legislative powers in regard to Merchant Shipping are in some points restricted, and that they must be exercised only within the limits prescribed for us by the Act. A general Merchant Shipping Act for British India, which was projected some years ago, has had to meet a good deal of criticism, and the difficulties are still too great to permit of the introduction of a general Act; but there are certain parts of the subject which we have power to deal with and which we ought to deal with. It is quite evident that such matters as the registering of British ships, or the measurement of native coasting ships, are matters which should be provided for by this Legislature. A Bill for the registration of ships has accordingly been prepared, the provisions of which, we think, are within the limits laid down for us. The Bill might have been regarded as belonging to the Finance and Commerce Department, but my Hon'ble friend Mr. Dawkins wishes that I should take charge of it."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the Fort St. George Gazette, the Bombay Government Gazette, the Calcutta Gazette and the Burma Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

CURRENCY CONVERSION (ARMY ANNUAL) BILL.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL SIR EDWIN COLLEN moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the conversion into British Indian currency of sums expressed in British currency in the Army Act. He said :—"The questions connected with this Bill have been discussed by the Government of India and Her Majesty's Government, and the subject has received much consideration. The Statement of Objects and Reasons is so full that a very short explanation will be needed from me. The British soldier receives his pay in India converted and calculated at the official rate of exchange of the year. It has been deemed reasonable, equitable and necessary that the sums which are mentioned in the Annual Army Act in the shape of recoveries to be made from the soldier should be translated, so to speak, into Indian money, and it has been decided that these recoveries of fines, etc., shall be made at the annual rate of exchange at which the soldier receives his pay. For this purpose, an annual Act will be passed. This Bill is only to provide for the unexpired portion of the present financial year up to the 31st March, 1900."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL SIR EDWIN COLLEN introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL SIR EDWIN COLLEN moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India and in the local official Gazettes in English.

The motion was put and agreed to.

TELEGRAPHIC PRESS MESSAGES BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill to provide for the protection of certain telegraphic press messages. He said:—"The question of affording proper protection to newspaper telegrams received from abroad has been under the consideration of the Government of India, from time to time, during the past 27 years; and a Bill to amend the law of copyright in India which was prepared in 1885 contained a provision which proposed to protect foreign press telegrams for a period of 24 hours after publication. That Bill was, however, dropped; as it was considered expedient not to initiate legislation on the whole subject of copyright in this country until the law of copyright had been dealt with comprehensively by Parliament. The amendment of the general law of copyright in India is still suspended for the reasons I have mentioned, but the question of protecting foreign press telegrams has again been recently brought forward, and the Government of India think that a good case has been made out for dealing with this particular matter without further delay. Legislation on the subject has been undertaken of late in several important British colonies, and the present Bill is, to some extent, framed on the model of the most recent of these enactments—the Ceylon 'Telegram Copyright Ordinance, 1898'. The period of protection now proposed is 36 hours."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Transfer of Property Act, 1882. He said:—"The Transfer of Property Act of 1882 was intended to provide a code of property law for those parts of British India to which it might be applied. In order to complete the somewhat ambitious plan on which the measure was drafted, the learned draftsman thought it necessary to insert a chapter—Chapter VIII—dealing with the difficult subject of actionable claims. The sections of that chapter are expressed in very wide and general terms, and I may say that their interpretation has given a good deal of trouble to the Judges. Some of them were so wide that they seemed to go beyond what the policy of the law requires and to make unnecessary differences between the law of England and the law of British India. The opinions of Local Governments and the authorities representing the legal profession have been taken in regard to the amendment of this chapter, and on the basis of the opinions and suggestions received, a re-draft of the whole chapter was prepared by my predecessor, Mr. Chalmers. That re-draft I now adopt, and I ask leave to introduce it as a Bill."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 28th July, 1899.

Secretary to the Government of India,

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 15th, 1899.

The depression lying over the eastern states of Central India at the close of the previous week had, by Sunday morning, moved in a north-westerly direction and was central over the western districts of the North-Western Provinces, but it had practically filled up by Monday morning. It had, however, given unusually heavy rain to Rajputana. On Sunday morning Kotah reported a fall of 7·29 inches and Jeypore 3·03 inches. Another depression of moderate intensity formed in South and Central Bengal on Thursday morning and continued unchanged in position and character during the next twenty-four hours. By Saturday morning it had moved in a north-westerly direction and was probably central to the west of Berhampore.

Both these depressions gave moderate to heavy rain to North-Eastern India during the week. With the exception of Sunday, when the first depression gave rain to the Central Provinces and Rajputana, rainfall has been more or less restricted during the week to Burma, North-Eastern India and the Upper India hill districts. Rainfall has thus been almost entirely confined to that given by the Bengal monsoon current, and the interior districts usually dependent on the Arabian Sea current have for nearly the whole week been rainless. These conditions have been due to the abnormal pressure distribution. Pressure has been in persistent defect in Burma and from Tuesday was in defect in Upper Sind, the Punjab, North-Western Provinces and Bengal, while it was in excess over the greater part of the Peninsula, especially in the west coast districts. The deficiency of pressure was generally greatest at the two extremities of the Indo-Gangetic Plain, i.e., in the Punjab and in Bengal and Assam. Gradients were hence much steeper than usual in North-Western India and over the Peninsula and gave rise to very strong winds on the Sind and Kathiawar Coasts and in the Deccan. As is usually the case during the prevalence of these abnormally strong winds, the plains of North-Western India and the interior districts of the Peninsula were practically rainless, and only light rain fell in the west coast districts.

Temperature has, as a direct result of the strong westerly winds blowing over the Peninsula, been in considerable to large excess in the east coast districts. In Northern India the changes of temperature were generally dependent on the distribution of rainfall. During the greater part of the week temperature has been above the normal in North-Western India and either normal or in defect in North-Eastern India.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, July 9th.—Pressure had risen briskly to rapidly over the Central Provinces and adjacent districts and fallen slightly to briskly in the western districts of the North-Western Provinces and Rajputana. The depression, which on Saturday, the 8th July, had been lying over the eastern states of Central India, had moved in a north-westerly direction and was central over the western districts of the North-Western Provinces. Mean temperatures were in considerable to large defect over the central districts and parts of the North-Western Provinces and in considerable excess over the western desert. Rain had been general in Burma, the greater part of Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the central districts, west coast and the eastern hill districts of Upper India. Rajputana had received unusually heavy rain.

Monday, July 10th.—The barometer had risen briskly to rapidly over the western districts of the North-Western Provinces and Central India, and the depression had practically filled up. Mean temperatures were considerably below the normal in Central India and largely below it in Rajputana. They continued above the normal on the Madras Coast, in the Madras Deccan and in Mysore. Rain had been general over Burma, the greater part of Bengal, North-Western Provinces, Upper India hills, West Peninsula, western districts of the Central Provinces and Rajputana.

Tuesday, July 11th.—The barometer had fallen briskly to rapidly in the Punjab and slightly to briskly in Bengal, and a tendency was shown to the establishment of low pressure areas in both the Punjab and Bengal. Temperature was above the normal generally in the Peninsula, North Bombay and the Punjab and in defect in the North-Western Provinces, Central India, Bihar and South Bengal. Rain had been general over Burma, Bengal and the west coast.

Wednesday, July 12th.—Pressure had changed by small amounts and its distribution was practically the same. It was in excess in the Peninsula and in defect in Northern India, the deficiency being greatest in the Punjab and in Bengal and Assam. Winds were unusually strong in North Bombay, Rajputana, Central India and the Deccan. Temperature was in considerable to large excess in the Punjab and in the Madras coast districts. Moderate rain had been received in Burma and North-Eastern India and light rain on the west coast.

Thursday, July 13th.—Pressure had fallen briskly in North-Western India and also in the South and Central Bengal where a depression of moderate intensity had been formed. Winds were very strong in the Deccan and Kathiawar. Temperature continued above the normal in the Punjab and on the Madras Coast and had fallen in North-Eastern India. Moderately heavy rain had fallen in Burma, North-Eastern India and the Simla hills and light rain in the west coast districts.

Friday, July 14th.—Pressure had increased slightly to briskly in the Punjab and North-Western Provinces and fallen in Lower Sind and on the Bombay and Kathiawar Coasts. The Bengal depression was practically unchanged in character and position. Winds had decreased slightly in the west coast districts and the Deccan. Temperature was below the normal in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, Bihar and the North-Western Provinces and was in moderate to considerable excess in the eastern half of the Peninsula. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Burma and North-Eastern India and heavy local rain in the Simla and Mussooree hills and adjacent districts of the North-Western Provinces.

Saturday, July 15th.—Pressure had risen over the whole country, rapidly to briskly in North-Western India, the Central Provinces and Bengal and slightly elsewhere. The Bengal depression had moved in a north-westerly direction and was slightly shallower than it had been the day before. Winds had decreased on the Bombay and Sind Coasts, but were still very strong in Kathiawar and the Deccan. Temperature was in considerable defect in Chota Nagpur, North-Western Provinces, Bihar and Orissa and was in general excess in the Peninsula. Light to moderate rain had been received in Burma and Bengal and light rain in the North-Western Provinces and the Upper India hills.

Temperature.—The largest changes in temperature have occurred in the central districts. Temperature was in large defect in Central India, the Central Provinces and Berar on Sunday and in Rajputana on Monday, due to rainfall at the commencement of the week, but it rose again rapidly. Temperature has been steadily below the normal in the North-Western Provinces and steadily in excess on the Madras Coast and in the Madras Deccan and South India.

The mean temperature of the whole week was in slight to moderate defect in Bihar, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces and Central India and in slight to considerable excess in the Punjab, Gujarat, Mysore, Madras Coast, Madras Deccan and South India. In all other provinces it was practically normal. The largest variations from the normal were Madras Coast +4·9°, Madras Deccan +3·3°, Mysore +2·5°, North-Western Provinces —2·4° and South India + 2·3°.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

Rain.—The rainfall of the week has been confined chiefly to Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the Upper India hill districts. General and at some places heavy rain was received at the commencement of the week in East Rajputana, the Central Provinces, and Central India; Kotah receiving the unusually large fall of 7·29 inches, Jeypore 3·03 inches, Sambhar 3·65 inches and Indore 2·68 inches, but on the filling up of the depression in the North-Western Provinces on Monday rainfall ceased in the central districts and in the western districts of the North-Western Provinces and was more or less restricted to Burma and North-Eastern India. During the course of formation of another depression in Bengal, Sambalpur received heavy rain on Friday amounting to 5·88 inches. Unusually light rain has continued in the west coast districts, and the greater part of the Peninsula has been practically rainless.

The rainfall of the week has been in defect in Assam, Orissa and the Bengal hills, but in Burma and the remaining divisions of Bengal it has either been normal or in excess. Rainfall has also been below the normal in most divisions of the North-Western Provinces and over the whole of the Punjab, with the exception of the hills and northern divisions. It was normal in the eastern division of the Central Provinces, but, with this single exception, it was below the normal over the whole of the Peninsula, North Bombay, Central Provinces, Central India and Rajputana.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period 4th June to 15th July was normal or in slight defect in Burma, normal or in slight to large excess in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces, in slight to moderate excess in the North Punjab and Punjab hills and normal or in slight defect in the remaining divisions of the Punjab. In the central districts rainfall was normal or in slight excess in the eastern division of the Central Provinces, Central India and East Rajputana. It was also practically normal in Malabar, Coorg and the Bombay Deccan, but in North Bombay and the remaining divisions of the central districts and of the Peninsula rainfall was in slight to large defect.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Lower Burma . . .	Sandoway	. 22·18	inches.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 15th July.—The rainfall was moderate on the West Coast and in the northern part of the Circars, but there was little or none elsewhere Except under the larger works and wells the water-supply is insufficient. Cultivation and sowing are greatly retarded by deficiency of rainfall. The standing crops are good on the West Coast, in parts of the Circars and where there is irrigation, but elsewhere they are suffering from want of rain. Small hot weather harvests are yielding fairly. Pasture is growing more scanty generally, but fodder is sufficient. A general rise of prices has continued and staple-grains are now above warning rate in Bellary. Rain is wanted urgently almost throughout the Presidency.

Bombay.—For week ending 19th July.—Some rain fell in all districts of the Presidency Proper during the week. The fall was moderate in parts of the Konkan, light elsewhere, and very little in East Deccan and the Karnatak. The total fall is insufficient and more rain is urgently required in all districts. Agricultural operations are progressing in parts where rain is sufficient. Sowing is retarded in eleven and transplanting in six districts. The young crops are withering in Bijapur and in parts of Sholapur, Poona, Khandesh, Ahmedabad, and Baroda territory; and have been damaged by caterpillars in parts of Broach and the Panch Mahals. Fodder is sufficient, except in parts of Sind and Baroda territory. Agricultural stock is generally healthy. Prices have risen in twelve districts and are stationary elsewhere.

Bengal.—For week ending 17th July.—There was general and heavy rain during the week and a break is now required. The autumn rice and jute crops in parts of South-West Bengal and the autumn crops in the Patna and Bhagalpur divisions are reported to have been damaged to some extent; and transplantation of winter rice is retarded in some parts. Damage to crops by insects is reported from parts of Nadia, Jessore, Dacca, and Tipperah. The fodder-supply is everywhere sufficient Prices continue practically stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 19th July.—Continuous rain, which has been heavy in parts, is interfering with agricultural operations, and a break would be beneficial. Sowings of the autumn crops are being actively pushed on and germination is reported to be generally good. Weeding is in progress where practicable. Markets are well supplied and fodder is sufficient. Prices have risen in a few districts, but are otherwise stationary to falling.

Punjab.—For week ending 19th July.—More or less rain has fallen in all districts, except Hissar, Mooltan, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan. Harvesting of the extra spring crops is nearly over; and ploughings and sowings of autumn crops are still in progress. The condition and prospects of the standing crop are reported good. Cattle are generally in good condition, except in Hissar and in parts of Dera Ismail Khan. Prices—especially of wheat—are generally unchanged; they are rising in Dera Ismail Khan and falling in Peshawar only; there is a little fluctuation in the prices of other food-grains in comparison with those ruling in the previous week. Wheat is selling from 17 to 21½, barley 28 to 31, gram 19 to 22, maize 24 to 30, great millet 18, bulrush-millet 15 to 23, and rice 13 to 14 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 18th July.—Over ten inches of rain has fallen in Sambalpur; and from two to five inches in Saugor, Jubbulpore, Narsinghpur, and Mandla; elsewhere the falls have been very light; and in Wardha and Raipur the week has been rainless. In Sambalpur, the Nurbadda Valley, and the Vindhyan districts the condition of the young crops is excellent and sowing and weeding continue; but in the cotton and juar country of Nagpur and Nimar and in all the rice districts, except Sambalpur, rain is urgently needed. Sowings have been retarded and young seedlings on light soil have begun to wither. In Saugor, Damoh, and Hoshangabad—4,382, 2,524, and 1,187 persons are in receipt of village relief and in the last district 106 persons are in receipt of gratuitous relief. The supply of fodder is insufficient in Nimar and the Nagpur country. Prices show a tendency to rise. The cheapest prices are—wheat 19, gram 30, rice 22, and juar 27 seers per rupee. The dearest prices are—wheat 12½, gram 15, rice 9, and juar 18 seers per rupee.

Burma.—For week ending 15th July.—In Lower Burma ploughing is almost completed in Thaton, Amherst, Bassein, and Tavoy and continues elsewhere. Sowing is progressing everywhere and trans planting has become more general. Want of rain is retarding agricultural operations in Prome. In Upper Burma reaping of the early paddy crop continues in Mandalay and. Kyaukse; ploughing for and sowing of wet weather paddy is also in progress; transplanting has commenced; sowing of upland crops continues in Sagaing and the Lower Chindwin and sowing of sesamum is completed in Meiktila. Floods in the Sagaing township of the Ruby Mines district and want of rain in parts of Yamethin and Myingyan are retarding operations. The standing crops are good in Kyaukse and in Yamethin. Rain is wanted in Pakôkku, the Sheinmaga township of Shwebo, the Budalin sub-division of the Lower Chindwin and in Sagaing; and early sesamum has withered in all, except two townships of Myingyan, and is withering in parts of the Mahlaing and Wundwin townships of Meiktila and in Minbu. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and fallen considerably in Toungoo, the Southern Shan States, and the Upper Chindwin and slightly in Pegu and Thayetmyo.

Assam.—For week ending 18th July.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for late rice and sowing of late rice seedlings continue. Planting of sugarcane still continues in Lakhimpur. Early rice is being reaped in Goalpara. Plucking and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects are generally good. Fodder is scarce in Cachar, Nowgong, and in parts of Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Silchar and Gauhati 16, Sylhet 24, Dhubri 14, Tezpur, Nowgong, and Dibrugarh 13, and Sibsagar 11 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 18th July.—MYSORE: Rain general and good in parts of Kadur and Shimoga. Prices have slightly risen in parts of Bangalore, Hassan, Chitaldroog, and Shimoga and fallen in Kolar and Kadur. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of four districts.

COORG: Rainfall—3 inches 74 cents. Transplanting of rice has commenced. More rain is wanted. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 19th July.—BERAR: The weather is cloudy. Cotton plants are withering for want of rain in three districts. Land is still being prepared. Sowing operations are in progress. Fodder is insufficient in Amraoti and Wun. The water-supply is still short in parts of the Province. Prices are almost stationary.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—17 cents. Rain is very badly wanted Strong winds are injuring young shoots in parts. Autumn sowings have been suspended in the Gulburgah division and in parts of the Aurangabad and Bidar divisions. Rice sowing is progressing in lands under wells and water channels. Prices are rising gradually. Prices—wheat 9¾, rice 10, and jowari 22½ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 19th July.—Good rain fell throughout Central India during the week, except in the Bhopawar and Malwa Agencies, where the fall was insufficient. Agricultural operations are in progress. The crops have been damaged in Jobut by caterpillars. Agricultural stock and pasturage are in good condition. Prices are below normal in Bundelkhand and normal elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 19th July—Rainfall—Jhallawar 2·20; Pertabgarh 2·18; Kerowli 1·92; Kishengarh 1·46, Kherwara 1·45; Bhurtpore 1·21; Alwar 1·14; below half inch in Sirohi, Jeypore, Kotah, and Abu; average in Haraoti 4·21; Ajmere 1·15; Dholepore 0·86; and Bikanir 0·31. No rain in Marwar, Meywar, and Jeysulmere. Agricultural operations are progressing satisfactorily. Ploughing and sowing continue. There is no change in the condition of cattle, but a slight improvement in the fodder-supply. Prices are rising in Haraoti and Kishengarh; fluctuating in Kotah; falling in Meywar and Jhallawar; and are steady elsewhere. 116 persons emigrated from the Merwara district during the week. The total emigration to date numbers—4,583. The numbers employed on relief works were—Marwar 298; Merwara 6,673. Relief works in Ajmere have been closed. The numbers on ordinary works in Merwara was 78 and on gratuitous relief 265. Prices—Ajmere and Beawar 18 and Marwar 14 seers per rupee.

Kashmir.—For week ending 18th July.—The weather is fine. Prospects of the crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—Report not received.

Nepal.—For week ending 15th July.—Rainfall 3·84 inches. The weather is seasonable. Transplanting of rice is finished and crops are doing well. Rice—8½ seers per rupee.

4. The aggregate outlay charged off to "Construction" stood at the end of each of the last five years as follows:

		Increase.

Increase in 5 years		1,558,297

5. The expenditure charged to "Construction" during and to end of the year, gives the following as the cost per mile of open line:

Railway.	Construction Expenditure per open mile. During 1898.	Construction Expenditure per open mile. To end of 1898.	Remarks.
	Rs.	Rs.
Madras	474·25	1,42,468·81

Great Indian Peninsula	381·55	2,14,353·76
Average outlay per mile open ...	1,128·76	1,95,002·66

The cost expressed in rupees is, as regards payments in England, at the contract rates of exchange, which for many years have been higher than the actual rates, and consequently the cost is understated by the difference between the contract rate of exchange and the actual rate prevailing.

7. The increase in 1898 in the amount of Capital locked up in stores on the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway is due to large receipts of Permanent-way material required for doubling portions of the line and of parts of Locomotive Engines which arrived too late in the year to be finally charged off. The increase on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway is owing chiefly to heavy consignments of Permanent-way material required in connection with the Extensions and of wheels and axles required to replace Cammel's axles which have been condemned. The locked up capital of the Madras and Great Indian Peninsula Railway extensions consists entirely of stores in transit.

8. On 31st December 1898, the value of the stores in stock on Guaranteed Railways compared with the limits provisionally assigned for Capital to be locked up in stores was as follows:

IN THE COURT OF THE RESIDENT IN MYSORE.
Criminal Side.

RULE OF PRACTICE.

Bangalore, the 8th July, 1899.

No. 4.—When counterfeit coins come before the Criminal Courts in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, under the procedure prescribed in sections 517, 523 and 524 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), as applied to the said station, the Judge or Magistrate should, after the case has been finally disposed of, deal with such coins in a manner similar to that provided in *Rule 1 of the Rules appended to the Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 217-A., dated the 17th January, 1899. It is not necessary, however, that the coins should be sent direct to the Mint by Judicial Officers. They may be forwarded to the officer in charge of the Resident's Treasury, to be remitted by him to the Mint.

* 1. When it can be done with the consent of the tenderer, counterfeit coins tendered to Treasury Officers and others authorized to cut or break them under the provisions of section 16 of Act XXIII of 1870, should be sent to the Mint at Calcutta or Bombay. If the tenderer, however, does not consent to the counterfeit coin being sent to the Mint, unless the broken pieces are afterwards returned to him, the coin should not be sent at all. It is, however, open to a Government officer, to whom such a coin is tendered in cases in which the tenderer is otherwise unwilling to part with it, to purchase it from him at a suitable price, not in any case exceeding its nominal value, charging its cost to Government. This course should only be followed when from the excellence of the execution, or for any other special cause, it seems desirable that the coin should be acquired as a specimen, and the officer purchasing the same should, when forwarding it to the Mint, state at the same time the grounds upon which its purchase was considered desirable.

Offg. Resident.

CIVIL AND MILITARY STATION, BANGALORE.

MUNICIPAL OFFICE.

NOTIFICATION.

The 25th June, 1899.

No. 1782.—In exercise of the powers conferred under section 137 (1) (e) (vi) of the Bangalore Municipal Law, 1897, the Municipal Commission for the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore have made the following Bye-laws, and the same having been confirmed by the Resident in Mysore as required by section 139, they are hereby notified for public information under section 180 (3) of the said Law :—

Bye-Law No. Water-supply.

Bangalore Municipal Law, Section 137 (1) (e) (vi).

A.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

No person shall wilfully or negligently—

(a) injure or suffer to be injured any meter belonging to the Commission or any of the fittings of any such meter;

(b) break, injure or open any lock, cock, valve, pipe, work or engine appertaining to any water-work;

(c) flush or draw off the water from any such water-work, thereby causing such water to be wasted;

(d) do any act whereby the water in any pipe or other water-work is likely to be contaminated;

(e) do any act whereby the water in or derived from any water-work will be wasted.

(f) obstruct, divert or in any way injure or alter any water main or duct.

B.—PUBLIC WATER-SUPPLY.

2. The water obtained from the Chamarajendra Reservoir being limited in amount is intended primarily for domestic use, and nothing in this Bye-law shall be construed as allowing the water obtainable from a public stand-post to be used for garden, irrigation or building purposes.

3. No water-carts, barrels or puckals shall be filled at any public stand-posts, except at such stand-posts as are specially provided for the purpose. These shall be indicated by Notice Boards.

4. No person shall wash himself, or any animal, vehicle, clothes, or utensils at any public stand-posts.

5. No person shall do anything to damage or disfigure the stand-posts or platforms or to obstruct the free flow of water from the platforms.

C.—PRIVATE WATER-SUPPLY.

6. Private connections with the water-supply system shall only be provided on the application, in the form attached to these Rules, which can be supplied from the Municipal Office, of the owner of the premises to be connected, or of the occupier with the recorded assent of the owner, or of the person primarily liable for the payment of property-taxes on the said premises.

7. All pipes, taps, cocks, cisterns and works required for a private connection shall be of such dimensions, character, and material, and shall be laid, adjusted or executed, in such manner as the President of the Municipal Commission may from time to time, either generally or specially, direct. The work shall be carried out either by the Municipality or by a Plumber licensed or authorized by the Commission in this behalf.

8. For every private connection, there shall be provided and maintained in due working order a water-meter of a size and description approved by the President, for the accurate gauging of the water consumed. For all meters other than those supplied under Rule 18 a monthly rent shall be charged to, and paid by, the person using it.

9. No alteration shall be made in any private connection or the fittings connected therewith, except with the written permission of the President, and either by a Municipal servant, or by a Plumber licensed or authorized by the Commission in this behalf.

10. With every application for a private connection there shall be paid a deposit of Rs5, which sum shall be refunded when the estimated cost of the work is paid, or the application refused, withdrawn, or cancelled: provided that, if the application is refused, withdrawn, or cancelled, it shall be lawful for the President to deduct from the deposit so much as may be required to meet any expenses which may have been incurred in connection with the application.

11. If the application is sanctioned by the President, he shall have an estimate of the cost prepared, and require the applicant to pay within a specified time the amount of such estimate, pending the receipt of which the work shall not be commenced. If from any unforeseen cause the amount so paid is found insufficient for the execution of the work, a supplementary estimate may be prepared, and the connection shall not be made until the additional sum required has been paid. If the applicant fail to pay the amount estimated within the time specified, the President may cancel the application, and the amount deposited with the application shall be forfeited :

Provided that, if any Plumber has been licensed by the Commission in this behalf, the applicant may have an estimate for the proposed work prepared by such Plumber and may submit it in duplicate with his application. In such case, if the proposed work is sanctioned by the President, he shall return the estimate to the applicant, and the latter shall be at liberty to have the work executed in accordance therewith by such Plumber within such time, not being less than three months, as may be fixed by the President.

Any estimate prepared in accordance with this Rule shall include, in addition to the actual cost of the work, a Municipal charge of 5 per cent. thereon, and this percentage shall be paid to the Commission.

12. All pipes, taps, cocks and other fittings forming part of private connections within the premises for the private connection of which they are intended shall, in the absence of any special agreement to the contrary, be the property of the owner of the said premises.

All pipes, taps, cocks and other fittings connected with such private connection, not situated within the premises, shall be the property of the Commission, as well as any meter other than the one supplied under Rule 18, or other appliance for measuring or limiting the amount of water supplied, which may be fixed or inserted by the Commission within or without the premises, but not paid for by the applicant.

13. It shall be incumbent on the owner of any premises which has a private connection under these rules, to keep in efficient repair all pipes and fittings connected therewith within such premises, not being a Municipal meter, so as effectually to prevent the water from running to waste.

14. The Commission shall at all times keep all meters which are their property in proper order for correctly registering the supply of water, and in default thereof, persons using them shall not be liable to pay rent for the same during such time as such default continues. The register of the meter shall be primâ facie evidence of the quantity consumed.

15. The Commission may at any time stop the supply of water whenever it may appear to it to be for the benefit of the public to do so, and shall not be liable to any civil action for so doing.

16. Any person desiring to have a private supply of water for other than domestic purposes shall be required to provide and maintain at his own cost a meter of such size, material and description as the President may approve. * * * * *

* * * * * * * * *

17. The President or any person authorized by him in that behalf may at any time between sunrise and sunset enter into or upon any premises to which a private connection is furnished in order—

(a) to remove, test, examine or replace any meter or other instrument for measuring water ; or

(b) to examine the communication-pipes and any taps, cocks, cisterns or other fittings connected therewith ; or

(c) to see if there be any waste or misuse of water :

Provided that no dwelling house shall be entered under this rule until 6 hours' notice in writing has been given to the occupier.

18. If any defect likely to cause waste or contamination of water is found to exist in any meter, communication-pipe, tap, cock, cistern or other fitting connected therewith not being the property of the Commission, the President may execute any work necessary to remedy such defect and may recover the cost of such work from the owner or occupier of the premises in the manner prescribed for the recovery of taxes :

Provided that, if any Plumber has been licensed in this behalf, the owner or occupier of the premises may be permitted to have such work executed by such Plumber within such period as may be fixed by the President.

19. The President may by written order cause the connection between any water main and any premises to which a private supply has been furnished under these rules to be severed or the supply turned off in any of the following cases :—

(a) In default of payment of any water-tax or any sum due for water within seven days after the service of a notice of demand under section 186, clause (b), of the Bangalore Municipal Law.

(b) If the owner or occupier, having obtained permission under the proviso to rule 20 to make his own arrangements for the remedying of any defect, fails, within the period prescribed, to remedy such defect, so as effectually to prevent the water from contamination or from running to waste.

(c) If, after receipt of a written notice from the President requiring him to refrain from so doing, the occupier of the premises continues to use the water, or to permit the same to be used for other domestic purposes.

(d) If the owner or occupier of the premises wilfully or negligently injures or damages any meter or communication-pipe connected with the supply of water to such premises.

20. The expense of severing the connection or of turning off the water in any such case as aforesaid shall be recoverable from the owner of the premises in the manner provided for the recovery of taxes.

21 No water pipe shall be laid nor shall any cistern connected with any private supply furnished under these rules be constructed in the drain or on the surface of an open channel or house gully or in any position where such pipe or cistern would be likely to be injured or the water therein polluted.

22. (1) No person shall fraudulently—

(a) alter the index to any meter or prevent any meter from duly registering the quantity of water supplied;

(b) abstract or use water before it has been registered by a meter set up for the purpose of measuring the same.

(2) The existence of artificial means under the control of the consumer for causing any such alteration, prevention, abstraction or use, shall be evidence that the consumer has fraudulently effected the same.

23. Breach of any of these rules shall render the offender liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding R50, and to a further fine which may extend to R5 for every day after such conviction during which the breach continues.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Review of the Revenue Report of Irrigation Works in Burma for 1897-98.

Read—

Letter from the Government of Burma, Public Works Department, No. 5924—3 I., dated 1st June 1899, submitting the Revenue Report of Irrigation Works in that Province for 1897-98.

MAJOR WORKS, IRRIGATION.

Major Irrigation works are of two kinds: Productive works, the cost of which is chargeable to loan funds, and Protective works, the cost of which is chargeable to revenue, and met from the Famine Relief and Insurance grant. There are no works of the latter kind in Burma.

The only Productive Irrigation work at present sanctioned is the Mandalay Canal, which was sanctioned by the Secretary of State in 1896, for Rs. 32,32,804, and is now in progress. The expenditure incurred to the end of 1897-98 amounted to Rs. 6,65,525. The earthwork on the first 31 miles is reported to be about one-third done, great difficulties having been experienced owing to the hardness of the soil. Buildings have been erected at the headworks and the stone for the erection of the latter is being collected, while some progress has been made with their foundations.

Surveys have also been made for four other canals, the Shwebo, Môn, Ye-u and Yenatna. If these projects are likely to fulfil the conditions of Productive Public works they will in due course be sanctioned as such, and the cost will be met from loan funds, but in the meanwhile the preliminary expenditure incurred in connection with them has been charged to revenue under Minor works. The sum thus expended to end of 1897-8 amounted to Rs. 41,269. The project for the Shwebo Canal has been submitted to the Government of India and is now under review.

MINOR WORKS, IRRIGATION AND NAVIGATION.

2. Minor works, which are all chargeable to Provincial revenues, are divided for accounts purposes into three classes:

I.—Works for which capital and revenue accounts are kept.

II.—Works for which revenue accounts only are kept.

III.—Works for which neither capital nor revenue accounts are kept.

Minor works of the first of these classes consist in Burma entirely of river embankments, the first cost of which has been charged to a capital account. Expenditure on these works commenced in 1862-63, and the total capital outlay to end of the year under review amounted to Rs. 33,82,990, the actual outlay during 1897-98 being Rs. 4,006 only, which was incurred on the Thôngwa Island embankment. The revenue account is debited with the cost of maintenance and credited with the whole of the land revenue assessed on the cultivated area reclaimed or protected by these works. The working expenses to end of 1897-98 have amounted to Rs. 35,85,963, the gross revenue credited to the works for the same period being Rs. 1,31,19,852, so that the net revenue has amounted to Rs. 95,33,889. The areas benefited by these works prior to 1883-84 have not been recorded, but in that year amounted to 366,255 acres During the year under review the area benefited is reported to have been 469,663 acres, and is the largest on record. The gross revenue, which is also the highest on record, amounted to Rs. 8,99,959 and the net revenue to Rs. 6,69,109, or 74·4 per cent. on the gross revenue and 19·78 per cent. on total capital outlay. If the whole of the revenue credited to these works may be attributed entirely to the construction of the embankments, they must be regarded as highly remunerative.

3. The Minor works for which only revenue accounts are kept consist entirely of irrigation works in Upper Burma Some of these are tanks or storage reservoirs and others are canals which draw off their supplies from rivers in which weirs of a more or less substantial character have been constructed. Many of these works have existed from time immemorial and almost all were constructed before annexation. It is therefore impossible to open capital accounts unless the area due to old irrigation is known, or unless the revenue which might have been realized if no expenditure had been incurred on the extension and improvement of the works can be fairly determined. All expenditure is therefore charged to a revenue account, although for some time to come a very large share of the working expenses will be due to works of improvement and extension in addition to the ordinary cost of maintenance. The works are distributed over nine districts and separate accounts, which comprise all the works of this class in the district, are kept for each district, but not for each individual work. The credits to the revenue account are chiefly composed of three-fourths of the combined water and land tax on State land, the whole of the non-State land water rates, a share of the thathameda or house tax, which is about half of the amount assessed, and the revenue from fisheries.

4. The following tables exhibit the general financial results attained on all these works during the last five years :

Year.	Area irrigated.	Gross revenue.	Net revenue.	Percentage of net on gross revenue.	Average gross revenue per acre irrigated.
	Acres.	Rs.	Rs.	Per cent.	Rs.
1893-94 . .	258,892	9,02,677	3,17,780	35·2	3 49
1894-95 . .	254,233	9,66,083	2,80,014	29 0	3·80
1895-96 . .	278,860	8,20,974	2,04,310	24·9	2·94
1896-97 . .	268,476	10,13,475	1,17,090	11 6	3·77
1897-98 . .	319,541	11,34,491	2,68,599	23·7	3·55
Total . .	1,380,002	48,37,700	11,87,793	24·6	3·51

The distribution of the working expenses during the same period was as follows:

Year.	Extensions and improvements.	Maintenance and repairs.	Establishment.	Tools and plant.	Book charges.	TOTAL.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1893-94 . .	2,30,348	1,34,999	1,96,499	7,997	15,054	5,84,897
1894-95 . .	1,25,853	2,24,855	3,04,681	3,535	27,145	6,86,069
1895-96 . .	1,36,892	2,09,296	2,45,659	2,667	22,150	6,16,664
1896-97 . .	3,69,244	1,97,625	2,95,211	7,764	26,541	8,96,385
1897-98 . .	3,83,196	2,25,207	2,32,949	7,795	16,745	8,65,892
Total . .	12,45,533	9,91,982	12,74,999	29,758	1,07,635	36,49,907

5. From these tables it appears that nearly 75 per cent. of the gross revenue attributed to these works has been devoted to their improvement and maintenance. This is a high proportion, but over 34 per cent. of the total expenditure has been incurred on works of extension and improvement, which should result eventually in an increase of the irrigated area and perhaps a reduction in the cost of maintenance and repairs. There has been a notable increase in the area irrigated during the year under review, though the rainfall is said not to have been very favourable for districts dependent on the local fall, and the increase may probably be attributed to the liberal expenditure recently incurred on these works. As the more important improvements are completed the expenditure should decrease, while the gross revenue will expand as the irrigated area increases, and a larger proportion of the gross revenue will then be available for general purposes of administration.

The charges for establishment during the five years have averaged 57 per cent. of the works expenditure (improvements and maintenance), but there is a satisfactory tendency to decrease, the rate for the year under review being 46 per cent. If the charges do not include establishment employed in connection with the revenue assessments and collections, this rate appears excessive, and should be susceptible of further reduction, though as the works are numerous and scattered a high rate is probably unavoidable

6 The Minor works for which neither capital nor revenue accounts are kept include the Ma-ubin and Sittang embankments, and the Pegu-Sittang and Sittang-Kyaikto Navigation Canals. It is not understood why the first three of these works have been included in this class, as accounts have been actually maintained for many years of both the revenue receipts and charges, and there should be no difficulty in including them in the class of Minor works for which revenue accounts are kept. No direct revenue is realised on the Sittang-Kyaikto Canal, so that a revenue account is unnecessary.

7. This is the first revenue report that has been submitted for the irrigation works in Burma. The Government of India desire to acknowledge the care with which it has been prepared so as to exhibit in the most convenient form and for the first time the present position and recent financial history of these works, and agree with His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor that the collection of the requisite information regarding revenue and expenditure in past years and its classification have been a laborious task for which much credit is due to Mr. Benton, the Superintending Engineer, and Mr. Conduitt, Examiner, Public Works Accounts.

ORDER.—Ordered, that copies of this review and of the report referred to be forwarded to the Revenue and Agricultural Department for information.

Ordered, also, that copies of the review be forwarded to the Government of Burma, Public Works Department, for information and guidance, and to the Local Governments and Administrations in the Public Works Department, noted on the margin, for information.

The Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Punjab.
The Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.
The Agents to the Governor General in Rajputana and Baluchistan.

Ordered, further, that the review be published in the Gazette of India, and that copies of the review be forwarded to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

No. 318.—The following is published for general information:

No. 760 C. W. I., dated Simla, the 28th July, 1899.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Review of the Revenue Report of Irrigation Works in Sind for 1897-98.

Read—

Letter No. W.I.—1039, dated 7th July 1899, from the Government of Bombay, Public Works Department, forwarding the Revenue Report of the Irrigation Department in Sind for 1897-98, together with the Resolution of that Government reviewing the same.

CAPITAL OUTLAY.

OBSERVATIONS.—The capital expenditure incurred on works for which Capital and Revenue accounts are kept amounted to Rs. 17,74,692 during 1897-98. Good progress was made with the new Jamrao and Dad canals. The expenditure on the former amounted to Rs. 13,35,152 during the year and to Rs. 38,74,052 up to the end of it, while on the Dad canal Rs. 2,29,793 were expended during the year. The outlay on Minor Works amounted to Rs. 1,42,656, of which Rs. 1,40,102 were expended on the Fuleli canal.

The total capital invested in Major and Minor Works amounted at the end of the year to 180¼ lakhs.

AREA IRRIGATED.

2. The total area irrigated during the year amounted to 2,806,083 acres and exceeded the area of 1896-97 by 308,727 acres and the record area of 1894-95 by 70,357 acres. This very satisfactory result is attributed partly to the favourable inundation and partly to the immunity from floods secured by the efficient maintenance of the river embankments. The area of dubari or twice cropped cultivation rose from 154,166 acres last year to 235,394 acres in the year under review, so that the total crop area irrigated amounted to 3,041,477 acres and is the highest on record. Of the total area, excluding dubari irrigation, the Major Works irrigated 753,822 acres, the Minor Works for which Capital accounts are kept 840,123 acres, and those for which only Revenue accounts are kept 1,166,454 acres.

The areas of the principal crops irrigated during the year were:

	Acres.
Rice	888,216
Jowari	655,450
Bajri	404,709
Wheat	316,248

The rice cultivation has steadily increased since 1894-95, when the area irrigated was 671,803 acres, but this unrestricted increase is not regarded by the Commissioner in Sind as altogether satisfactory as it leads to the occupants at the tails of the canals being deprived of their fair share of water. It will, no doubt, be easier to overcome this difficulty by the assumption and exercise of a greater control over the distribution than by recourse to a prohibitive enhancement of the rates on rice cultivation, a measure which in the Commissioner's opinion would be at once impossible and immoral.

The area under wheat was nearly 49 per cent. in excess of last year's cultivation, though still below the area (433,752 acres) of 1894-95. The development of wheat cultivation is a satisfactory feature of the returns of the year.

WORKING EXPENSES.

3. The working expenses of works for which Capital accounts are kept were as follows:

	Total working expenses.	Rate per acre irrigated.	Average rate per acre for previous five years.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Major Works	3,90,638	0·51	0·62
Minor Works	4,83,188	0·58	0·78

Taking both Major and Minor Works together the working expenses were 0·55 per acre irrigated and 26·89 per cent. of the gross revenue realised. These rates compare very favourably with those of the previous year. On Minor Works for which only Revenue accounts are kept the working expenses were Rs. 9,85,597 as compared with Rs. 9,62,490 in 1896-97, while on Agricultural Works the total expenditure during the year was Rs. 4,35,305.

FINANCIAL RESULTS.

4. The financial results of the Sind canals in operation during the year may be summarized as follows after excluding the revenue receipts and charges due to old irrigation:

Works for which Capital and Revenue accounts are kept	Capital outlay to end of year.	Gross revenue.	Working expenses.	Net revenue.	Return on capital outlay.
	Rs.	Rs	Rs.	Rs.	Per cent.
Major Works	98,79,779	13,24,138	3,81,535	9,42,603	9·54
Minor Works	38,67,927	13,01,247	2,86,946	10,14,301	26·22
Total Major and Minor ...	1,37,47,706	26,25,385	6,68,481	19,56,904	14·23

All the four Major Works in operation gave higher returns than in the preceding year, the Desert canal returning 6·3 per cent. on its Capital outlay against 2·9 per cent. in 1896-97, while the Begari canal gave a return of 17·78 per cent. as compared with 15·4 per cent. last year.

A still more marked improvement is recorded in the case of the Minor Works which gave a return of 26·22 per cent. against 20·83 per cent. in 1896-97.

These figures represent the results due to the outlay of Government capital. Including the old irrigation, which has not been affected by this outlay, the gross receipts amounted to Rs. 13,61,195 for Major Works and Rs. 18,88,741 for Minor Works, and the total net revenue to Rs. 9,70,557 for Major and Rs. 14,05,553 for Minor Works.

The financial results of the year for all the irrigation works in the Province were as follows:

	Rs.
Gross revenue	60,27,803
Working expenses	22,94,728
Net revenue	37,33,075

The total net revenue exceeded that of the previous year by Rs. 8,46,057.

GENERAL REMARKS.

5. The results obtained during the year are highly satisfactory. The area of irrigation, the gross revenue realised, and the net revenue, after deducting working expenses, were the highest on record, while the return on Capital outlay, yielded by those works for which Capital accounts are kept, excluding old irrigation, was no less than 14½ per cent. or 2¾ per cent. higher than the return given in 1896-97, which was the highest on record.

These very favourable results were primarily due to the unusual height and duration of the floods in the Indus, that in August 1898 being the highest ever recorded, while that in September was only five inches lower. There was thus a plentiful and well sustained supply in all the canals, which was, however, unattended by proportionate damage, and the Commissioner of Sind observes that the results of a favourable inundation however great would have fallen short of the present height but for the ability and zeal with which the different canals were managed. The Government of India concur with the Local Government in endorsing this commendation, and in expressing satisfaction with the high standard of efficiency attained by the Irrigation officers in Sind in the administration of these canals.

The report was not received by the Government of India till the 10th July, but it is hoped that the measures which have been suggested to the Government of Bombay to secure its more punctual submission will be found to be feasible, and that in future years the value of the report will not be discounted by so great a delay in its publication.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Review, with the Report and Resolution by the Government of Bombay, be forwarded to the Revenue and Agricultural Department, for information.

Ordered, also, that a copy of this Review be forwarded to the Government of Bombay for information, and that copies of the Review, with the Report and Local Government's Resolution, be forwarded to the Local Governments noted on the margin in the Public Works Department, for information.

PERSONS UNDER SENTENCE OF PENAL SERVITUDE.

21. (1) Every person under sentence of penal servitude may be confined in such prison within British India as the Governor General in Council, by general order, directs, and may, during such time, be kept to hard labour and, until he can conveniently be removed to such prison, be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, and dealt with in all other respects as persons under sentence of rigorous imprisonment may, for the time being, by law be dealt with. [V of 1871, s. 21.]

Persons under sentence of penal servitude how to be dealt with.

(2) The time of such intermediate imprisonment, and the time of removal from one prison to another, shall be taken and reckoned in discharge or part discharge of the term of the sentence.

22. Every enactment now in force in British India with respect to persons under sentence of transportation, or under sentence of imprisonment with hard labour, shall, so far as is consistent with this Act, be construed to apply to persons under sentence of penal servitude. [Ibid, s. 22.]

26. A warrant issued under section 25 may be executed by any officer to whom it is directed or delivered for that purpose in any part of British India, and shall have the same force in any place within British India as if it had been originally issued or subsequently endorsed by the Justice of the Peace or Magistrate or other authority having jurisdiction in the place where it is executed.

Execution of warrant.

27. (1) When the licensee for whose arrest a warrant has been issued under section 25, is arrested thereunder, he shall be brought, as soon as conveniently may be, before the Justice or Magistrate by whom the warrant was issued, or before some other Justice or Magistrate of the same place, or before a Justice or Magistrate having jurisdiction in the district in which the licensee has been arrested.

Licensee when arrested to be brought up for recommitment.

(2) Such Justice or Magistrate as aforesaid shall thereupon make out a warrant under his hand and seal for the recommitment of the licensee to the prison from which he was released under the license.

28. STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is merely to consolidate the several Acts relating to prisoners confined by order of a Court which are now to be found in different parts of the Statute-book, and so to replace a number of separate enactments by a single Act, expressed more simply and intelligibly. Only a few explanatory remarks seem to be called for, and these will be found in the Notes on Clauses annexed.

The 27th June, 1899. T. RALEIGH.

Notes on Clauses.

The first seven Parts reproduce Act V of 1871 and the Acts relating to the confinement of prisoners, and the remaining Part contains the provisions of Act XV of 1869 which deal with the production of prisoners in Court for the purpose of giving evidence and the service of process upon them while in confinement.

Clause 2.—Act V of 1871 refers somewhat indiscriminately to "prisons" and "jails". The former word has been adhered to throughout the Bill.

Clause 18.—The wording of section 19 of Act V of 1871 is somewhat equivocal, and doubts have in practice been felt as to whether it requires a special order in the case of each prisoner. The necessity for this is not apparent, and the opportunity has been taken to remove all doubt on the point by making it clear that a general order is admissible.

The original section has, it will be observed, been considerably shortened and, it is thought, simplified. All the offences specifically described in the earlier part of the section are covered by the sections mentioned in the schedule to the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act. 1879 (XXI of 1879), to which reference is made in a later part of it, and this tautology has been avoided in the Bill. It is believed that, with one exception, the clause now proposed exactly reproduces the law contained in the old section. The exception consists in the circumstance that, while section 19 refers to the abetment of suicide by burning or burying alive only, clause 18 of the Bill, read with the first schedule, refers instead to sections 305 and 306 of the Indian Penal Code, i.e., to the abetment of suicide in any form.

Section 34 of Act V of 1871, giving power to make rules as to convicts, has not been reproduced, as power has been already taken in the Prisons Act, 1894 (IX of 1894), to make rules providing for all matters referred to in that section.

Clause 44.—The reference to "the Gazette" in section 10 of Act XV of 1869 has here been amplified. Where the Government of India is concerned, it is the Gazette of India that should be alluded to; where a Local Government, the local official Gazette.

Clause 53.—It is altogether supererogatory to declare, as does section 19 of Act XV of 1869, that rules made thereunder "shall be deemed to have the force of law." The language has, therefore, here been altered so as to provide that all rules duly made under the proposed Act "shall have the same force as if enacted" thereby. The effect of the provision so expressed will be apparent if the decision of the House of Lords in Institute of Patent Agents v. Lockwood (1894), L. R. App. Cas 347, be referred to.

J. M. MACPHERSON,

THE SCHEDULE.

Year.	No.	Short title.	Extent of repeal.
1885	XVII	The Central Provinces Government Wards Act, 1885.	The whole.
1890	VIII	The Guardians and Wards Act, 1890.	So much of section 2 and the schedule as relates to Act XVII of 1885.
1891	XII	The Repealing and Amending Act, 1891.	So much as relates to Act XVII of 1865.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE law relating to the Court of Wards in the Central Provinces has, for some time, been admitted to be defective. The question of amending it has been considered and discussed in connection with the larger question of restricting the transfer of property in land from the agricultural classes to non-agriculturist capitalists. As a result of the consideration and discussion of this particular branch of the subject it has been decided to undertake the amendment and consolidation of the law relating to the Court of Wards so as to make it more effective, precise and clear.

2. The main amendments proposed in the existing law are these:

(1) To make the Commissioner of the Division the Court of Wards in place of the Deputy Commissioner of the District. The management of wards' properties is in many districts very onerous and important work, and it is desirable that the responsibility for the supervision and control of it should be specifically placed on the Commissioner. In other provinces the Board of Revenue is the Court of Wards, but as there is no Board of Revenue in the Central Provinces, it is proposed to make the Commissioner—who is the highest revenue-authority next to the Chief Commissioner—the Court of Wards (clause 3 of the Bill).

(2) To enable the Local Government to declare persons incapable of managing their properties owing to mental defects or infirmities. The existing law empowers the Local Government to declare proprietors incapable of managing their properties on account of physical defects, and it is considered desirable to confer similar power in cases where the mental defects of proprietors may fall short of absolute idiotcy or lunacy—clause 5 (1) (c) (i).

(3) To empower the Local Government, on the application of a proprietor, when it thinks it expedient in the public interest to do so, to order the Court of Wards to assume the administration of his property. This power is already possessed under the Court of Wards Law in Bengal and some other Provinces, and it seems obviously desirable to take it in the Central Provinces also (clause 6).

(4) To provide for the prompt ascertainment of the liabilities of wards' properties and prompt adjudication of claims against them. For this purpose, it is proposed that creditors shall be obliged to register all debts within a period of six months from the assumption of charge of a ward's property; that they shall furnish particulars and documents in support of their claims ; that debts not so registered shall, save when the Court relinquishes superintendence as provided in clause 15 (2), become extinguished ; and that, when claims have been received within the period specified, the Court of Wards will investigate them and decide which of them are to be admitted wholly or partly or are to be wholly or partly rejected. If the Court of Wards admits a claim it may make a proposal in writing for its reduction; and, if such proposal or a modification of it is accepted by the claimant, it shall be conclusively binding on him : but, if he does not accept the proposal of the Court of Wards, he may sue in the Civil Court for the recovery of any claim which he has registered within the prescribed period. If, after the investigation of claims by the Court of Wards, the Local Government finds that an estate is hopelessly involved, it may order that the superintendence of the person and property of the ward be relinquished, and from the date of such relinquishment all claims will revive as if charge of the estate had not been assumed (clauses 12 to 15).

These provisions are deemed necessary for efficient management. The Deputy Commissioner is often, under the present law, suddenly called upon to take charge of an estate of which he finds it impossible to ascertain the true state of affairs upon which his scheme of management is to be based, and has sometimes to relinquish charge on finding that estates are involved in debt beyond hope of extrication. These provisions are intended to meet such difficulties.

(5) To provide that in suits against the Court of Wards two months' notice shall be given, as in the case of suits against the Government (clause 25).

(6) To make it clear that any contract involving a ward in pecuniary liability which is entered while he is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards, remains void after management has been relinquished, in spite of any subsequent promise or ratification by barring suits whereby to charge a ward upon any promise, made after he has ceased to be a ward, to pay any debt contracted during the period when he was a ward (clause 30) The intention of this provision is to prevent the creation during the management of the Court of Wards of new encumbrances, which it is the Court's object to prevent altogether.

(7) To enable the Court of Wards, when a ward dies or ceases to be disqualified and his property is still encumbered, to retain charge, if the Government thinks fit, until such debts and liabilities have been discharged—clause 33 (1), proviso (i).

3. Certain minor alterations are proposed so as to bar the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts, to provide for the assumption of temporary management by the Deputy Commissioner before the issue of a formal notification and to define the right of appeal.

Power for Chief Court to call for record of cases not appealable to it.

(a) if the Court, by which the case was decided, appears to have exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or to have failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or to have acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction with material irregularity; or

(b) if, on application made to it, the Chief Court is of opinion that there is a question of law or custom and of general interest involved:

"Provided that no application under clause (b) shall be admitted after the expiration of thirty days from the date of the order in respect of which the application is made, unless the applicant satisfies the Chief Court that he had sufficient cause for not making the application within that period.

"(2) In computing the period of limitation aforesaid, the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, shall be deemed to apply. XV of 1877.

"(3) Section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure, in so far as it applies to the territories to which this Act extends, is hereby repealed. XIV of 1882.

"71. In the first schedule to the Court-fees Act, 1870, after No. 12, the following shall be inserted, namely: VII of 1870.

Amendment of the first schedule, Act VII, 1870.

	When such amount or value exceeds twenty-five rupees.	The fee leviable on a memorandum of appeal'." XVIII of 1884.

6. In section 72 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, for the words and figures "under section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure," the words and figures "under section 70" shall be substituted. XVIII of 1884. XIV of 1882.

Amendment of section 72, Act XVIII, 1884.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE law relating to second appeals in civil cases in the Punjab differs from that applicable to most of the rest of India under the Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882). In 1884, when the Punjab Commission was re-organized and improved and the Punjab Courts Act, 1884 (XVIII of 1884), was passed, provision was made—see section 40 of the Act as originally enacted—for a further appeal to the Chief Court from an appellate decree of a Divisional Court on any ground which would be a good ground of appeal where the decree had been passed in an original suit, other than a small cause of value not exceeding five hundred rupees,—

(a) if the suit was of the value of more than five hundred rupees;

(b) if a single Divisional Judge had varied or reversed the decree of the Court of First Instance;

(c) if, in a Divisional Court of more than one Judge, there was not a majority of the Judges of the Court concurring in the decree of the Court of First Instance; and

(d) if, on a party's application, the Divisional Court certified that there was a question of law or custom or of general interest involved and that the case was, in its opinion, of sufficient importance to justify a further appeal.

It was also enacted—see section 70—that the revisional section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure should, in its application to the Punjab be read as if the words "illegally or" were omitted, and that, for the purposes of that section, no appeal should be deemed to lie in cases which were not appealable under clause (a), (b) or (c) above, and in which an application under clause (d) had been refused.

2. Before the Act of 1884 had been many months in force it was found that, although its effect had been greatly to reduce the number of civil appeals to the Chief Court, the amount of appellate work coming before the Divisional Courts, which then consisted of Benches of two Judges, was greater than had been anticipated. The Divisional Courts in consequence fell rapidly into arrears, and, in order to overcome these, the Benches were dissolved and thirteen Divisional Judges were appointed to sit separately in their stead. The first result of this change was a considerable reduction in the arrears pending in the Divisional Courts, but the second result was so large an advance in the number of further appeals that very heavy arrears accumulated in the Chief Court. It was then decided to revise the appellate system again, and the Punjab Courts Act, 1888 (XIII of 1888), was accordingly passed to limit the right of further appeal from the Divisional Courts to the following cases only:

(i) appellate decrees in suits of the value of one thousand rupees or upwards, or involving directly claims to, or questions respecting, property of that value;

(ii) appellate decrees in land-suits made by a single Divisional Judge and varying or reversing, otherwise than as to costs, the original decrees;

(iii) appellate decrees in land-suits made by a Bench, the majority not concurring in confirming, or in varying or reversing otherwise than as to costs, the original decrees; and.

(iv) appellate decrees in suits certified by Divisional Judges as involving questions of law or custom and as being of sufficient importance to justify further appeal.

At the same time, a further appeal was expressly barred in any small cause of value not amounting to one thousand rupees and in any unclassed suit not exceeding one hundred rupees in value; but it was further provided that, where a certificate in a case under clause (iv) above had been refused, the Chief Court might admit an application for revision received within thirty days of the refusal, if it thought that a question of law or custom or of general interest was involved and that the case was of sufficient importance to justify a further appeal.

3. Notwithstanding these amendments, second appeals in the Punjab have continued to be so numerous as to keep the Chief Court in arrears and to necessitate the continual services of additional Judges; and the Government of India are of opinion that legislation should be pushed yet farther in the direction of that undertaken in 1888. The general question of amending the law of civil appeal throughout British India, which is now under consideration, has produced many divergent opinions and suggestions, and it is extremely doubtful whether the same degree of limitation on the right of appeal will ever be suitable for all the different Provinces. As regards the Punjab, the Local Government and the Judges of the Chief Court are, at length, after many years' discussion, agreed upon a method of curtailing the number of second appeals which, under the law as it stands, is admitted on all sides to offer to an abnormally litigious population an undesirable incentive to excessive litigation; and the object of this Bill is to give effect to their joint proposals, subject to certain modifications decided upon by the Government of India. The details are referred to in the annexed Notes on Clauses.

The 26th July, 1899. C. M. RIVAZ.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2.—It is here proposed to incorporate in section 39 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884 (XVIII of 1884), as amended by the Punjab Courts Act, 1888 (XIII of 1888), a provision similar to that contained in section 21, sub-section (4), of the Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887 (XII of 1887), the object being to make provision for affording, if necessary, relief to the Divisional Courts. This proposal has no bearing on the law of second appeal, but it has been deemed advisable to take the present opportunity of giving effect to it.

Clause 3.—The new section 40 which it is here proposed to substitute for the present section in the Act of 1884 abolishes the system of further appeal on the certificate of a Divisional Judge, and raises, for each class of suit, the money-limit subject to which further appeals should be allowed. Section 41 is then reproduced as it stands with a merely consequential amendment.

Clause 4.—The repeal of the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 43 of the Act of 1884 is also consequential.

Clause 5.—Instead of setting forth the modifications subject to which section 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882) is to apply in the Punjab, it has been thought better to repeal that section locally and to enact in its place the provision which, in the opinion of the Government of India, should regulate the Chief Court's powers in revision. It will be observed that revision is provided for in cases where application is made without delay and the Chief Court is of opinion that there is a question of law or custom and of general interest involved.

Clause 6.—The amendment here proposed follows the others and requires no further explanation.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 22nd, 1899.

The principal features in the pressure distribution of the week have been an excess of pressure over the Peninsula and a deficiency in Northern India. The excess was largest on the Bombay Coast, in the Bombay Deccan and Berar; and the deficiency was most marked in the Punjab in the west, and in Bengal and Burma in the east. The above abnormal conditions produced strong south-westerly winds on the Sind and Kathiawar Coasts, and strong westerly winds over the Peninsula, which gave practically no rain either to the plains of North-Western India or to the interior districts of the Peninsula. The rainfall of the week has been almost entirely due to the Bengal monsoon current, which has given moderate to heavy rain to Burma, and North-Eastern India. A depression which formed in Bengal on Monday; and, moving in a west-north-westerly direction, coalesced in the North-Western Provinces with the depression which had moved north-westwards from Bengal at the end of the previous week, supplied the Arabian Sea monsoon current in the Central Provinces with the ascensional movement indispensable to condensation, and thus was the means of causing general and at some places heavy rain in the Central Provinces and the eastern states of Central India.

On Thursday pressure rose slightly in Burma and Orissa; and on Friday in the Punjab. On Saturday another general rise took place over these areas, and also in Bengal; while pressure was steady or had changed by only small amounts elsewhere. Important modifications in the distribution of pressure were thus introduced. In North-Western India by the end of the week pressure was normal, and in North-Eastern India it was in slight to considerable excess, the excess being largest in Central Burma and in Orissa and South-West Bengal, where it exceeded the excess still shown on the Bombay Coast and in the Bombay Deccan. The area of largest excess of pressure, with reference to the normal, had thus been transferred from the east to the west of the Peninsula, and conditions were introduced which were slightly more favourable for rainfall in the central parts of the country.

Temperature has throughout the week been above the normal in the Peninsula and over the western desert; and below the normal in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the eastern states of Central India. The excess in the Peninsula was most marked (as it was during the previous week) in the Madras coast districts, where the maximum or day temperatures ranged from 7·5° to 12·4° above the normal at Cocanada and Masulipatam.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, July 16th.—Pressure had risen generally everywhere, but by small amounts; except in parts of Bengal and North Bombay, where it had risen briskly. The depression shown in Bengal on Saturday, the 15th July, had advanced into the North-Western Provinces and had almost filled up. Winds had decreased in Bengal and were irregular in direction, thus affording indications that another depression was in course of formation in Bengal. Temperatures were in large excess on the Madras Coast and in considerable to large defect in the North-Western Provinces, Bihar and the eastern states of Central India. Moderate general rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Upper India hill and submontane districts.

Monday, July 17th.—The barometer had fallen briskly in the North-Western Provinces and in Bengal. The depression in the North-Western Provinces had intensified slightly and was better defined than it had been the day before; and another depression had formed in Bengal Temperatures were in large excess on the Madras Coast, and in considerable to large defect in the North-Western Provinces and eastern states of Central India. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Burma and Bengal; and light to moderate rain in the North-Western Provinces, Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand. Winds had strengthened at Saugor Island and were cyclonic in direction in Bengal.

Tuesday, July 18th.—Pressure had risen slightly in the Punjab; and had fallen briskly in Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Bombay. The depression in Bengal had moved in a west-north-westerly direction and had coalesced with the depression in the North-Western Provinces Temperature was in considerable to large excess in the central districts of the Punjab, the Madras Coast and the Madras Deccan; and in moderate to large defect in the central parts of the country, the North-Western Provinces and Chota Nagpur. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in the Central Provinces and light to moderate rain in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the South-Eastern Punjab, the eastern hill districts of Upper India and the eastern states of Central India.

Wednesday, July 19th.—The barometer had risen briskly in Lower and Central Burma and had changed by small amounts elsewhere. The depression in the North-Western Provinces was practically unchanged in position and character. Rain had fallen over the same areas as on the previous day, but had not been so heavy in the Central Provinces. Temperature was in large excess on the Madras Coast and in large defect in the central districts of the Central Provinces and Central Burma. It was in moderate to considerable excess in the Punjab, Rajputana, Gujarat, the Bombay and Madras Deccan and South India.

Thursday, July 20th.—Pressure had changed by small amounts and the general distribution of pressure had not altered. The depression in the North-Western Provinces remained unchanged in position and character. Temperature had risen very rapidly in Berar and the southern districts of the Central Provinces. It continued in large excess in the Madras Coast, and was in considerable defect in the eastern states of Central India and the adjacent districts. Showers had fallen in the Punjab plains; and moderate to heavy rain had been received in Burma, Bengal and the North-Western Provinces. Light to moderate rain had fallen in the Eastern Upper India hill districts, the Central Provinces and the eastern states of Central India.

Friday, July 21st.—The barometer had risen slightly in the Punjab and in the area of the depression in the North-Western Provinces, which had partly filled up. Temperature continued unusually high in the Peninsula, the Punjab and over the western desert; the largest abnormal excess occurring on the Madras Coast, in the southern districts of the Central Provinces and the central districts of the Punjab. It was below the normal in Upper Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the eastern states of Central India. Rain had decreased in the North-Western Provinces and had almost ceased in the Central Provinces. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Burma and Bengal.

Saturday, July 22nd.—Pressure had risen briskly in the West Punjab and Upper Sind in the west, and over the greater part of Bengal and Assam in the east. The depression in the North-Western Provinces had filled up. Temperature conditions remained practically unchanged. Maximum temperatures from 9° to 12° above the normal had been registered at Cocanada, Masulipatam and Lahore. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Bengal and light to moderate rain in Burma, the North-Western Provinces and Upper India hill districts.

Temperature.—The principal features of the temperature conditions were the same throughout the week, viz., abnormally high temperatures in the Peninsula and over the western desert, and abnormally low temperatures in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the eastern states of Central India. The variations in temperature have thus closely followed the distribution of rainfall.

The largest daily changes have occurred in Chota Nagpur, the Central Provinces and Berar, where temperature changed inversely with the amount of rain received. The mean temperature of the whole week was normal in Burma, Orissa, Sind and the Central Provinces; in slight defect in Assam, Bengal and Chota Nagpur; and in moderate to considerable defect in Bihar, the North-Western Provinces and Central India. It was in slight excess in Gujarat, the Bombay Deccan and Mysore; in moderate excess in the Punjab, Rajputana, Berar, the West Coast, the Madras Deccan and South India; and in large excess on the Madras Coast.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

The mean temperature for the whole of India varied from —0·1° on the 18th to + 1·1° on the 20th. It was practically normal during the first three days of the week, but it rose a degree on the 19th and continued about a degree above the normal for the remainder of the week. For the whole week the variation from the normal amounted to +0·7°.

Rain—During the week under review rain has been restricted chiefly to Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the Upper India hills. The Central Provinces and Central India have also received rain, but the amounts received have not been equal to the normal rainfall, except in the central division of the Central Provinces, where the deficiency amounted to only 10 per cent., and where the rainfall of the week may thus be considered normal. Amounts in excess of the normal have been received in nearly all the divisions of Burma and Bengal and the whole of the North-Western Provinces. The only divisions in Burma and Bengal that have received less rain than usual are Lower Burma Deltaic, Upper Burma, North Bengal, Bengal Hills and Orissa. In the Punjab rainfall has been in defect, with the exception of the Punjab Hills, where it has been in slight excess. Over the whole of the remainder of India the rainfall of the week has been in slight to large defect. Practically no rain has fallen in North Bombay and Madras. In the Bombay and Malabar coast districts showers have been received, but the amounts recorded have been largely below the normal.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period June 4th to July 22nd was normal or in slight defect in Burma, normal or in slight to large excess in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces, in defect in the South and West Punjab, and normal or in slight excess in the remaining divisions of the Punjab In Coorg, the eastern division of the Central Provinces, Central India and the eastern division of Rajputana rainfall was normal; but in all the remaining divisions of the Bombay, Malabar coast districts, the Central Provinces and Rajputana and in all the divisions of North Bombay and Madras it was in slight to large defect.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 22nd July.—Light rain fell on the West Coast and in some parts of the Circars, but there was practically none elsewhere. The water-supply under large irrigation works is generally good, but elsewhere it is scanty and is diminishing. Some cultivation is going on and sowings are in progress under irrigation; but elsewhere they are greatly retarded and the best season for early crops is passing away in many places. The standing crops are suffering almost everywhere. Pasture is growing more scanty; but fodder is generally sufficient; and the condition of cattle is still normal. Prices have risen almost everywhere, except on the West Coast. The continued holding off of the rains renders prospects gloomy.

Bombay.—For week ending 26th July.—Light rain fell in the Konkan, the western tracts of the Deccan and Karnatak and in some talukas of Surat and Broach during the week, but there was none elsewhere. Rain is urgently wanted throughout the Presidency. Agricultural operations are progressing in Sind, Khandesh, Thana, and Kanara; elsewhere they are generally stopped for want of rain. The young crops have withered in parts of Bijapur and are withering over the greater part of the Deccan, Guzerat and Kathiawar, and in some parts of the Konkan. Fodder is scarce in parts of Sind, Khandesh, Nasik, and Baroda territory. Agricultural stock is generally healthy. Prices have risen in fourteen districts and are stationary elsewhere.

Bengal.—For week ending 24th July.—There has been general and heavy rain, except in Orissa, where more is wanted. The transplanting of winter rice is generally in progress, but a break in the weather would be beneficial, especially for the low lands and in some places where seedlings have been damaged. The continuous heavy rain has done injury to the young autumn crops throughout the Patna division ard in parts of Bhagalpur, Chota Nagpur, and South-West Bengal. The cutting of jute and early rice has begun in places in North and East Bengal. Sugarcane is doing well. Fodder is sufficient. Prices of common rice are reported to have slightly risen in a few districts, but are on the whole stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 26th July.—Heavy rain continued to fall during the week and agricultural operations have in consequence been greatly retarded. Injury to crops on lowlying lands is reported from several districts. A break is much needed to enable sowings to be completed and to bring up the young crops. Transplantation of rice is in progress in places. Supplies and fodder are sufficient. Prices are generally stationary.

Punjab.—For week ending 26th July.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Mooltan and Dera Ismail Khan. Harvesting of extra spring crops is nearly over. Sowings of autumn crops have finished in Delhi and Umballa and are in progress elsewhere. More rain is wanted over the greater part of the Province. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are reported good from all districts, except from parts of Rawalpindi. The recent rain has benefited the standing crops to a certain extent. Vegetables are being eaten by caterpillars in Dera Ismail Khan. The condition of cattle is generally fair and is improving in Hissar. Deaths of sheep and goats from starvation are reported from Dera Ismail Khan. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Hissar and parts of Lahore, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan. Owing to the recent rains green grass is obtainable in most districts. Prices are rising in Umballa and Peshawar; falling in Amritsar, Rawalpindi, and Dera Ismail Khan; and are unchanged elsewhere. Wheat is selling from 17 to 22, barley 28 to 31, gram 18 to 22½, maize 24 to 38, great millet 18, bulrush-millet 15 to 23, and rice 13 to 14 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 25th July.—The rainfall of the week has again been ample in the Northern districts and in Sambalpur; in Balaghat, Raipur, and Bilaspur also there has been fair, though insufficient rain; elsewhere merely light showers have been received and in Chanda only 5 cents making 12 cents for the last fortnight. The position in that district is critical, the damage already caused being estimated at 4 annas in the rupee. In all the Wainganga and Nagpur country tanks are low and fodder is scarce. Transplantation of rice is at a standstill, and unless good rain is received soon the damage to the rice crops will be very serious and loss of cattle is apprehended. In Raipur and Bilaspur want of rain is hardly less urgent. In Wardha the crops are beginning to wither and rain is also needed in Betul and Chhindwara. In the rest of the districts, where good rain has been received, prospects are excellent and agricultural operations are progressing well. In Saugor, Damoh, and Hoshangabad—3,538, 2,506, and 1,279 persons are on village relief; and in the last district 102 persons are in receipt of gratuitous relief. Village relief has been opened in the Pandaria zamindari of Bilaspur and 1,315 persons are now on the list. Prices are now rising in Nagpur and the rice districts, but elsewhere changes are unimportant. The cheapest prices are—wheat 19, gram 29, rice 20, and juar 26 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 11, gram 15, rice 10, and juar 18 seers per rupee.

Burma.—For week ending 22nd July.—In Lower Burma ploughing is nearly completed in Pegu and Kyaukpyu and sowing and transplanting continue. In Upper Burma reaping of early wet weather paddy progresses in the Southern Shan States, Mandalay, and Kyaukse. In Mandalay prospects of the early crops are poor. Ploughing for and sowing and transplanting of wet weather paddy continue. Ploughing for and sowing of upland crops continue in Sagaing, the Lower Chindwin, Meiktila, and the Salé township of Myingyan. Want of rain delays operations in the Yamethin and Pyawbwe townships of Yamethin and in the Pagan and Myingyan sub-divisions of Myingyan. Heavy floods have done damage and retarded operations in the Northern Shan States and the Togoung township of the Ruby Mines district. The standing crops are good owing to timely rainfall in Minbu and in Kyaukse, where canal water is now plentiful; they are fair elsewhere. More rain is wanted in the Koma township of Thayetmyo, Pakôkku, the Sheinmaga township of Shwebo and the Budalin sub-division of the Lower Chindwin. The standing crops in Myingyan have withered in almost all townships. Sesamum and paddy are withering in two townships of Meiktila and sesamum and cotton have suffered in Sagaing. Price of paddy has risen slightly in Rangoon, Pegu, Thongwa, Henzada, and Myingyan; and has fallen in Pakôkku.

Assam.—For week ending 25th July.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for late rice is in progress. Transplanting of late rice has commenced in places. Plucking and manufacture of tea continue. Planting of sugarcane is in progress in Lakhimpur. Prospects of tea are generally good, but mosquito blight is prevalent in Cachar. Early rice is being reaped in Sylhet and Goalpara. The condition of jute is good in Sylhet and Goalpara. Fodder is scarce in Cachar, Nowgong, and in parts of Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Gauhati, and Dhubri 16; Sylhet 22¾; Tezpur, Nowgong, and Dibrugarh 13; and Sibsagar 11 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 25th July.—MYSORE: Rainfall—10 cents in the Civil and Military station and slight rain in parts of the Province. Rain is much needed. The standing crops are withering in parts. Prices have risen slightly in Kolar, Tumkur, and Kadur. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of Tumkur, Shimoga, and Kadur.

COORG: Rainfall—60 cents. Transplanting of rice is progressing, but rain is badly wanted. Prices are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 26th July.—BERAR: The weather is cloudy. Cotton, jowar, and tur (Cajanus indicus) are suffering for want of moisture. Preparation of land continues. Jowar sowings are in progress. Weeding has commenced. Scarcity of fodder and water prevails in parts of the Provinces. Prices show a tendency to rise.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—1 cent. The autumn and hot weather rice sowings are drying up and sowing operations are retarded on account of the continued absence of rain. Strong winds are affecting the young shoots. The water-supply is decreasing; pasture is getting scarce. Prices of grain are rising. Prices—wheat 9½, coarse rice 10, and jowari 21¼ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 26th July.—The rainfall of the week was general throughout Central India, except in Malwa and Bhopawar Agencies. Agricultural operations are in progress. The standing crops and pasturage are in good condition, except in Bhopawar, where they are withering for want of rain. Agricultural stock are in good condition in all Agencies. Prices are below normal in Bundelkhand; rising in Malwa; and are normal elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 26th July.—Rainfall—Kerowli 3·05; Bhurtpore 1·73; and Alwar 1·08; below half an inch in Jhallawar; average in Haraoti 0·13; Dholepore 3·21; and Bikanir ·57. Slight rain in Abu, Jeypore, and Kotah; but none elsewhere. Agricultural operations are proceeding satisfactorily in parts, and ploughing and sowing continue. The crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Kerowli. There is no change in the condition of cattle, but a slight improvement in the fodder-supply where rain has fallen. Prices are rising in Meywar and Haraoti; and are steady elsewhere. 116 persons emigrated from the Merwara district during the week. The total emigration to date numbers—4,699. The numbers employed on relief works were—Marwar 295; Merwara 8,300. On ordinary works—Merwara 82. On gratuitous relief—257. Prices—Ajmere and Beawar 18 and Marwar 14 seers per rupee. The prolonged break in the rains causes anxiety in South and West Rajputana, especially in Ajmere-Merwara, Jodhpore, Jeysulmere, and Bikanir. The season is phenomenally dry in Abu.

Kashmir.—For week ending 25th July.—The weather is fine. The crops have been harvested. The autumn crops are in good condition. Prices continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 26th July.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are generally stationary. Price—wheat 17 to 22 and maize 23 to 30 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is good. Sowings of autumn crops are in progress. Fodder is sufficient. Some damage to crops by worms has been reported in the Bamba tehsil of the Jammu district.

Nepal.—For week ending 22nd July.—Rainfall 1·68 inches. The weather has been warm and close. The crops are in good condition.

2. Systematic survey was carried on in the Central Provinces, Central India, Western Rajputana, the Himalayas and Baluchistan. In the Central Provinces Mr. Bose continued the survey of the southern parts of the Raipur district with the adjoining Native States and completed about 2,100 square miles, and Mr. Smith, who was also employed in these provinces, succeeded in geologically mapping some 5,000 square miles in the southern portion of what is known in Indian geology as the Chhatisgarh basin. In South Rewa, Central India, Mr. Oldham continued the work which had been carried on during past years under his supervision, and also examined a part of the Lower Vindhyan area in Mirzapur with the view of obtaining further information regarding the relation of the Lower to the Upper Vindhyans. The survey has been completed, and the observations made by the different officers, who carried out the survey, will be embodied in a report which will be published as a " Memoir " at an early date. The survey of Western Rajputana was carried on by Mr. LaTouche. The area under survey during the year embraced the greater portion of the Jodhpur State and the work thus accomplished, added to that of the past two years, appears to have advanced the survey of Rajputana to a stage at which it can be left for a time at least. After an interval of some years the geological survey of the higher ranges of the Himalayas was resumed. Mr. Hayden proceeded to Spiti during the recess season to make detailed studies in the region of the Upper Pin Valley and succeeded not only in making a valuable and interesting collection of fossils, including a number of new forms, but in adding generally to the knowledge previously acquired of that region. Dr. Fritz Noetling, the Palæontologist, continued survey work in the Western Mari hills and in the western portion of the Zhob valley, with the object of filling in the blank patches left on the maps of that area and of collecting fossils. He also visited Fort Sandeman and Thanishpa in the hills bounding the Zhob valley on the north and obtained results of considerable importance. Mr. Vredenburg was permitted to accompany the party of the Political Officer at Chagai during his usual cold-weather tour through the district and up to the Seistan frontier. Although the tour did not offer many opportunities of enlarging the existing knowledge of the geology of that country, connected observations of some interest were obtained and will be published.

3. Economic work received a full share of attention during the year. Three officers and a sub-assistant were employed entirely upon mica investigations. Dr. Walker was posted to the Nellore district of Madras, while Messrs. Holland and Hayden with the sub-assistant, Lala Kishen Singh, worked in the Hazaribagh and Gya districts of Bengal. The results of the enquiry will be published in the course of the next year as a part of the Manual of Geology of India. It seems clear from the preliminary reports that the industry has proved remunerative in spite of wasteful and primitive methods of working, and that a considerable development may be expected in the future.

Mr. LaTouche re-visited the locality of a coal seam discovered near Palana in the Bikanir State and reported on by him in 1896. The coal is reported to be inferior in quality to the Bengal coal. But the field is apparently extensive, fuel is scarce, the position is favourable and a prosperous future for the field may not unreasonably be anticipated.

4. Amongst the items of miscellaneous work performed by the officers of the Department were the examination by Mr. Middlemiss of the landslip which occurred at Naini Tal in August 1898, on which a full report was submitted.

Mr. Holland was deputed to Mysore in connection with the Marikanave irrigation project, and also assisted the officers of the Madras Government in examining the sites for an irrigation project in the Bhawani valley.

5. In the Museum progress was made in the re-arrangement of fhe collection. A large number of economic specimens in the mineral and rock gallery has been labelled, and the collection of type-fossils is now in complete order. A substantial amount of assay work was carried out in the laboratory in spite of difficulties connected with the position and structure of the building. Dr. Noetling was engaged after his return to head-quarters in describing Baluchistan fossils and the miocene fauna of Burma. Dr. A von Krafft was entrusted with the study and determination of the collection of Spiti fossils, and the results of his examination will be published in the Palæontologia Indica.

Large collections of fossils belonging to the Department are still in the hands of scientists in Europe, who are describing them for publication in the Palæontologia Indica. The Government of India concur in the Director's remarks as to the indebtedness of the Department to Professor Eduard Suess, the President of the Imperial Academy of Science of Austria, who has during a number of years given generous and gratuitous help and advice in connection with the palæontological work of the Department.

6. Mr. Oldham was placed on duty in Europe for a short time in extension of privilege leave for the purpose of consulting certain books on earthquakes which are not available in India The result will be incorporated in his report on the earthquake of 1897, which will be published shortly. While on privilege leave in Europe, Mr. Holland examined Leschenault de la Tour's collection of South Indian rocks and minerals at Paris, and the result has been embodied in an appendix to his memoir on the geology of "the neighbourhood of Salem." The Department is greatly indebted to Professors Fouque and Lacroix for the assistance afforded by them to Mr. Holland.

7. The Director's report shows that much useful work has been accomplished by the officers of the Department during the year under review in the direction of economic as well as of purely scientific exploration, and the Governor General in Council is pleased to express his satisfaction with the manner in which the work of the Department has been conducted.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Geological Survey of India and to Local Governments and Administrations, and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

No. 786 C. W. I., dated Simla, the 2nd August, 1899.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Review of the Revenue and Expenditure recorded under the head "Irrigation Works" in the Accounts of the Government of India for 1897-98.

Read—

Note by A. R. Becher, Esq., Accountant General, Public Works Department, upon the accounts of Revenue and Expenditure of Irrigation Works in India for 1897-98.

OBSERVATIONS.—The results obtained from Irrigation Works in India have already been noticed by the Government of India, separately for each province, in the reviews on the Irrigation Revenue Reports submitted by the several Local Governments and Administrations. The Accountant General's note however brings those results together, giving the returns for each class of work throughout India and comparing the results obtained in one province with those recorded in others. The classification of the works is explained in paragraph 2 of the note. Of the Productive Works 34 are in operation and 7 under construction, while of the Protective class 5 works only are in operation.

PRODUCTIVE WORKS.

2. The financial results obtained from the 34 Productive Works in operation are shewn in the statement below:

Productive works.	Number of works.	Capital outlay to end of 1897-98.	Net revenue in 1897-98.	Return on Capital Outlay.	Accumulated net revenue up to end of 1897-98.	Accumulated interest charges on Capital Outlay to end of 1897-98.	Surplus Revenue up to end of 1897-98.
		Rx.	Rx.	Per cent.	Rx.	Rx.	Rx.
Works sanctioned as productive but not productive according to definition now in force.	13	9,722,756	91,213	0·94	244,626	7,988,073	—7,743,447
Works which are actually productive according to definition now in force.	21	21,507,176	2,258,388	10·50	31,496,570	17,738,664	13,757,906
TOTAL ...	34	31,229,932	2,349,601	7·52	31,741,196	25,726,737	6,014,459

These results are very satisfactory. Taken collectively the Productive Works in operation paid a return of 7·52 per cent. on the capital invested in them against 6·41 per cent. in 1896-97, while the 21 works which fulfil the conditions of their class paid 10½ per cent. as compared with 9 per cent. returned in the previous year. The surplus revenue, after paying all interest charges, contributed by the Productive Works in operation, rose from Rx. 4,816,271 at the end of 1896-97 to Rx. 6,011,459 at the end of 1897-98. The satisfactory results recorded of these works in 1896-97 have thus been surpassed by the returns of 1897-98.

3. Taken collectively by provinces, the Productive Works in operation gave the results shown below during the year:

Province	Number of works	Area irrigated.	Capital outlay to end of 1897-98	Net revenue in 1897-98.	Percentage of net revenue on capital outlay.
Irrigation.		Acres.	Rx.	Rx.
Punjab	6	*3,917,[illegible]41	8,302,246	870,728	10·49

Sind	4	753,822	987,978	94,260	9·54
Bombay	7	33,071	1,091,012	13,953	1·28
Total Irrigation .	33	10,310,576	30,908,408	2,314,397	7·57
Navigation Hijili Tidal Canal .	1		261,524	5,204	1·99

* Includes 103,150 acres irrigated in Native States.

The gross revenue derived from these works amounted to Rx. 3,711,316 or Rx. 109,630 more than in 1896-97. The rate per acre was Rs. 3·6 against Rs. 3·2 in the previous year.

PROTECTIVE WORKS.

4. The five Protective Works in operation gave the following results during the year:

Province.	Number of works	Area irrigated	Capital outlay to end of 1897-98.	Net revenue in 1897-98	Percentage of net revenue on capital outlay.
		Acres.	Rx.	Rx.
North-Western Provinces	1	1[illegible],934	4[illegible]0,202	2,288	0·58
Madras	1	67,518	461,112	2,521	0·54
Bombay . . .	2	53,767	771,311	5,532	0·71
Total .	5	508,575	2,038,725	39,833	1·92

The gross revenue derived from these works amounted to Rx. 80,350 as compared with Rx. 60,956 in 1896-97 and Rx. 43,658 in 1895-96.

5. Taking Productive and Protective works together, or all Major Works, the area irrigated during the year amounted to 10,649,152 acres as shown in the statement below, which gives also the value of the crops irrigated, for each province, and the rate per acre of the assessed irrigation revenue :

Province.	Area irrigated.	Value of crops irrigated.	Value of crops per acre	Assessed revenue per acre irrigated. 1897-98.	1896-97.	1895-96.
	Acres.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Punjab . . .	4,055,898*	12,23,21,032	30·2	3·4	3·6	3·6
North-Western Provinces	2,345,486	8,17,63,417	21·8	3·3	3·5	4·0
Madras . . .	2,705,915	8,31,15,772	30·7	4·2	4·1	4·2
Bombay-Sind . .	753,822	1,18,05,327	15·7	1·7	1·8	1·8
Bombay-Deccan and Gujarat	86,778	39,48,659	45·5	4·4	5·0	7·3
Bengal . . .	701,253	2,62,37,243	37·4	1·9	1·8	1·8
Total .	10,649,152	32,91,91,150	31·0	3·5	3·5	3·6

* Includes 403,120 acres irrigated in Native States.

The rate per acre of the assessed revenue has varied very little in each Province during the three years except in the Deccan and Gujarat, where it has decreased from 7·3 in 1895-96 to 4·4 in 1897-98. This is due to the substitution of low-rated food crops for sugarcane during the famine, the cultivation of the latter crop having been also affected by the plague and by the low rates which prevailed for raw sugar.

6. The statement in paragraph 29 of the Accountant-General's note of the cost of maintaining and working the Major Works per acre irrigated by them shows that the rate is highest in the Deccan and Gujarat, where in 1897-98 it was Rs. 5·8 per acre, and lowest in Sind, where it was only annas 8 per acre. In all provinces, except Madras, where the rate has increased from Re. 0·8 to Re. 0·9, the tendency has been for the cost per acre to diminish since 1894-95. In the Punjab the cost was Re. 0·[illegible], in the North-Western Provinces Re. 1·2, and in Bengal Rs. 2 per acre during the year.

Taking the percentage of maintenance and working on gross revenue, Madras shows the most favourable result with a percentage of 19·6 and is followed by the Punjab with a percentage of 26·1, by the North-Western Provinces with 27·2, by Sind with 28·7, by the Deccan and Gujarat with 61·3 and by Bengal last with 63·2. With the exception of the Deccan and Gujarat, where the percentage has risen during the last three years from 43 to 61·3, there has been a steady decrease in all the provinces since 1895-96 in the ratio of working expenses to gross revenue.

MINOR WORKS FOR WHICH CAPITAL AND REVENUE ACCOUNTS ARE KEPT.

7. Taken collectively by provinces, these works gave the following results during the year:

Province.	Number of works	Area irrigated.	Capital outlay to end of 1897-98.	Net revenue in 1897-98.	Percentage of net return on capital outlay.

* These figures represent the area the cultivation of which depends upon the protection afforded by the embankments

The Sind and Punjab Inundation Canals gave, as usual, the best results, paying 26·22 per cent. and 24·07 per cent., respectively, on their capital, as compared with 20·83 per cent. and 13·51 per cent. in the previous year. In Burma, this class of works is represented entirely by embankments, mostly on the banks of the Irrawaddy, which have been of great benefit in reclaiming waste lands and protecting them from floods. The area, which at an outlay of Rx. 337,019 has been protected in this manner, amounts to 469,663 acres and the net revenue was equivalent to a return on capital of nearly 20 per cent.

MINOR WORKS FOR WHICH ONLY REVENUE ACCOUNTS ARE KEPT.

8. The results obtained from these works during the year were as follows:

Area irrigated	1,969,690 acres.
	Rx.
Gross receipts	467,550
Expenditure	184,236
Net revenue	283,314

The expenditure includes the cost of extensions and improvements which, in the case of works for which capital accounts are kept, would be charged against capital.

9. The table given in paragraph 2 of this review shows the surplus revenue derived from Productive Works up to the end of the year after deducting interest at 4 per cent. on the total capital outlay. But though, for purposes of account, interest on the full direct capital outlay is charged against each work, it is not actually payable on any portion of the outlay not met from borrowed money. The results of the irrigation works in India as they affect the general tax-payer were as follows up to the end of the year:

	During 1897-98.	To end of 1897-98.

* These figures represent the gross revenue due to the expenditure of Government capital less collection charges.

The results shewn above do not take into account those due to Minor Works for which neither Capital nor Revenue Accounts are kept; for, although a large amount of land revenue depends on the efficient maintenance of these works, it is impossible to say how much of it is directly due to the expenditure incurred on them by Government.

10. The total area irrigated by all classes of Irrigation Works in India in 1897-98 was 19 million acres, and the value of the crops raised on this area is estimated at 45 crores of rupees.

CURRENCY CONVERSION (ARMY ANNUAL) BILL.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL SIR EDWIN COLLEN moved that the Bill to provide for the conversion into British Indian currency of sums expressed in British currency in the Army Act be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MAJOR-GENERAL SIR EDWIN COLLEN moved that the Bill be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

TELEGRAPHIC PRESS MESSAGES BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill to provide for the protection of certain telegraphic press messages be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Raleigh, the Hon'ble Mr. Dawkins and the mover, with instructions to report after one month.

The motion was put and agreed to.

PRISONERS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved for leave to introduce a Bill to consolidate the law relating to Prisoners confined by order of a Court. He said:—"This Bill was described by my predecessor as a novelty in Indian legislation. It is a Bill of pure consolidation and makes no change in the substance of the law. In the Imperial Parliament, as Your Lordship is aware, Consolidation Bills are referred to a Joint Committee consisting, for the most part, of legal experts, and, if the Committee reports favourably, the Bill is passed by a sort of self-denying ordinance, the Government making no change in the substance of the law, and private members offering no amendments of substance. In India, I hope that no special rules may be necessary in order to pass a Bill of this character. Apart, altogether, from any changes we may desire to make in the substance of the law, there can be no doubt at all that consolidation will be useful as bringing together the enactments scattered through a number of statutes and thereby saving time and trouble to those who have to administer the law. The draft Bill as it came to me contained one or two trifling alterations, but those alterations, though they were improvements, have been struck out in order that I might introduce this Bill as a Consolidation Bill; and if it is the first I hope it may not be the last that I shall be in charge of."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RALEIGH moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official Gazettes in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

CENTRAL PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Court of Wards in the Central Provinces. He said:—"The Act which at present regulates the superintendence of the person and property of Government Wards in the Central Provinces was framed in 1885. Since then, the whole question of Court of Wards' management has been thoroughly considered by the Government of India in consultation with Local Governments, and the law on the subject is at present being amended and improved in most Provinces by the local legislatures. In the Central Provinces also, the present law needs improvement and consolidation, in order to make it more clear, precise and effective. The principal amendments embodied in the Bill which I am asking leave to introduce are that the Commissioner of the Division will in future be the Court of Wards in place of the Deputy Commissioner of the District; the Local Government will have power to declare persons to be incapable of managing their property on account of mental as well as physical defects or infirmities; it will also be able, on the application of a proprietor, to place his property under the superintendence of the Court of Wards, when it is thought expedient in the public interest to do so; provision is made for the early ascertainment of the liabilities of wards' properties and the prompt adjudication of claims against them; also for preventing a ward from creating any fresh encumbrances on his estate while it is under the management of the Court of Wards; and, lastly, the Court of Wards will have the power to retain charge of an estate, with the sanction of the Local Government, until all debts and liabilities are discharged, when a ward dies or ceases to be disqualified, if his property is still encumbered at such time. The reasons for these various amendments in the present law are given in the Statement of Objects and Reasons which is appended to the Bill, and I need not take up the time of the Council by repeating them."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the Central Provinces Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Administration thinks fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

PUNJAB COURTS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Punjab Courts Act, 1884. He said :—"The law of the Punjab in regard to appeals from appellate decrees in civil suits differs from the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code on this subject in the following respects. Under the Code no second appeal lies in any suit of the nature cognizable in a Court of Small Causes, when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the original suit does not exceed 500 rupees; but in all other suits, a second appeal lies to the High Court on the ground that the decision appealed against is contrary to some specified law or usage having the force of law, or that it has failed to determine some material issue of law or usage having the force of law, or that there has been some substantial error or defect in the prescribed procedure, which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision of the case upon the merits. In the Punjab, the law since 1888 has been as follows. All civil suits are classified under three heads, namely, (1) small causes, (2) land suits and (3) unclassed suits,—this last head including all suits which are neither small causes nor land suits. A second, or, as it is termed in the Punjab Courts Act, a further, appeal is allowed to the Chief Court on any ground which would be a good ground of appeal if the decree had been passed in an original suit, in the following cases, namely, (1) if the value of the suit is 1,000 rupees or upwards, or the decree involves directly some claim to, or question respecting, property of like value; or (2) in a land suit where the decree of the appellate Court varies or reverses, otherwise than as to costs, the decree of the Court below; or (3) if on the application of any party, except in small causes of less value than 1,000 rupees or in unclassed suits of the value of 100 rupees or under, the Judge of the appellate Court certifies that there is a question of law or custom involved, and that the case is, in his opinion, of sufficient importance to justify a further appeal.

"Experience has shown that this present law of further appeal in the Punjab is undesirably wide, especially as regards the facilities it affords for protracted litigation in petty land suits; that a great deal of the time of the Chief Court is taken up in dealing with comparatively trifling and unimportant cases; and that, consequently, under the present circumstances, the Punjab requires a Chief Court of six Judges, which is the same strength as that of the High Court of the North-Western Provinces, whose jurisdiction extends over a population half as large again as that of the Punjab. Both in the interests of the people and on the ground of reasonable economy, the Government of India think it very necessary to curtail the present facilities of appeal in the Punjab, to reduce the present number of the Chief Court Judges to a strength appropriate to the circumstances of a poor and comparatively small province like the Punjab, and to enable the Court, by relieving it of its present burden of petty appellate business, to devote a proper amount of time to the important duty of supervision of the work of the lower Courts. The measures for attaining these objects, which are embodied in the Bill which I am introducing, have been framed after careful deliberation and consultation with the Punjab Government and the Chief Court, and they are, for the most part, based on a scheme submitted by the Lieutenant-Governor and approved by the Judges. It is proposed to maintain the present system of second appeal in its main principles, that is, when such an appeal is allowed at all, to allow it on the whole case and not only on questions of law or custom, but the money limit, subject to which further appeals are allowed, is being raised for each class of suit, and a broad distinction is made between cases in which there are two concurrent decisions and those in which the decree of the first Court is varied or reversed by the appellate Court. It is proposed to allow a further appeal in small causes only when the value is of 1,000 rupees or upwards in the case of two conflicting decisions and in no case when there are two concurrent decisions; in land suits, only when the value is of 250 rupees or upwards in the case of two conflicting, and of 1,000 rupees or upwards in the case of two concurrent, decisions; and in unclassed suits, only when the value is of 1,000 rupees or upwards in the case of two conflicting decisions, and of 2,500 rupees or upwards when they are concurrent.

"At the same time, it is proposed to abolish the present system of certificate appeal on questions of law or custom, as being unsuitable to the circumstances of the Punjab, and in its stead to enlarge the revision powers of the Chief Court. These powers are at present more restricted than those conferred by section 622 of the Civil Procedure Code upon High Courts. A High Court can interfere on the revision side when a lower Court acts, in the exercise of its jurisdiction, illegally or with material irregularity; but in the application of section 622 to the Punjab, the words "illegally or" have been omitted. It is proposed to extend the present revisional power of the Chief Court to non-appealable cases in which a question of law or custom and of general interest is involved, on application being made within 30 days from the date of the order in respect of which the application is made."

His Honour THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR said:—"Not having had yet an opportunity of studying the provisions of the Bill, I am unable, at the present time, to enter into details, but I think it is proper that I should state at this stage that I am in entire concurrence with the views of my Hon'ble friend in the matter of this Bill. A great deal of correspondence has taken place in connection with it, and as the Hon'ble Mr. Rivaz says, and so far as I can judge from the account which he has given of the Bill it is framed mainly upon the recommendations of the Local Government which, however, were undoubtedly called for by the remarks of the Government of India in connection with the administration of the Courts of Criminal and Civil Justice in the Province. The measure may be said to be one very largely in the interests of economy, and it may be a question whether the state of litigation in the Punjab is such as to require such a large Bench as the present Chief Court of the Punjab. I think that probably in regard to this matter there will be something to be said in the course of the discussions that will ensue on this Bill. The conditions of litigation in the Punjab are very different from those prevailing in other Provinces with which the Punjab is very often compared, and I think that in all probability it would be possible to justify the past action of the Local Government when, from time to time, it has asked for extra Judges to sit on the Bench of the Chief Court. However, I think that all are agreed that the time has come when, without sacrificing unduly the interests of justice, it is possible to make some economies, and the present Bill is largely aimed at doing this. The provisions of the Bill as explained by the Hon'ble Member have, as I have said, my concurrence."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the Punjab Government Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Government thinks fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 25th August, 1899.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Brief memorandum on the weather in India during the months of June and July, and forecast of the general distribution of the rainfall in India during the months of August and September 1899.

In the forecast issued in the beginning of June it was stated that the monsoon forecasts, as at present issued, necessarily leave out of consideration two important factors on which the agricultural value of the monsoon rainfall largely depends, viz.—

2nd.—The probability of the unusually early termination of the rains in Upper India or in Bengal.

It was stated in the forecast that the conditions, which obtained in the Indian monsoon area in May 1899, were similar to those of May 1897 and of May 1898, and that the conditions in India itself were favourable for a normal monsoon and well distributed rains over by far the greater part of India.

The actual character of the monsoon rains in June was in fair accordance with the forecast. Unfavourable conditions, however, set in during the last week of June, and a more complete and prolonged break in the rains has obtained over the whole area, usually dominated by the Bombay or Arabian Sea current, during the month of July than has certainly occurred during the past 20 years and probably during the past 50 or 60 years.

A brief forecast for the months of August and September is now usually drawn up for the information of the Government of India in the beginning of August. The present memorandum is an extension of the forecast and is published by order of the Government of India.

In the present memorandum a brief statement is given: first, of the weather and snowfall in the mountain areas to the north-west of India during the months of June and July; and, secondly, of the character of the monsoon rains and weather during the same period; and, thirdly, of an estimate of the probable character of the rainfall of August and September based on these data.

Summary of the reports of snowfall on the North-Western Himalayas in May, June and July 1899.

The following gives snowfall reports for the period 16th May to the 25th July received from Chitral, Chamba, Kulu, Garhwal and Kumaon.

(1) CHITRAL.

The Medical Officer and Superintendent of the Observatory writes as follows on the 25th July:

From three to six inches snow fell in the month of June down to 10,000 feet on mountains surrounding Chitral to a distance of about 15 miles. The weather was rainy and cloudy in the valley of Chitral. The snow accumulation varied between 3 and 6 inches in depth. There was nothing unusual in the weather although the snowfall was less than during the corresponding period of the previous year.

(2) KASHMIR.

The following report has been received from Dr. Mitra, Meteorological Reporter, Kashmir State:

In the hills round Minimarg towards the northern side of the valley frequent but light snowfalls were observed in June. In July there was also slight snowfall. On the western hills observed at Gulmarg fresh snowfall was seen on the 11th and 12th June, but

July.—The abnormal pressure conditions initiated in the last week of June held steadily until nearly the end of July. There was on the mean of the month an abnormal gradient of nearly a tenth of an inch between Western India and North-Eastern India, due to the persistent excess of pressure in the former area and the equally persistent defect in the Gangetic Plain and Bengal. Hence throughout the whole month westerly winds of unusual intensity prevailed over the whole area dependent on the Bombay current for rain. As is the usual rule with this distribution of pressure of occasional occurrence in the rains (as from the 19th to the 25th of June last year), the strong westerly winds gave little or no rain. The following gives comparative data of the mean strength of the winds at stations in the normal field of the Bombay current:

Mangalore	3·6	3·2	+ 0·4	+13
Calicut	4·8	9·8	− 5·0	−51

The data show a remarkable contrast between the winds at the Bombay coast stations and the inland stations. At the former winds were below the normal to a slight or moderate extent, whereas at the inland stations they were from 40 to 80 per cent. stronger than usual.

The increased strength of the winds at these stations was a local effect in India, due to the abnormal pressure conditions and accompanied weaker monsoon winds on and off the Sind, Kathiawar and Konkan Coasts.

There was no general rain during the month in any part of the area usually dominated by the Bombay current. The deficiency was hence large over the whole area, but was most marked in the districts of North Bombay, West Rajputana, Berar and the West Deccan, in which the excess of pressure was most marked.

The following data for representative stations show the very serious deficiency over the greater part of the area:

Station.	Rainfall.

Chanda	1·92	18·88	—16·96
Sholapur	0·13	4·29	—4·16

The preceding data indicate that the deficiency was most serious in Cutch, Gujarat, Kathiawar and the West Deccan, over a considerable portion of which the rainfall was actually or practically nil.

In Northern India rain fell almost daily until the 28th. The distribution of the rainfall was largely determined by a series of depressions. The first formed in South-West Bengal on the 6th and 7th and drifted into the North-Western Provinces on the 9th and filled up there. The second formed in South Bengal on the 12th and 13th and drifted very slowly west-north-westwards into the North-Western Provinces on the 17th, and a residual depression lay over that area until the 22nd. The third depression of the month formed in Bihar on the 25th and 26th and filled up in the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces on the 27th and 28th. The rainfall of the month was in large to very large excess over the whole of the Gangetic Plain and Bengal.

The mean pressure of the Indian land area for the month was ·006 inch above the normal. Pressure was, relatively to the general condition, in local defect in Northern India and Burma and in local excess over the remainder of India. The deficiency was large in the West Punjab and North-Eastern India and the excess was pronounced in North Bombay, West Rajputana, Berar and the Konkan where it ranged between ·04 inch and ·06 inch.

Temperature was above the normal over the area of deficient rainfall and the variations were large—more especially in Madras (+3°·1), Mysore (+2°·7), Berar (+2°·5) and Rajputana (+2°·3).

The rainfall of the month was above the normal over the greater part of Northern India and was in large defect in the Peninsula, Central India, Rajputana and the Punjab.

The following table gives data showing the variations of the mean pressure, temperature and rainfall from the normal in the larger provinces :

The data of the rainfall in the previous table are based only on the returns of the meteorological observatories. A more complete view of the distribution is given by the data received weekly from district officers throughout India. These show that of the 55 rainfall divisions or districts into which the plains of India is divided, the rainfall of the two months of June and July, was above the normal in 22 divisions and from normal to 10 per cent. in defect* (or practically normal) in five divisions. In five of the remaining divisions it was between 11 and 24 per cent. in defect. It was over 25 per cent. in defect in twenty-three divisions. It was in general excess in July in Burma, Bengal, Assam, Bihar, Chota Nagpur and the North-Western Provinces and was more or less in defect over the remainder of India. It was more than 25 per cent. in defect in 28 rainfall divisions. The following table gives comparative data of those divisions: first, for the whole period from 4th June to 29th July; and, secondly, for the period 2nd to 29th July:

The data of the preceding table indicate that the drought has been most prolonged and serious in West Rajputana, Berar, the Central Provinces West, Kathiawar, Gujarat; Mysore and the greater part of the Madras Presidency—more especially the Deccan districts and Carnatic.

Summary of conditions at the commencement of August 1899 and comparison with previous similar years.

The pre-monsoon conditions of pressure and temperature of the present year were very similar to those which obtained in the corresponding period of the years 1897 and 1898, and were, on the whole, slightly more favourable than in these years. The advance of the monsoon was slightly delayed in both years, and the currents in June were not so strong as usual in years of favourable conditions. The resemblance between the present and the previous seasons ended in the last week of June. The Seychelles and Mauritius telegrams received from the 15th May to the 22nd July indicate that the south-east trades in the Equatorial Belt were during that period on the whole stronger than usual. The scanty information obtained from vessels crossing the Equatorial Belt and the Arabian Sea shows that a strong monsoon prevailed during that period in the western half of the Arabian Sea and that a weak and diminishing monsoon in the eastern half of that area, and that the monsoon has at the present time withdrawn from the north-east of that sea.

The chief features which have to be taken into consideration in determining the probable distribution of rainfall in August and September are—

1st.—The probable strength and character of the south-east trades.

2nd.—The steadiness and strength of the monsoon currents in the Indian seas—more especially the Arabian Sea, and the causes producing the abnormal weakness in the eastern half of the Arabian Sea.

3rd.—The pressure conditions obtaining at the end of July in India.

4th.—The absence of snowfall in the Himalayan mountain area during June and July.

First.—The information relating to the strength of the south-east trades in the Indian Ocean is scanty (being restricted to data from the Seychelles, Mauritius and Zanzibar and the logs of a few ships). It indicates that the south-east trades were slightly below the normal strength in the beginning of June, but that they were increasing in the last fortnight of that month and were stronger throughout July. Pressure throughout July was steadily in excess over the south-east trades region, and there was an abnormal excess at Mauritius relative to the Seychelles, averaging ·05 inch. Weather was more squally than usual in July, and vessels arriving at Mauritius and the Seychelles reported stronger trades than usual and a strong monsoon off Cape Guardafui and Socotra. Winds were normal in direction at Mauritius, but were more easterly than usual at the Seychelles. Winds were, on the other hand, lighter and more westerly than usual at Zanzibar where weather was more showery than usual. It received a total rainfall of about 5 inches in July as compared with a normal of 2·12 inches. The easterly deflection of the wind at the Seychelles and the increased rainfall at Zanzibar appear to indicate a stronger determination of the monsoon current in the Arabian Sea to Abyssinia and the Lake region of Central Africa. Intelligence of the character of the rise of the Nile would be extremely valuable in confirmation. None has been received except that the Atbara began to rise apparently about a week or fortnight earlier than usual.

Second.—The monsoon current in the Bay has been moderate in strength, but remarkably steady, and has been characterized by an almost complete absence of cyclonic storms in the Bay during the monsoon season to date. The current in the Arabian Sea was also strong and steady from the 9th to the 24th June, after which it decreased in the eastern half, but continued strong in the western half. These changes are, so far as can be judged, in no way related directly as effect to changes in India where the establishment of the abnormal pressure conditions apparently followed the changes in the Arabian Sea. They are, however, explicable on the assumption in the previous paragraph, viz., an unusually strong determination of the monsoon to East Africa and Abyssinia. At the end of July light north-west winds, with a smooth to slight sea, obtained off the Konkan Coast, and there were no indications of early change. Winds have also fallen off in the Bay, and a light monsoon now (2nd August) obtains in the northern half of the Bay.

Third—The pressure anomalies in July were large in amount, and their chief result was to displace the trough of low pressure in Northern India considerably further north than usual during the greater part of the month. It was, however, displaced further south again by the pressure changes in the last week of July. The pressure anomalies and position of the trough of low pressure are fairly constant during periods of general rain, but shift rapidly in breaks during the rains. Little can hence be inferred from the present position of the trough.

Fourth.—Heavy and general snowfall in the Western Himalayas has occasionally occurred in June and July, as, for example, in 1880, and was associated with a prolonged break in the rains in August in that year. The absence of snowfall during the past two months, following the scanty precipitation during the previous winter, indicates that the prolonged break in the rains is not due to unusual snowfall in the Himalayan region, as was probably the case in 1877, 1880 and 1885.

The previous remarks indicate to what extent the present conditions are likely to affect the rainfall of India during the next two months.

The following gives a brief comparison with previous years, in which the hot weather conditions and the general character of the rainfall of June and July were similar to those of the present year. The only years in which the meteorology of the months of June and July more or less resembled that of the corresponding months of the present year are 1876, 1877, 1880 and 1885:

1876.—The winter rains failed almost entirely in North-Western India during the cold weather of 1875-76. The hot weather was hotter and drier than usual. Pressure was below the normal over the whole Indian area, but relatively to the general condition, there was a remarkable local excess in the Deccan and Western India and a moderate to considerable excess in North and North-Eastern India. According to reports received, there was excessive snow locally in the Kashmir and North Punjab Himalayas in March and April.

The rains set in earlier than usual in Bengal. They were considerably delayed on the west coast, and the rainfall of June was considerably below the normal in Western India. It was very scanty in July and August over the whole of the Deccan and Mysore. The rainfall of September was very light in Upper India and was very deficient in the Deccan, Mysore and the Carnatic. The retreating south-west monsoon rains also failed almost completely over the greater part of the Deccan, Carnatic and Mysore. This failure of the rains throughout the whole south-west monsoon gave rise to the great Madras famine of 1876-77.

1877.—There was heavy snowfall during the months of January, February, March and April in the Western Himalayas. It appears to have been very excessive only in the Garhwal and Kumaon Himalayas. Pressure was steadily in excess at this period in India. It was during the pre-monsoon period locally in defect in Bombay and the Deccan and was locally in excess in Northern India—more especially the Punjab, Rajputana and Central India. Temperature was very considerably below the normal in North-Western India from February to May, the deficiency being very large in April (when it averaged 6° in the Punjab). The monsoon rains were very late in the Peninsula, but were on the whole abundant, and brought the Madras famine of 1876-77 to a close. They were very deficient in the North-Western Provinces and considerably in defect in the Punjab, Rajputana, Berar and the Central Provinces.

There was, on the other hand, a large excess in Bengal and Burma.

1880.—The winter snowfall was in moderate defect in the Western Himalayas, and the cold-weather rainfall below the normal to a moderate extent in Northern India. Pressure was locally in excess in the Peninsula, the excess being most marked at the west coast stations from Bombay to Calicut. It was locally deficient in Northern India, the deficiency being most marked in the Punjab, where it averaged ·05 inch. These large local pressure variations were fairly persistent from March to May. Temperature was largely above the average from March to May. The excess was most pronounced in the Punjab during the whole period. It averaged 7½° in March, 6° in April and 4½° in May. The rains commenced on the 2nd of June in Bengal and on the 6th at Bombay, but both currents were at first feeble. Very heavy rain fell in the Punjab in July, and the weather was stormy with much snow in the hill districts. This was followed by a prolonged break in the rains, lasting throughout nearly the whole of August. The rains ceased in Upper India on the 24th September. The rainfall of the south-west monsoon period was largely in defect in the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, Rajputana and Central India and in moderate defect in the Central Provinces and Berar. It was in excess in North-Eastern India, Burma and Madras.

1885.—There was very heavy snow in the North-Western Himalayas in the months of January, February, April and May. The whole cold-weather season was, on the other hand, drier than usual in North-Eastern India.

Temperature was below the normal in Northern India in January, March, April and May, the deficiency reaching its maximum in May, when it ranged from 6° to 11° in the Punjab. The pre-monsoon variations of pressure were very similar to those of the present year. Pressure was locally in excess in North-Western and Central India, the excess being greatest on the North-West Frontier and was in defect in Assam, Burma and the Peninsula.

The rains were greatly delayed on the Bombay Coast and did not set in fully until the end of June They were very deficient in North-Western India in June, July and September and were generally excessive in August The rains were normal or in excess over the greater part of India, excepting the greater part of North-Western India, where, moreover, they commenced late and terminated early.

Probable character of distribution of rainfall in India in August and September 1899.

The preceding discussion has given the chief features of the meteorology of the past two months. It has shown that, notwithstanding the favourable conditions existing in May and the beginning of June for fairly well distributed and abundant rain, the greater part of the period from the 24th June to the present time has been characterized by a severe and prolonged break in the rains and drought over the whole area chiefly dependent upon the Bombay current for rainfall, viz., the whole of the country to the south and west of a line running through Lahore, Jeypore, Raipur and Gopalpur. The Gangetic Plain and Bengal during the greater portion of the period have, on the other hand, been deluged with rain.

The monsoon current has now withdrawn from the whole of the north-east of the Arabian Sea where dry north-westerly winds now prevail The unfavourable conditions have during the past few days also extended to the Bay current which has fallen off very greatly in strength, and dry rainless weather now prevails over nearly the whole of Northern India, with the exception of parts of Bengal and Assam where the weather is showery.

The present position can only be terminated by a fresh advance of monsoon winds—more especially in the Arabian Sea In the Bay of Bengal this advance will probably take the form of increasing winds in the north of the Bay and the initiation of a cyclonic storm in the north of the Bay or South Bengal. In the Arabian Sea the advance will, as in the case of the first advance of the monsoon in June, commence in the south or south-east and progress rapidly northwards along the West or Bombay Coast.

The conditions which produce these advances depend almost entirely upon the strength of the south-east trades and also upon the general and relative pressure distribution in the whole area receiving rain from the south west monsoon which includes not only India, but the Malayan Peninsula (with Burma and Siam) and East Africa and Abyssinia The information for Burma shows that it has barely received its normal rainfall, and hence there has been no abnormal determination of the Bay current eastwards. On the other hand the data received from the south-east trades region and from ships entering Bombay show that the south-east trades are unusually strong, and suggest that their continuation, the south-west monsoon winds in the Arabian Sea, is being deflected more largely than usual to Africa. No direct information has come to hand on this point, but it is the only explanation which is in accordance with the weak winds off the Konkan Coast and with the invasion of the north-east of the Arabian Sea by dry north-west winds from the adjacent land areas of Baluchistan, Persia and perhaps East Arabia.

As the causes of the present drought are not known, it is not possible to give a forecast similar to that issued during the past three or four years in August.

The most important questions at the present time are—whether an advance of monsoon winds will again occur in the Indian seas; and whether it will occur within the next ten or fifteen days.

As already pointed out, the conditions of India are of little importance for the determination of these questions. They are, however, very unpromising. Temperature has been for the past month excessive over the whole of Upper and Central India and the Peninsula and is now from 5° to 10° above the normal over Rajputana, the greater part of the Punjab, Berar and Central India. With these high temperatures is associated abnormally high pressure contrary to the usual relation that high temperature accompanies a low barometer. The barometric excess is very marked in the area of greatest relative deficiency of rain, i.e., in Gujarat, Kathiawar and West Rajputana, and is a very unfavourable feature for rain in North Bombay, even if a fresh advance of the monsoon should occur. If the drought in Western India be due to the causes assigned, it is almost certain that the heavy rainfall in East Africa will be followed by a rapid increase of pressure and by the partial withdrawal of the monsoon currents from that area and their re-determination towards India, and this should occur during the present month of August.

It is, however, impossible from purely theoretical considerations to determine whether it will occur before the end of the second week of the month or not.

An examination of all the rainfall records for Bombay is in accordance with this inference. It shows that there have been since 1823 seven years in which the rainfall of July was very scanty and greatly below the normal. In these years the rainfall in August was moderate to excessive in amount—for example, the rainfall in July 1835 was only 4·27 inches, but this was followed by an excessive downpour in August of 35·76 inches. An examination of the records of the two or three stations (including Bangalore, Madras and Calcutta) for which there are long records of rain confirms the inference that scanty rain in July is usually followed by moderate to heavy rain in August. The probabilities are at least 3 to 1. As there is no satisfactory and trustworthy record of the meteorological conditions in India before the year 1876 or 1877, it is not possible to make any reliable comparison with years before that date of the conditions giving rise to abnormal distribution of rainfall before 1876.

The only years since the establishment of the India Meteorological Department at all comparable with the present are 1876 and 1877. The conditions in the first five months of 1876 were similar to those of the present year, viz., the deficient winter snowfall and rain except locally in Kashmir, the unusual heat and dryness in the hot weather and the abnormal prevalence of north-westerly winds in the north of the Arabian Sea and North-Western India. The available details of the Nile floods show that the flood of that year was higher than usual, pointing to heavier rain in Abyssinia and the greater determination of the monsoon to that area than usual. The deficiency of rain was, however, much less marked in July 1876 than in July of the present year and extended over a smaller area.

The drought in that year was, however, intensified in September, so that the retreating south-west monsoon rains failed almost entirely in the Peninsula. It was this combination of deficient rain in July, August and September in the Deccan, Mysore and Carnatic, with very scanty rain in October and November, that gave rise to the severe Madras famine of 1876-77. The pressure conditions in 1876 differed very considerably from those of the present year, so far as can be judged from the data available, so that the parallel between the years, is not strongly marked.

The conditions antecedent to the monsoon in the year 1877 were different from those of the present year. The delay in the establishment of the Bombay monsoon and its weakness in the earlier stages were undoubtedly a direct result of excessive, untimely and prolonged snow in the Western Himalayas. There was heavy rain in the west coast districts in June and July, but the rainfall was very scanty over the whole of the interior of North-Western and Central India and the Deccan until the fourth week of August when heavy and general rain fell—more especially in the Deccan and finally closed the Madras drought and famine. The pressure conditions over India in July 1877 bear a striking resemblance to those of July of the present year. Hence the resemblance between the two, though far from perfect, is in favour of the early termination of the present drought.

Hence in the absence of knowledge of the causes of the present drought, it can only be inferred that there is a moderate to strong probability (chances about 4 or 5 to 1) that it will terminate during the present month. There are no indications of its immediate termination, and hence it will probably not end for another week at least.

On the other hand, there is a slight possibility that the resemblance to the year 1876 may be stronger than is shown by the actual data, and hence that there may be a failure of the rains over the greater part of the area dominated by the Bombay current, and hence affecting even a larger area than the Madras drought of 1876-77.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, July 29th, 1899.

The more favourable pressure conditions introduced at the close of the previous week—by the transfer of the area of largest excess of pressure from the west to the east of the Peninsula—did not last long. The barometer fell briskly in Bengal on Monday, and this was followed by another fall on Tuesday, which reduced the pressure anomaly to only slight excess in South-West Bengal, while pressure was in considerable excess in the west,—over Bombay, Berar and the western districts of the Central Provinces. In Northern India on Tuesday pressure varied from slightly in excess of the normal to slightly in defect. On Wednesday a rapid rise of pressure took place in the North-West Punjab, which had the effect of reducing the steepness of the baric gradients over North-Western India, and thus weakening the strong winds blowing on the Sind Coast. A depression had, the same day, appeared in Bihar, but on Thursday pressure rose briskly to rapidly over the whole of Northern India (with the exception of the extreme north-west of the Punjab), and the depression had almost disappeared. The large increase of pressure over Northern India rendered conditions unfavourable for rain over nearly the whole country, for pressure in Northern India was nearly everywhere in considerable excess, and both branches of the monsoon current had, simultaneously with these changes, fallen off in strength. Only light to moderate rain fell in Burma and only showers in parts of the Central Provinces. The chief features of this abnormal distribution of pressure were emphasized by another rise of pressure in Northern India on Friday, and were practically unaltered by the pressure changes on Saturday.

The week thus closed with very abnormal pressure conditions and a large decrease in the strength and rain giving capacity of both branches of the monsoon current.

Accompanying this lightness of the rainfall were abnormally high temperatures throughout the week over the whole of the Peninsula and in Gujarat and Rajputana. The excess in the Peninsula was most strongly marked on the Madras Coast and in the Madras Deccan.

Moderately heavy rain was received in Burma and in North-Eastern India at the commencement of the week, but rainfall decreased in amount as the week advanced. Showers were received in the Upper India hill districts, the Punjab, Central Provinces, Central India and parts of Madras during the week. The rainfall in the west coast districts has been very light.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, July 23rd.—The pressure changes were small, and the chief features of the distribution of pressure remained unaltered. Pressure continued in considerable excess in the east of the Peninsula, in Orissa and South-West Bengal. Temperature was below the normal in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the eastern states of Central India; and in excess in the Peninsula and over nearly the whole of North-Western India. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Bengal and light to moderate rain in Burma and the North-Western Provinces.

Monday, July 24th.—Pressure had fallen briskly in Bengal and slightly in Burma and the North-Western Provinces. It had risen slightly in the Punjab. Temperature was in defect in the North-Western Provinces, the eastern states of Central India and Upper Burma, and in excess in the Peninsula and the western desert. Rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the eastern states of Central India and the Upper India hill districts. Showers had been received in the Central Provinces and the Punjab.

Tuesday, July 25th.—The barometer had fallen slightly in North-Eastern India and the Upper India submontane districts, and was steady or had risen by small amounts elsewhere. Mean temperatures were in very large defect in Central Burma, and in excess in the Peninsula and the greater part of North-Western India. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal and the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces; and showers in the Punjab, the Central Provinces and on the west coast.

Wednesday, July 26th.—Pressure had risen in Northern India; except in Bihar, where it had fallen slightly to briskly and a shallow depression had formed. The barometer was steady or had fallen in the Peninsula. Temperatures were in excess in Rajputana and the Peninsula; and in defect in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the greater part of the Punjab. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, and moderate to heavy rain in North-Eastern India.

Thursday, July 27th.—Large and important changes in pressure had taken place. The barometer had risen over the whole of the Indian region, except in the extreme north-west of the Punjab, where it had fallen slightly. The rise had been brisk to rapid everywhere, except in the south of the Peninsula, where it had been slight. Temperatures were in excess in all provinces except Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma and North-Eastern India, and showers in the Punjab and on the west coast.

Friday, July 28th.—The barometer was steady in Burma and in the extreme south of the Peninsula, and was steady or had fallen slightly in the Punjab. It had risen briskly in a tract of country extending in a north-easterly direction from Bombay to the North-Western Provinces and slightly elsewhere. Temperature was in defect in Assam, Bengal and Bihar, and in excess in most of the remaining provinces. Rain had continued in Burma and North-Eastern India, but had decreased in amount

Saturday, July 29th.—Pressure was steady in Bombay, Rajputana, Central India and the adjacent districts of the Central Provinces; and had fallen, generally by small amounts, elsewhere. Temperature was in defect in Assam and Bihar, and normal or in excess in all other provinces Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma (except in the central districts), and light rain in Bengal. Showers had been received in the Central Provinces and Madras.

Temperature.—Temperature has been in defect in North-Eastern India and in excess in the Peninsula throughout the week. The excess in the Peninsula was largest on the Madras Coast and in the Madras Deccan, where mean temperatures from 8° to 10° above the normal were registered. Temperature has also been unusually high in Rajputana and Gujarat. It has varied in the Punjab with the rainfall from +3·1° and +3·9° on the 23rd and 29th to —3·7° on the 27th.

The mean temperature of the week has been normal in Burma, Chota Nagpur, the Punjab and Sind; in defect in Assam, Bengal, Bihar and the North-Western Provinces; and in excess in Orissa, Rajputana, Gujarat, Central India, the Central Provinces and the whole of the Peninsula. The largest variations from the normal were: Rajputana +4·7°, Madras Coast +4·6°, Madras Deccan +4·6°, Mysore +3·8°, Berar +3·6° and Bihar —3·4°.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

The days on which the mean temperature for the whole of India was normal were the 25th, 26th and 27th. On all the other days of the week it was in slight to moderate excess, the excess being largest on Saturday, the 29th, when it amounted to 2.4°. For the whole week the variation from the normal was +1.3°.

Rain.—No rain whatever has fallen during the week under review in Sind, Baluchistan, West Rajputana and the Jaipur division of the east coast, while an average of less than 0.10 has been received in the Nizam's dominions, Kathiawar, the east of Rajputana and the west of Central India. The rainfall of the week has again been confined chiefly to Burma and North-Eastern India, but showers have been received in the Punjab, the Central Provinces and the Peninsula. The most important feature in the rainfall conditions has been the diminution in the strength of both branches of the monsoon current, accompanying a large increase of pressure in Northern India. Rain began to decrease in Burma and North-Eastern India towards the end of the week, and on Saturday only light showers were reported from Bengal.

Amounts in excess of the normal have been received during the week in most divisions of Burma and Bengal and also in Oudh and the eastern and eastern submontane divisions of the North-Western Provinces. Rainfall has been below the normal in all the remaining divisions of the North-Western Provinces, in the divisions of Tenasserim and Lower Burma in Burma and of Orissa and Chota Nagpur in Bengal. It has been in defect in all divisions of the Punjab, Central Provinces, Central India, Rajputana and North Bombay, and over the whole of the Peninsula. The shortness of the rainfall has been very marked over Western India; thus Malabar received an average of 0.55 inch instead of the normal 5.92 inches, Coorg 0.46 inch instead of 9.59 inches, the Konkan 0.66 inch instead of 7.43 inches, Gujarat 0.15 inch instead of 3.89 inches and Kathiawar 0.02 inch instead of 1.90 inches. On the other hand, the week's rainfall in Arakan, East Bengal, the Surma division of Assam, the Bengal Hills and the eastern divisions of the North-Western Provinces was twice to three times the normal amount.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period June 4th to July 29th was in slight defect in the division of Upper Burma, but was normal or in excess in the remaining divisions of Burma and in all the divisions of Bengal and the North-Western Provinces. It was normal or in excess also in the south-east, central, hills and north divisions of the Punjab and in Central India and East Rajputana, but it was in defect in all other parts of the country. The deficiency was largest in Sind, Baluchistan, West Rajputana, Kathiawar and the central division of Madras.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Burma	Sandoway	22·94 inches.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 29th July.—The rainfall was moderate in the northern parts of the Circars, in South Arcot, in parts of the Central districts, and in the western taluks of Bellary; elsewhere some scattered showers fell, but they were generally very light. The July rainfall is much below the average throughout the Presidency, except in the extreme south. The deficiency of the last two months is unprecedented for thirty years over the Deccan, the Circars, south of Godavari, Nellore, and North Arcot. Since the close of the week some good rain has fallen in the southern half of the Presidency, but everywhere more rain is urgently required The water-supply under large rivers is fair, but the Cauvery is very low; elsewhere supplies are indifferent. Sowings are at a standstill over a wide area. Crops under irrigation are generally fair, but unirrigated crops are withering or suffering almost throughout, though they have been benefited in parts by the recent showers. Pasture is scanty or non-existent in many places, but fodder is generally sufficient, though growing scarce in parts of the Deccan. The condition of cattle is generally fair. The rise of prices has continued generally and staple grains are now above warning rates in Bellary, Anantapur, Cuddapah, North Arcot, and South Arcot. The general prospect is somewhat relieved in the Central and Carnatic districts by the recent rainfall, but is gloomy as to the Deccan.

Bombay.—For week ending 2nd August.—Light rain fell in all districts of the Presidency Proper during the week, but everywhere was insufficient, except in the Mundergi Peta of Dharwar, where 3 inches fell. More rain is urgently wanted everywhere. Agricultural operations have been stopped, except in Sind, where inundation is so far most promising. The standing crops are withering throughout the Presidency Proper, except in some hilly tracts of the Deccan. Fodder is scarce in Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Broach, Khandesh, Nasik, the desert and hills in Sind, and in Baroda territory. Water is deficient in one taluka of Bijapur. The condition of agricultural stock is generally fair. Prices have fallen in Dharwar and risen elsewhere.

Bengal.—For week ending 31st July.—The rainfall during the week was general and in parts of Bengal Proper and Behar excessive. In Orissa more rain is still required. The excessive rain has continued to cause considerable damage to the autumn crops in the Patna and Bhagalpur divisions, and the early rice and jute in some parts of the Presidency and Burdwan divisions have suffered. Prospects are good in the Dacca and Chittagong divisions and fair in the Rajshahi division. Fodder is everywhere sufficient. Prices of common rice are reported to have risen in a few districts.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 2nd August.—Rain has been general during the week, but comparatively moderate in all but the eastern, some of the central and eastern submontane districts, where the falls were heavy. The break which has now set in has proved beneficial and sowings for the autumn crops are being pushed on. Weeding and transplantation of rice are in progress. Damage has been caused to standing crops in places by excessive rain. Markets are well stocked and fodder is sufficient. Prices show a rising tendency in several districts, but are otherwise fairly stationary.

Punjab.—For week ending 2nd August.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Mooltan, Peshawar, and Dera Ismail Khan. Sowings of autumn crops are still going on. Riverain lands have been irrigated to a certain extent by slight floods in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally reported good; they are average in Jullundur, Sialkot, and in parts of Peshawar. More rain is urgently wanted to improve their condition in most districts. Wells are generally hard at work. Locusts appeared in parts of Dera Ismail Khan and are being destroyed. Cattle are generally in good condition; in Dera Ismail Khan their condition is poor, and deaths of sheep and goats have also occurred from starvation. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Hissar, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan. Prices—generally of wheat—are rising in Hissar, Delhi, Umballa, Amritsar, Sialkot, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan; falling in Peshawar; and are unchanged elsewhere. Prices are tending to rise on account of insufficient rainfall in most districts. Wheat is selling from 16 to 21½, barley 28 to 31, gram 18 to 22½, maize 26 to 29, great millet 18, bulrush-millet 15 to 24, and rice 13 to 14 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 1st August.—The rainfall of the week has been generally very deficient. Sambalpur and Bilaspur have each received 4 inches and Raipur 2, and in Seoni, Jubbulpore and Bhandara a little over an inch has fallen; but elsewhere the rainfall has been insignificant or nil. In Saugor the break has been actually beneficial and both there and in the rest of the Jubbulpore division immediate prospects are good. In the Nerbudda Valley, Nimar, and the plateau districts, though no noteworthy damage has as yet been caused, rain is urgently needed and the same is the case in Nagpur. In Wardha the condition of the crops is bad, but would be largely relieved by rain. The situation is most grave in Chanda, where the damage reported is about six annas in the rupee; in Bhandara the loss already caused is less and in Balaghat not much loss has as yet occurred, but in all these districts transplanting of rice is at a complete standstill and nothing but heavy rain within a week will relieve the situation. In Raipur and Bilaspur things are more hopeful; rain has fallen in all tahsils of Raipur since the close of the week and the crisis is postponed for the moment. If the rain in Bilaspur has been general prospects will be materially improved, but unless the biasi (thinning operations) can be carried out very soon the crop must be a poor one. Scarcity of fodder is serious in the Southern districts, and in Wardha the cattle are in great straits. Prices are rising; the rise being largest in the rice districts, and in Narsinghpur, Seoni and Nimar. The cheapest prices are—wheat 19, gram 28, rice 17, and juar 23 seers per rupee. The dearest prices are—wheat 11, gram 15, rice 10, and juar 16½ seers per rupee. The highest price of rice in a rice growing district is 11 seers in Chanda.

Burma.—For week ending 29th July.—In Lower Burma ploughing is nearly completed in Henzada, Myaungmya, Toungoo, and Tavoy and sowing and transplanting continue. Rain is wanted in parts of Prome. In Upper Burma reaping of early wet weather paddy continues in Mandalay, Kyaukse and the Southern Shan States. Ploughing for and sowing and transplanting of wet weather paddy continue in most districts. Reaping of early sesamum has commenced in Meiktila and Yamethin. Ploughing has commenced in the Taungtha township of Myingyan. Operations are retarded in Myingyan for want of rain. Timely rain has fallen in Sagaing and Yamethin, where the crops are now good; and in Meiktila and the Budalin sub-division of the Lower Chindwin, where the standing crops are now fair. More rain is still wanted in Minbu, the Kama township of Thayetmyo, in parts of the Yeu sub-division, and the Sheimaya township of Shwebo. Early sesamum is withering in the Pauk sub-division of Pakôkku and the standing crops are still suffering in Myingyan, except in the Natogyi township. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon, Pegu, Tharrawaddy, Thongwa, Henzada, Myaungmya, Pakôkku and the Southern Shan States; and has fallen in Thayetmyo and Myitkyina.

Assam.—For week ending 1st August.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for and transplanting of late and reaping of early rice are in progress. Plucking and manufacture of tea continue. Prospects are generally good. Planting of sugarcane still continues in Lakhimpur. Cutting of jute has commenced in Sylhet and condition is good. Fodder is scarce in Cachar, Nowgong, and in parts of Sylhet and Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Gauhati, and Dhubri 16; Sylhet 24½; Tezpur, Nowgong, and Dibrugarh 13; and Sibsagar 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 1st August.—MYSORE: Slight rain fell in parts during the week. The standing crops are withering for want of rain. Prices have risen slightly in Bangalore, Mysore, Hassan, Kadur, Chitaldroog and Shimoga.

COORG: Rainfall—54 cents. No rain has fallen for nearly three weeks. The ragi (Eleusine coracana) crop is withering; rice transplanting is seriously impeded; and nurseries are reported to be failing. Prices of food-grain are rising. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 2nd August.—BERAR Average rainfall during the week—27 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. The cotton and jowar plants are withering throughout the Province for want rain; and in parts of the Akola district they have dried up. Sowings are retarded owing to the break in the rains. Scarcity of fodder and water prevails. The price of jowar is steadily rising.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—4 cents. Agricultural prospects are causing much anxiety. The autumn and rice crops are withering. Sowing operations are at a standstill. Pasture is getting scarce. The water-supply is decreasing. Prices of grain are rising. Prices—wheat 9½, coarse rice 9½, and jowari 19½ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 2nd August.—Rainfall general and sufficient in Gwalior, Bhopal, and Bundelkhand; insufficient in Baghelkhand, Bhopawar, and parts of Malwa. The standing crops are withering in the Malwa and Bhopawar Agencies. Agricultural stock is indifferent in Malwa; fair in Bhopawar; and good elsewhere. Pasturage is good in all Agencies, except in Malwa and Bhopawar. Prices are above normal in Malwa and Bhopawar; below normal in Bundelkhand; and normal elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 2nd August.—Rainfall—Jhallawar 1·26; few cents in Kerowli and Dholepore, but no rain elsewhere. Agricultural operations are proceeding satisfactorily in parts. The crops are drying and withering for want of rain in Kherwara, Ajmere, Merwara, Jeypore, and Bikanir. There is no change in the condition of cattle and in the fodder-supply. Prices are rising in nine States and are steady elsewhere. 194 persons emigrated from the Merwara district during the week. The total emigration to date numbers—4,893. The numbers employed on relief works were—Marwar 369 and Merwara 8,545. On ordinary works in Merwara—71. On gratuitous relief—270. Prices—Ajmere 16⅝, Beawar 17½, and Marwar 13 seers per rupee.

Kashmir.—For week ending 1st August.—The weather is fine. Prospects of the crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 2nd August.—No rain during the week. Prices are stationary. Prices—wheat 17 to 22 and maize 23 to 30 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Sowings of the autumn crops are in progress. Fodder is sufficient. Damage to crops by worms is reported from some parts of the Sambha tahsil of the Jammu Province.

Nepal.—For week ending 29th July.—Rainfall 1·48 inches. The weather is seasonable. Crops are in promising condition. Rice 8½ seers per rupee.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III, & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names, habitat or source, history, properties and uses (both chemical and industrial), trade statistics, markets etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross-references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo pages, Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages, Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G, Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which consists of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI), but a tenth volume has been issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index is practically a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, is a work of reference, which, it is hoped, will prove of considerable value.

Index to Do do. 8vo. R2 (4s.)

NOTE.—By January next 100 sets only of the Dictionary would be available for sale.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements:

The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same Institution. Migration will not be permitted except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State.*

(iii) The allowance of £100 will not be paid to any Selected Candidate until he has been certified by the Civil Service Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India; and every Certificated Candidate must, before receiving his allowance, give a written undertaking to refund the amount in the event of his failing to proceed to India.

(iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force, they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. A. Constable & Co., 2, Whitehall Gardens, S.W., or from Mr. E. A. Arnold, 37, Bedford Street, Covent Garden. Price 2s. 6d.

The Commissioners have been requested by the Secretary of State for India to draw the attention of Selected Candidates to the prefatory note attached to this manual, as it is considered important that it should be clearly understood that this compilation is not to be regarded in any other light than that of a collection, made for facility of reference, of certain information and rules, that it is by no means exhaustive, and that it is liable to such modifications as may from time to time be sanctioned by competent authority.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

CLERKSHIPS (CLASS I) IN THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE; AND EASTERN CADETSHIPS.

SYLLABUS showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper.

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria:

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats.

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Cowley, Bunyan, Dryden, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Macaulay (Essays and Biographies).

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination, which will, however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English Language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax, and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated.

1. (1900)	A.D. 1360 to A.D. 1600 [Chaucer to Spenser.]
2. (1901)	A.D. 1600 to A.D. 1700 [Shakespeare to Dryden.]
3. (1902)	A.D. 1700 to A.D. 1800 [Pope to Cowper.]
4. (1903)	A.D. 1800 to A.D. 1832 [Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott.]

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners.* The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1700; all the works of Swift within the period 1700 to 1800; all the works of Scott and Wordsworth, and all the works of Macaulay within the period 1800 to 1832.

nouveau de choléra, depuis sept jours, de fièvre jaune depuis neuf jours ou de peste depuis douze jours.

" Est considéré comme infecté le navire qui présente à bord un ou plusieurs cas, confirmés ou suspects, d'une maladie pestilentielle ou qui en a présenté pour le choléra depuis moins de sept jours, pour la fièvre jaune depuis moins de neuf jours et pour la peste depuis moins de douze jours.

" ART. 57. Le navire indemne est soumis au régime suivant :

" 1° Visite médicale des passagers et de l'équipage ;

" 2° Désinfection du linge sale, des effets à usage, des objets de literie ainsi que de tous autres objets ou bagages que l'autorité sanitaire du port considère comme contaminés.

" Si le navire a quitté la circonscription contaminée depuis plus de cinq jours en cas de choléra, depuis plus de sept jours en cas de fièvre jaune et de dix jours en cas de peste, les mesures ci-dessus sont immédiatement prises et le navire est admis à la libre pratique.

" Si le navire a quitté depuis moins de cinq jours une circonscription contaminée de choléra, il est délivré à chaque passager un passeport sanitaire indiquant la date du jour ou le navire a quitté le port contaminé, le nom du passager et celui de la commune dans laquelle il déclare se rendre. L'autorité sanitaire donne en même temps avis du départ du passager au maire de cette commune, et appelle son attention sur la nécessité de surveiller ledit passager, au point de vue sanitaire, jusqu'à l'expiration de cinq jours à dater du départ du navire. (Surveillance sanitaire.)

" L'équipage est soumis à la même surveillance sanitaire.

" Si la circonscription quittée par le navire depuis moins de sept jours était contaminée de fièvre jaune ou depuis moins de dix jours était contaminée de peste, les mêmes précautions sont prises, sauf les modifications suivantes :

" 1° Le délai de surveillance est porté à sept jours en cas de fièvre jaune ou à dix jours en cas de peste ;

" 2° Le déchargement des marchandises n'est commencé qu'après le débarquement de tous les passagers ;

" 3° L'autorité sanitaire peut ordonner la désinfection de tout ou partie du navire ; mais cette désinfection n'est faite qu'après le débarquement des passagers.

" Dans tous les cas, l'eau potable du bord est renouvelée et les eaux de cale sont évacuées après désinfection.

" ART. 59. Le navire infecté est soumis au régime suivant :

" 1° Les malades sont immédiatement débarqués et isolés jusqu'à leur guérison.

" 2° Les autres personnes sont ensuite débarquées aussi rapidement que possible et soumises à une observation dont la durée varie selon l'état sanitaire du navire et selon la date du dernier cas. La durée de cette observation ne pourra dépasser cinq jours pour le choléra, sept jours pour la fièvre jaune et dix jours pour la peste après le débarquement ou après le dernier cas survenu parmi les personnes débarquées ; celles-ci sont divisées par groupes aussi peu nombreux que possible, de façon que si des accidents se montraient dans un groupe, la durée de l'isolement ne fût pas augmenté pour tous les passagers.
